The Nation's Real Wealth.
Wisdom of the Purdah.
Says Mr. Kellogg.
Earth's Last Two Men.

—BY ARTHUR BRISBANE—

Copyright, 1927.

ONE single American city, New York, in its public schools yesterday received 1,100,000 children. The real wealth of the United States, its hope and future, are stored away in those eleven hundred thousand young minds and in the millions of others in many thousands of blessed public schools all over this country.

Wealth is not in mines, factories, crops, buildings or stocks, but in thought, free and untrammeled. From that all other wealth springs.

MR. RODMAN WANAMAKER sends to this column a book about India with this inscription: "Dear Brisbane, page 50 is your motto. Tell everybody." On page 50 an old lady, impressing on the beautiful young Natara the wisdom of the purdah, in which the rajahs keep their women, says:

"Wisdom is made up of ten parts, nine of which are silence, and the tenth is brevity. Words, like the tusks of an elephant, once out, cannot be put into the mouth again."

ELIZABETH COOPER wrote the book, and that advice of the old lady is recommended to advertisement writers, reporters and editorial writers especially.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE says Abraham Lincoln's object "was not merely to instruct men how to raise more corn, feed more hogs, get more money to buy more land and so on in a circle. His main object must have been to raise better corn."

This is one of President Coolidge's best short speeches. He has known and applied since birth those ten points of the wisdom of the purdah.

SECRETARY KELLOGG needs no outsiders to tell him what to do, and says there is no misunderstanding between this country and Panama about the Canal Zone. In any case he sees no reason for an appeal to the League of Nations. Mr. Kellogg adds, to the satisfaction of his fellow citizens who are really Americans, that the League has no jurisdiction over our Canal Zone and won't ever have any.

YOU see how easily this country would slip first into misunderstanding and then into war had it stupidly joined that League. America built the canal, paid for it, and allows foreign ships to use it on the same terms as American ships, which is foolish, as Americans should have a preference in their own canal. Fortunately Secretary Kellogg and President Coolidge are Americans, without any lion or unicorn in their mental coat of arms.

FRANK A. WALSH, of Milwaukee, commander of the G. A. R., says that time-old organization will continue its annual gatherings as long as two G. A. R. members are left alive, which is the right spirit.

It is hard to realize that some day, on this earth, which must die when our sun dies, there will be only two human beings left alive, all the others having died by slow exhaustion, of sunshine and heat.

Scientists say we have at least one hundred million centuries left, for the sun's heat will last that long. But the earth must die in time.

HOW wise will those last two men be? What wonders will our half savage race, now only 17,000 years from the stone age, accomplish in one hundred million centuries?

And how interesting to reflect that we may come back and live through them all.

ILL, WOMAN VICTIM OF MINE WAR BLAST

By ALBERT GOUGH,
Staff Correspondent.

ARNOLD, Pa., Sept. 13.—A mother under the doctor's care for more than a month was blown from her bed; her husband and three children were made homeless, and another family of 11, including nine children, had a narrow escape from death early this morning when two homes about a block apart were bombed at Arnold. A disgruntled mining company employe is being sought by local authorities as the perpetrator of the outrage.

Joseph Withers, 30; his invalid wife, Mrs. Helen Withers, 29, and their three small children: David, 5; Ellen, 3, and Joseph 9, were asleep on the second floor of their home at 2917 Kenneth avenue, Arnold, when the explosion occurred about 2 o'clock this morning. A charge of dynamite was set off in the basement at the rear of the residence and the interior of the house was wrecked.

Terror reigned in the little household, the children crawling from their wrecked beds and running panic stricken to their parents' room. The mother was shocked into unconsciousness. Withers carried her outside, followed by the frightened children. Neighbors aided them to safety and cared for them the rest of the night.

The sound of the first blast hardly had died down before the second explosion occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chiano, 1925 Kenneth avenue. The house is a two-story frame and the charge of dynamite, as at the Withers' home, was placed in the basement at the rear. The explosion tore out a section of the foundation and damaged the kitchen. Chiano, his wife and nine

U. S. Fliers In Peril of Typhoon

TOKIO, Sept. 13.—The airdrome at Omura was isolated today by a typhoon which swept across the adjacent country, according to word received here. Railway, telegraph and telephone communication was completely disrupted by the storm.

The pride of Detroit, the American round-the-world plane, now at the Omura Flying Field, will not be able to resume its flight here until tomorrow, it is thought.

WRECKS OF 2 OTHERS SIGHTED

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—(AP.)—Waterlogged airplane wreckage reported found at three widely separated points at sea today provided clues regarding 10 brave adventurers who vanished into Atlantic skies in their great gamble against the deep.

The wild North Atlantic began yesterday to yield its secrets concerning the lost monoplane Old Glory, and possibly the last expedition of Nungesser and Coli, the monoplane St. Raphael, which carried Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, and the monoplane Sir John Carling.

Wreckage of the Old Glory was reported found by the steamship Kyle, a rudder and part of the wing of an unidentified plane were found on the beach at Newquay, Cornwall, England, and a French fishing schooner reported having sighted airplane wreckage three weeks ago 300 miles east of Halifax, N. S. No trace of the fliers was reported.

Drink, and Girls Shun You, Says College Dean

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 13.—(AP.)—Students entering the University of Wisconsin next week will receive a guide book to follow if they want to stay on the straight and narrow.

The pamphlet, compiled by Scott H. Goodnight, dean of men, lists many temptations to avoid.

From Dr. Goodnight the freshman learns definitions of various things frowned upon by the faculty:

Loafing—very pernicious habit.

Smoking—treacherous and insidious.

Profanity—useless, insane. Stamps the user as of low and vulgar mind.

Gambling—fascinating vice. Consumes time, money and morals.

Drinking—most vicious. Unfortunately popular.

And if the freshman will stick to the booklet he'll have more reward than just a clear conscience, Dr. Goodnight assures. That's because the university woman refuses to associate with men who have been drinking, he points out.

Granted Divorce

MRS. HELEN GRASSELLI

Mrs. Helen Long Grasselli, was granted a divorce from Edward Grasselli, scion of the wealthy Grasselli family of chemical manufacturers, in Cleveland court on grounds of gross neglect of duty. A money and property settlement that the court indicated approximated $100,000 was made.

AXELTON MINE CHILDREN STILL ON STRIKE

Despite the urgings of state police and school officials, children of Forward township are continuing their sympathy strike against the presence of sons and daughters of non-union miners in the classrooms at Axelton. Only 63 out of an enrollment of 203 pupils attended classes yesterday afternoon. A similar situation was reported today.

A squad of state troopers was on hand this morning and a detail of coal and iron police escorted children from the non-union homes to the schoolhouse, but all of the union sympathizers walked out as soon as they arrived. No demonstrations, such as were held yesterday, took place this morning, the troopers forbidding the strikers to parade.

The parents are largely responsible for the strike, authorities declare. Several demonstrations have been staged at Axelton and pavements and sides of the school building have

CANCELLED CHECKS SCANNED

Cancelled checks and records of County Public Works Department "private payrolls" may be a factor today in determining the strength of evidence which prompted County Controller C. C. McGovern to institute a public audit of the county's expenditures. The checks and other evidence are due to be turned over to the Controller today by James Routley, assistant chief clerk to the County Commissioners, who, McGovern says, was responsible for the "private payroll' disbursements.

There was more than $1,500,000 involved in these "private payrolls" during 1926 and 1927, McGovern contends. The entire amount is purported to have been distributed among employes of the county road maintenance division, the employment roster of which shows that in many instances entire payrolls were signed by one man. Should McGovern endeavor to get the testimony of every man who appears on the payrolls the task would be enormous, it was pointed out.

Representative Joseph C. Marcus, representing State Senator Edward E. Pfachner, for whom the county constructed two curbs in his private driveway, got into a word battle with the controller at audit proceedings yesterday when he persisted in advising his client how to answer McGovern's questions. Although many witnesses testified in the Pfachner case, the only real point of interest developed was that Pfachner made arrangements with Superintendent John A. Fugassi of the county road division to do the work without thought or question of its legality.

Assistant County Solicitor William Jacobs, representing the commissioners, took the cue from Marcus with succeeding witnesses and hampered McGovern in his quiz.

Bridge Fans Will Play--Even on Air Trip

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 13.—(AP)—William C. Wakefield, president of the Detroit and Northern Airline, and his guests aboard the trail-blazing Ford tri-motored plane flying from Detroit to Jacksonville, Fla., whiled away the time yesterday by playing bridge. Only an occasional jolt from a cross current of air interrupted play as the plane sped across country at 97 miles an hour.

The giant plane landed here yesterday, two hours ahead of its schedule, and the party remained in Nashville over night.

CHILDREN STILL ON STRIKE

been marked, "Don't be a scab!"

Miss Joan L. Hoge, principal at Axelton, and John S. Cowan, supervising principal of Forward township, together with three state troopers, herded the little group of pupils attending classes through a crowd of several hundred excited parents in front of the school yesterday morning. A number of the children were taken to school in the patrol wagon of coal and iron police.

Throughout the day troopers patrolled the roads across the river from Monongahela City, reports having been received that striking children were stoning automobiles in the vicinity of the mining settlement. No arrests were made, as the youngsters hiding along the hillsides overlooking the road were able to see the troopers approaching. As the nonunion children walked along the road after classes had been dismissed, strikers "booed" at them and shouted "scab" until dispersed by state police.

At Sunnyside the situation was quiet. All but five pupils returned to their classes, but it is believed the strike will break out again. It is said to be the intention of parents to send their children to school a day or two at a time and then keep them out for a few days, so as to be within the law. According to the state school code, if a child is absent three consecutive days, a summons may be served on the parents and the penalty is a fine ranging from $2.50 to $5 for first offenses and more for repeated offenses. The parents say they will keep within the law, but they will not permit their children to be with the nonunion children any more than is necessary. They claim disease among the nonunion families is the reason for their stand.

Bolt With Rain Hits House

Lightning, during the storm early this morning, struck the home of S. Leonard Keller, at 3053 Zephyr avenue, and ripped plaster from a third-floor ceiling.

It struck while the Kellers were on the first floor. Rushing into the street Mr. Keller say a shower of roofing material and splintered woodwork fall about the house. Fearing fire he turned in an alarm. Firemen estimated damage at several hundred dollars.

Stunt Flying Over Capital Suburb To Be Probed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(AP.)—Stunt flying over their community has made the citizens of Takoma Park, Md., a suburb of the national capital, nervous. Army and Navy aviators frequently stage their aerial acrobatics over this town to amuse the wounded war veterans at Walter Reed Hospital, but at a Citizens' Association meeting the practice was condemned as a menace to the lives of the residents and is to be investigated by the town's public safety authorities. It was charged that in their loops, barrel rolls and tail spins the aviators swoop down upon the town, barely clearing the tree tops.

FINAL CLASH REACHED IN COAL STRIKE SUIT

Final detailed arguments in summation of the far-reaching injunction proceedings brought by the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation against the United Mine Workers of America, to prevent interference with mining operations in this district, began in Federal Court today.

The flares of animosity which burst with showers of denunciation at previous sessions were absent today as both sides in the bitterly contested struggle trained their batteries sharply on the real point at issue:

Whether the union, by virtue of its strike activities here, had violated the Sherman or Clayton acts by interfering or conspiring to interfere with interstate commerce.

It is upon this point that the jurisdiction of the Federal Court depends.

The matter of jurisdiction of the Federal Court must be settled before the merits of the case can be considered, Judge F. P. Schoonmaker warned James E. Matthews, attorney for the coal corporation.

As the afternoon session moved towards conclusion, Attorney Harry Warrum, of Indianapolis, chief counsel for the miners, began his argument to refute the contentions of plaintiff council, recited earlier in the day.

The union counsel on the one side, will contend that the mining of coal is not inherently interstate commerce and that any interference with this mining cannot, therefore, be interference with interstate commerce, regardless of how much of the coal unmined is eventually destined for shipment to other states.

But the plaintiff holds otherwise. Every wage contract entered into between the mine operators and the union violates the Sherman anti-trust act, declared Attorney C. F. Taplin of Cleveland, counsel for the Terminal Corporation, when granted permission to speak at this morning's session. Mr. Taplin is the brother of Frank E. Taplin, controlling power of the Terminal Corporation.

Attorney Taplin sought to build up his position that the International Mine Workers' union was interested in the present strike only because the Terminal Corporation's coal was placed immediately into cars for shipment to general market; that if it were for storage piles only, the matter then would be largely local. This has been argued in federal courts before. Attorney Taplin referred constantly to the famous second Coronado case, maintaining that in this case there was even more evidence of interference with interstate commerce and violation of the anti-trust laws.

To Attorney James E. Mathews fell the detailed summation for the coal corporation, an extremely technical argument. Chief Defense Attorney Henry Warrum objected when Mathews quoted him as having said it was the mine workers' purpose to keep "scab coal" in the hills. Mathews' argument was built on the plaintiff's contention that the union's purpose was to force on the operators a wage scale predicated on high prices to the public, thereby making the union illegal, with its sole aim the violation of the anti-trust act.

Accused Mate Turns Tables

Causing the arrest of her husband resulted in uncovering the theft of silverware from the West Penn Hospital and a fine of $10 today for Mrs. Susie Funsten, 27, Negro, 3013 Pulaski way. Mrs. Funsten, who had been employed at the hospital, yesterday had her common law husband, Ulysses Gadsen, 36, Negro, arrested for disorderly conduct. He informed the police his wife had stolen the silverware, valued at $100, which was recovered. The husband was discharged.

GOLLMAR TELLS WOMEN FITNESS SHOULD GOVERN

Men who have established their fitness for positions should not be attacked for "political whims," Judge Frank L. Gollmar told the McCandless township League of Voters this afternoon. "No judge should be so at the mercy of politics that he would be fearful of trying any case, no matter what political interests might be affected adversely by an honestly rendered decision," he said.

OLD GLORY WRECKAGE FOUND

Johns, N. F., reported to the State Department today that the wreckage of the Old Glory was being brought into St. Johns aboard the government steamer Kyle.

He said that efforts to find the plane's crew had been unsuccessful.

SEARCH GOES ON.

By International News Service.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 13.—The steamship Kyle, which picked up wreckage of the lost American airplane Old Glory in the North Atlantic, continued the search today for traces of the three occupants of the plane—Lloyd Bertaud, James D. Hill, navigators, and Philip Payne, managing editor of the New York Daily Mirror.

Part of the Old Glory was picked up by the Kyle about 100 miles from the position where the airplane had sent out an SOS call. Word of the finding of the wreckage was contained in the following radiogram from Douglas Muir, a newspaper reporter on board the Kyle, to the Daily Mirror:

"Located wreckage of Old Glory in latitude 51.7 north, longitude 39.23 west, at 4:20 o'clock Monday afternoon. No signs of crew. Particulars will follow."

The Kyle had been chartered by the Daily Mirror to search for the missing plane. According to the position given by Muir, it is believed that the wreckage drifted northward after striking the water.

ALL BELIEVED DROWNED

It is generally believed that the three men were drowned, although the forlorn hope is still held in some quarters that they might have been picked up by a small fishing boat not equipped with wireless.

Hope for the flyers was based upon the fact that the plane carried a collapsible life raft. But it was pointed out that the plane crashed at a point where the Atlantic is always turbulent, and it was feared that the men would soon become exhausted trying to remain afloat upon a small raft in the tempestuous seas unless they were speedily picked up.

Further word from the Kyle was eagerly awaited today.

Muir's radiogram did not state what part of the plane had been found, but it was supposed that it was one of the wings. It is believed that the body of the plane would have been carried to the bottom by the motor and fuel and oil tanks.

The Old Glory hopped off from Old Orchard, Me., one week ago today to attempt a non-stop flight to Rome. She flew northward along the coast to Newfoundland, bearing eastward over the Atlantic from the Newfoundland coast line. She evidently encountered difficulties after flying several hundred miles over the water.

3 BURNED BATTLING FIRE IN NORTH SIDE PLANT

Battling knee-deep in flaming linseed oil this morning at the paint works of M. B. Suydam Company, Preble and Island avenues, North Side, three of more than a score firemen were burned on the feet and legs in quelling a blaze which menaced nearby buildings. Damage was estimated by Battalion Chief Daniel Jones at $10,000.

The burned firemen, all of No. 6 Engine Company, Preble avenue, are John Farley, Harry Harley and J. R. Mercer. They wore high-top gum boots, but the heat of the burning oil penetrated these and caused painful burns. They were taken to the office of the Suydam Company, where they were given first aid treatment, then taken home.

The fire started shortly before 7:30 o'clock when a 500-gallon kettle of linseed oil became overheated and flared up. In an instant five other kettles of similar capacity blazed, the contents boiling over on the floor. Flames shot 80 feet through the roof of the kettle room.

By use of fire foam, which smothered the burning oil, and playing water on the woodwork, firemen had the blaze under control in half an hour, preventing half a dozen other kettles of oil from igniting and confining the flames to a room constructed of corrugated iron.

For a time the main building of the paint works was threatened. In the immediate vicinity are the preserving works of the Crukshank Brothers Company and car barns of the Pittsburgh Railways Company.

FLYERS PERILED BY TYPHOON

reaching Tokio, 1,000 persons perished in a village near Kumamoto.

When the storm subsided workmen immediately began restoring lines of communication into the stricken area.

The Pride of Detroit was not believed to have been harmed by the typhoon and tidal wave, according to dispatches from Nagasaki.

The Nagasaki advices said the plane probably would hop off for Kasumigura, near Tokio, at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning, arriving probably about 3 p. m.

Although there were no further reports regarding the intention of the plane's pilots, Edward F. Schlee and William S. Brock, to continue their flight across the Pacific, the general opinion of Japanese aviators and foreigners here was that their trip would end at Kasumigaura.

TOKIO, Japan, Sept. 13.—(AP.)—More than 100 persons were drowned and many are missing, victims of a typhoon and tidal wave which inundated villages in the neighborhood of the city of Kumamoto on the island of Kiushiu, say dispatches received by Asahi.

The scene of the storm was reported near Omura, where the American round-the-world plane, the Pride of Detroit, is waiting to take off on its next hop to the Kasumigaura naval station near Tokio.

(Omura is about 22 miles northwest of Kumamoto and is about 10 miles northeast of Nagasaki, which was reported in previous dispatches to have been in the path of the typhoon.)

"I wish Mr. Chaplin every happiness, but I am through with him forever."

The beauty of it is that she believes it, just as Eve believed it after she had been married to Adam for a week, and again, after little Cain arrived, and especially after Adam blamed it on her, when the apple episode drove them from Eden.

A YOUNG woman in Los Angeles, whose father struck her in the face, exclaimed, "I wish you were dead!" The father clutched his heart and fell dead instantly. That happens rarely, fortunately. If it always happened there would be no birth control problem.

BLAST "BY MISTAKE" -:- WRECKS PARNASSUS HOME

PROVES COSTLY

The front room of the home of Mrs. Catherine Reese at 636 Stanton avenue, Parnassus, was totally wrecked as shown above when a supposed dynamite bomb placed under her home in mistake for that of a neighbor exploded with great effect.

THROWN FROM BEDS

Mrs. Reese, her son, James P. Reese, 22; a daughter, Elizabeth, 19, and Paul G. Thomas, 25, a roomer, were thrown from their beds when the bomb tore this gaping hole in the foundation and ripped out the entire front of the dwelling. Windows were broken in an entire block. Mrs. Reese is at a loss to assign any motive other than "mistake."

State police of the New Kensington detail and local authorities believe that bombers made a mistake in picking the home of Whithers. He is employed at the West Penn Mirror and Glass Company plant, New Kensington. Three weeks ago a fire boss, not a member of the miners' union, moved out of the Whithers to a house a short distance away. The latter had been threatened yesterday by a man wearing a mask that he would feel the wrath of the union sympathizers, police say.

Prisoners "Lost" In Jail

Two "lost" prisoners in the county jail were discovered today by the district attorney's office, and as a result Judge James R. Macfarlane, in Criminal Court, directed that an information be made against Justice of the Peace C. A. White, of 344 Station street, Bridgeville, charging him with a misdemeanor for failing to make the return to court required by law.

"These prisoners would have languished indefinitely in jail if a checkup by the district attorney's office of its list and the jail list had not revealed their presence there," declared Andrew Parks, first assistant district attorney, in presenting the matter to the court.

The prisoners are Charles Reynolds and George Weber, accused of the larceny of an automobile, and were sent to jail July 7. The law requires that a justice of the peace in a felony charge of this character file his return with the Clerk of Courts within 48 hours where the prisoners are held without offering bail, and this Justice White neglected to do, it was stated.

He was brought before the court after county detectives were sent for him. The prisoners cannot be tried now until the November term of court, as it is too late to present their case to the present grand jury, and they will have been four months in jail when they come to trial.

Another prisoner, C. M. Hawley, sent to jail August 27 on a charge of operating an automobile while intoxicated, was similarly "lost," Mr. Parks said, due to failure of Justice White to make a return.

BOY AUTO VICTIM DEMANDS $15,000

Joseph Gariti filed a suit for $15,000 damages in behalf of his minor son, John, injured last June 2, when he was struck by an automobile owned by Mrs. Eugene Pargny. The accident is alleged to have occurred on Braid street, Sewickley.

Fanny Sues to Divorce Nicky Over Women

By FRED VANDEVENDER,
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Fanny Brice isn't singing "Bon Homme" any more. That is, not about Nicky Arnstein.

She sued him for divorce yesterday and told in her complaint how Nicky, her man, is now being claimed by other women, and how he has an inferiority complex.

She quoted him as saying a few years ago, after she had had her face lifted, and had been made more beautiful:

"Now that you are beautiful, you are no longer the Fanny Brice that I married and lived with all these years. You make me feel that I am an inferior person."

Throughout the document, although couched in legal verbiage, there is a tone of sorrow, that tells that Fanny perhaps doesn't like the idea of a legal separation from the man for whom she has gone through so much—"my man."

And Nicky, broke, disheartened, is not going to fight the case, preferring to let Fanny have her way.

Thus ends the story of the woman who stuck to her man through thick and thin as long as she could say "my man," but when other women said of him "my man" then that was the end.

Her troubles began almost with the time when she married Jules Arnstein. Then the great $5,000,000 swindle was perpetrated. It was discovered that Nicky was at the head of it. Fanny pawned her jewels, her automobiles, raised every dime she could get to provide bondsmen and attorneys for "my man." But Nicky was convicted and sent to Leavenworth.

Now speaking of her divorce suit, Fanny says:

"I suppose not being able to laugh at me was what Jules minded. But I had made up my mind to have my nose straightened, and I did."

MAIL HANDLERS HELD IN THEFT

Charged with looting parcel post packages in the mail room at the Pennsylvania Station, Tony Nido, 25, of 1103 Webster avenue, and Fred Condero, 24, of McDonald, Pa., were held for court by the United States Commissioner today on charges of theft from the mails. The men are employed by the railroad company in removing mail and baggage from trains and a search of their homes by Inspector George V. Craighead and Lieut. H. E. Stover, of the Pennsylvania Railroad police, revealed a large quantity of wearing apparel, hosiery, jewelry and other articles, identified as having been stolen from the mails.

DROP 2ND WARD VOTING SUIT

When counsel for the County Commissioners announced today that watchers' certificates would be given Democrats in the Second Ward, a hearing on the complaint brought by Attorney Howard Devlin for the Democratic party was ordered dropped by Judge John A. Evans of Common Pleas Court.

Earlier in the day the court had granted a rule on the Commissioners to show cause why they should not issue the certificates.

SCREAMS SAVE TOTS AT FIRE

Screams in a house at 5242 Orphan street this morning led to the rescue of Robert Dawson, 6, and his brother, William, 4, children of Pleada Dawson, a Negro, who were found terrified at a fire which was rapidly spreading along a kitchen wall. Both parents of the children were at work and the room was set afire when the children tried to cook their own breakfast. The fire was extinguished with $50 damage.

A.A.A. Hits Low Speed Urge of Autoists Here

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS,
Sun-Telegraph Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Officials of the American Automobile Association let it be known here today that they will not support the movement launched Monday by the Pittsburgh Better Traffic Committee to have motor car manufacturers give less emphasis to speed possibilities in their advertisements of new models.

In a letter to all manufacturers and the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, the Pittsburgh committee declared that this emphasis "caused an unfortunate psychological reaction among automobile drivers to discover for themselves whether performance equals promise," and that it is an "important factor in the mounting list of traffic casualties."

Announcing its opposition to the move, the national motor body disagreed with the statement that speed is the chief factor in traffic accidents and expressed the view that reckless driving was more to blame.

"It is our contention," officials of the A. A. A. said, "that there is a margin of safety in speedy cars that should be known to the owner. He knows what his machine will do and there is less chance of accident from pressing his motor too hard when he is guided by this knowledge."

Officials added, moreover, that the present tendency is to speed up traffic over roads where such is possible, declaring that without this, congestion would become too great. It was pointed out that several states have liberalized their laws recently respecting speed on rural roads, Michigan being the chief example with its no-speed limit.

"We do not agree with the Pittsburgh committee, because we recognize that speed is not always recklessness. A car may be driven recklessly at 25 miles an hour and yet safely at 50," officials said.

ILLINOIS MINERS' PLAN REJECTED

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—(AP.)—Illinois coal operators, meeting today, turned down a peace proposal offered by miners' representatives yesterday and sent a committee of two back to confer with the miners' committee. The operators, however, submitted no counter-proposal and said the mine tie-up was no nearer solution than a week ago.

Terms of the rejected proposal were not made public, but it was reported yesterday that the miners asked the operators to agree to appointment of a commission of two union and two operator representatives, to thresh out the entire controversy, reporting not later than February 1, the miners returning to work, meantime, under terms of the Jacksonville agreement.

A committee of nine considered the miners' proposition and submitted a report to the full committee of operators today. The operators, thereupon, referred the entire negotiation to its sub-scale committee of two, George Harrington and H. C. Perry, with instructions to confer again with the miners' sub-scale committee composed of Harry Fishwick and Walter Nesbit.

Will Seal Vare Votes In 32 Counties

By International News Service.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 13.—With Federal Judge Albert Johnson's statement here this afternoon indicating that he will order the impounding of ballots cast in the Vare-Wilson senatorial election in 32 Pennsylvania counties in his jurisdiction late today, the first significant legal step toward a showdown in the contest between William S. Vare and William B. Wilson for the United States Senate seat was at hand.

The announcement came at the conclusion of a hearing in Federal court here today at which Francis Shunk Brown, counsel for Vare, and David Wallerstein, Wilson's counsel, made application for the impounding of the ballots cast for the two men for the Senate seat last year.

Petitions presented by counsel for the two nominees were identical except that different counties were named. Wilson's counsel asked for the impounding of ballots in Lackawanna and Luzerne counties, while Vare's legal aid named the other 30 counties in the district.

The motion for a writ impounding the ballots was agreed upon by counsel for the two principals at a hearing held by Senator James Reed's senatorial investigation committee last week in Chicago.

TWO HURT IN SCAFFOLD FALL AT M'KEESPORT

Two laborers employed in the construction of the Holy Cross Parochial School, McKeesport, were injured late yesterday when a scaffold on which they were working collapsed. Milton Wheelery, 20, 428 Olive street, McKeesport, suffered a fracture of the left leg and Edgar Patterson, 40, of Coal Valley, has a fracture of the right ankle.

2 ASK DIVORCES FOR DESERTION

Angeline B. Johnson, of Cathedral Mansions, Ellsworth avenue, wants a divorce from Charles Raymond Johnson on the grounds of desertion. William B. Paul is her counsel.

Karl Reichert, 206 Hobart street, Knoxville, says his wife, Beatrice Reichert, willfully and maliciously deserted him and seeks a divorce. His counsel is W. L. Milburn.

Julia Stec, 2612 Brownsville avenue, asks a divorce from Andrew Stec on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment. Joseph Schutzman is her counsel.

PARALYSIS EPIDEMIC SPREADS IN NEW JERSEY

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 13.—(AP.)—Thirty-six new cases of infantile paralysis were reported in the state of New Jersey during the last week, bringing the total to 128 cases. The northern section of the state reported the most cases. Essex county leads with 32, Hudson county is second with 31 cases. Other counties reported as follows: Bergen, 18; Passaic, 12; Union, 10; Monmouth, eight; Burlington, three; Camden, three; Middlesex, Warren, Hunterdon and Morris, one each. This constitutes the largest outbreak of the dread disease since the epidemic of 1916.

Infantile Paralysis Cases Gain Here

With the reporting of an additional case of infantile paralysis, that of a 3-year-old boy, residing in DeVilliers street, Pittsburgh's total number of cases was brought to 27 yesterday. There is nothing alarming in the situation here, Dr. R. G. Burns, director of the Health Department said, as the total number of cases is no greater than the usual number of this season.

Most of the infantile paralysis cases are reported during the months of July, August and September. Dr. Burns said although there have been cases reported during the winter Pittsburgh usually has between 10 and 40 cases yearly. When a case is reported to the health department the home of the patient is quarantined and if it is desired, the patient is removed to the Municipal Hospital.

If there were any known cause for the disease and if symptoms were known there could be much advice given as precaution, Dr. Burns said. Little is known of how the disease originates and experiments are being made daily in all cities by physicians. The only advice Dr. Burns gave was that persons stay away from homes that are quarantined and keep their children from the neighborhood.

DRIVER'S SKULL FRACTURED

One person was in a serious condition and several others were injured as a result of automobile accidents in the Pittsburgh district late yesterday.

Clifford Perve, 40, of Coal Valley, is in McKeesport Hospital with a fractured skull received when an automobile he was driving near his home collided with one driven by S. T. Black, of 336 Fifth avenue, McKeesport.

Christ Schneider, 65, of Kittanning Pike, near Sharpsburg, and George Meister, 50, were found slightly injured in the former's automobile by Pleasant Valley firemen who answered a report that the automobile was burning. The machine had skidded.

Miss Mary Lodgate, 20, of Maryland avenue, is in West Penn Hospital severely injured. She was a passenger in an automobile driven by G. H. Carroll, 30, of 4130 Liberty avenue, when it was forced off the Frankstown road by another machine. Carroll was treated for slight injuries and taken to his home.

Lawrence Hartig, 64, a farmer of Fawcett avenue, McKeesport, suffered a fracture of the right leg this morning when he was thrown from a wagon in a collision with an automobile in McKeesport. The machine, driven by Frances Dunley, of Bowman avenue, McKeesport, according to Hartig, skidded into the wagon.

LEAVES ESTATE TO MOTHER

George Bruckner, of Baldwin township, in a will filed for probate, left all except $500 of his estate valued at $11,000 to his mother. The $500 was left to St. Ann's Roman Catholic Church, Castle Shannon, for prayers for the repose of his soul.

John Robertson, of Compromise street, divides an estate valued at $6,000 among his four children.

BENCH AND POLITICS SEPARATED, MARTIN SAYS

"Justice cannot be properly administered politically or with factionalism or partisanship," said Judge Richard H. Martin at the noon meeting today in his headquarters, 328 Fourth avenue. "Political considerations should move no one in the selection of judges." Judge Martin declared that the independent fight he is making is not a personal one, but one for a principle in that he opposes any effort on the part of elements which have no proper place in the matter to attempt to make and unmake judges.

A new Food for the family

Pittsburgh has created a new food that will bring health and happiness to the homes of the land.

The House of Heinz, with the assistance of its research specialists in Mellon Institute, has been working for years to utilize and develop the beneficial qualities of rice which, heretofore, have been unrealized—and even considered impossible.

The result is Heinz Rice Flakes, a truly remarkable food. Delicate, golden flakes with a delicious popcorn flavor, that fairly melt in the mouth, and yet never lose their delightful crispness in cream or milk.

And now for the most important news! This wonderful process, owned exclusively by Heinz, so utilizes the natural roughage of the rice that Heinz Rice Flakes have a moisture-absorbing quality which is one of Nature's best eliminative aids.

Eat Heinz Rice Flakes and enjoy the new flavor! Eat them regularly and enjoy good health.

TASTE GOOD—DO GOOD

Goodies Are Barred To the Fat

Excess fat causes many constant self-denials. Every day brings a new fight, and only a small percentage gain in those ways what they seek. The real cause is left uncorrected.

Over 20 years ago medical science discovered a great cause of excess fat. It lies in lack of a substance which controls nutrition. A factor which Nature employs to turn food into fuel and energy, rather than into fat.

Then that factor was embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. Now people have used them for two decades—millions of boxes of them. They have told the results to others. Today everyone can see that excess fat is nowhere near as common as it was. In almost every circle slenderness prevails.

The use of Marmola requires no abnormal exercise or diet, though moderation helps. Users simply take four tablets daily until they correct the cause. They know what they are taking, and why. The formula is given in every box, also the reasons for all results. Every user knows why the benefits come, and why they involve no harm.

You should try Marmola. Consider what it has done for so long, for so many. Watch what it brings to you in new beauty, new health and vitality. Learn the easy, pleasant, right way to a normal figure. As long as you live you may be glad that you found this scientific method. Order now—before you forget it. Do not wait.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

$75,000 ASKED FOR PERSONAL INJURIES

Damage suits, demanding an aggregate of $75,000, for death or injury in common carrier accidents, are now on file in Allegheny county courts.

Frank J. Bernhart by his father, John Bernhart, has filed suit against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for $30,000 damages. The son, 20, alleges that last July 30 he was a passenger on a train of the defendant company from Pittsburgh to Oakdale, having previously checked his baggage to that point and receiving a check for the same. The son further alleges that when he presented his check for the baggage at Oakdale, he was attacked and knocked down by one Charles Hastings, who was in charge of the railroad station at Oakdale. In the suit the son claims $20,000 and the father $10,000.

William E. DeHars filed suit against the Pittsburgh Railways Company for $20,000 damages for injuries sustained, he alleges, when struck by a street car of the defendant company at Ohio and Federal streets last June 29.

Frank Rigby on behalf of his 7-year-old son, Thomas Rigby, filed suit against the Pittsburgh Railways Company for $10,000 damages. Rigby claims that his son was injured by a street car while sledriding last January 13, at Fallowfield avenue and Sixth street, Charleroi, and the injuries necessitated the amputation of one of the boy's feet.

Mrs. Kate Miska asks $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, John Miska, from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. In the statement of claim filed the wife sets forth that her husband was struck by a train of the defendant company at Ridgeway Park crossing, near Derry, last October 9, while a passenger on a truck, suffering injuries from which he died the same day.

FACES GALLOWS IN SIXTH TRIAL

By Universal Service.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Russell Scott, five times sentenced to the gallows, will go to trial for the sixth time on September 20.

At that trial, Scott will be tried merely for his sanity. If he is found sane, then he must hang for the killing of Joseph Maurer, a drug clerk. If found insane, then he will be sent back to the Chester asylum, where he was previously incarcerated on being found unbalanced mentally.

Scott has put up one of the greatest fights in the history of Chicago in an attempt to escape the hangman's noose, to which he has been sentenced so often, only to escape at the eleventh hour.

The facts in the murder case will not be entered into at the present trial. His conviction for the crime stands, the Supreme Court having affirmed the decision of the trial court on two different appeals.

NAVY PILOTS NAMED FOR SPOKANE RACES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Three of the Navy's best pilots were named to participate in the national air races to be held at Spokane, September 23 and 24. They are Lieutenant Commander Gerald F. Hogan and Lieutenants Herbert E. Regan and Aaron P. Stoors. They are to participate in the free-for-all race and the special Navy and Marine Corps pursuit plane race. They will fly Boeing pursuit planes.

Insurance Against Engine Repair

The first thing to do before making any extensive repairs or adjustments is to have the ignition checked and the spark plugs looked over.

Many times expensive repair bills are incurred and it is afterwards found that all that was needed was a new set of spark plugs. This because spark plugs in time deteriorate and need to be renewed.

Lindbergh, Chamberlin, Byrd and other great flyers staked their lives on AC Spark Plugs in their epoch-making flights. You, too, can have the same spark plugs. See your dealer for the right type and size for your engine.

Bar Miss Pittsburgh As Harmonica Player

Mary Millnack, "Miss Pittsburgh," is surely out of luck. She was selected in winning the title of "Miss Pittsburgh," but yesterday the harmonica contest editor was forced to turn down her entry in the harmonica contest, although Borrah Minevitch, for whom the Sun-Telegraph is conducting this contest, fought strenuously to give "Miss Pittsburgh" a chance to enter.

Now boys, here is a warning that you must all heed. It has been decided that all entries must be in by Thursday morning so that Wednesday night will be the last night on which any of the boys may enter.

On Thursday night at 7 o'clock all boys are to report to the stage entrance of the Loews and United Artists Penn Theater, where the tryout will be held before Mr. Minevitch, and then on Friday night the two winners will appear at the last performance with the band, and the winner will then be chosen, and on Saturday the winner will appear at all performances on the stage.

If the boy deserves up to the expectation of Borrah, he will be asked to sign a contract and immediately start on a tour of the Loew theaters.

Remember boys, this is one of your last chances to gain this much coveted position by signing the enclosed blank and mailing it to the Contest Editor.

Please enter me in the Borrah Minevitch Sun-Telegraph Harmonica Contest to be held at Loew's New Penn Theater.

"MISS PITTSBURGH" PLAYS

MOUTH-ORGAN QUEEN

Borrah Minevitch, who, with his noted mouth-organ band, opened last night at Loew's Penn Theater for a week's engagement, believes that in "Miss Pittsburgh" he has a convert to what he regards the noblest instrument of them all. He hadn't the power to make her an offer to join his band—because he limited his contest to boys under 20. His contest to choose a Pittsburgh boy begins at Loew's Wednesday night.

Hudson Seal—Caracul and Raccoon Coats $295

THIS is a totally unexpected offering on our part. We obtained them at a decided reduction in price. When they are disposed of it will be utterly impossible to duplicate them at anywhere near this figure.

There are types and sizes for both women and misses, which express the most desirable trends of the season in fur coat fashions. In order to view the full selection, it will be best to come tomorrow as early as possible, as in many cases there is just one model of a style.

Hudson Seals:
(Dyed Muskrat)

Crush or shawl collars of beige or natural squirrel; cuffs of same. Handsome silk linings.

Caracul

Gray or Cocoa Caracul Kids—pelts with a desirable flat curl. Johnny or shawl collars in matching tones of Fitch or Fox. Silk linings.

Raccoons

School Girl models in flapper styles with shawl collars; smart 40-inch length; handsomely marked and perfectly matched pelts; silk linings.

A—This youthful model is of Gray Caracul with a flat curl. The Johnny collar and gray suede belt contribute much to its swagger appearance. Price, $295.

B—A conservative model of Hudson Seal (dyed muskrat) which is an excellent quality. The shawl collar and cuffs are of beige squirrel. Price, $295.

* * * *

C—Here we have a swagger, girlish Raccoon model to meet the strain of campus life. It is the fashionable 40-inch length. Price, $295.

* * * *

D—This number is cocoa Caracul. The collar is of fox in matching tone. The Caracul is a particularly flat curl and well matched. Price, $295.

Deferred Payments Can Be Arranged

Feature! Pointed Fox Scarfs—$49.75

POINTED Fox Scarfs are one of the smartest fashion notes of the season. The above price is exceptionally low for these full skin, deeply furred black pointed pelts. Also Red Foxes At The Same Price.

(Miss Mary Millnack)

Miss Millnack, as hostess of the Electrical Show, is appearing here daily between 11:00 a. m. and 1:30 p. m.—at the Registration Booth.

Guessing Contest For Sweeper-Vac Elec. Sweeper

Guess the number of small electric bulbs contained in the large bulb displayed at the registration booth. The person guessing the most nearly correct number will receive free — an Electric Sweeper-Vac. Tickets may be secured (one to each person) at the registration booth and deposited in a nearby container.

See How ElectropureMilk is produced by the Rieck-McJunkin Co. A miniature, working model is on exhibit and you may have a glass of milk to show you what the Electropure process does to the milk you drink.

Coat of Tan in 3 Minutes

A violet-ray machine exhibited through the courtesy of the General Electric Co., throws a heatless but penetrating light, producing the same tanning effect as the sun, but in immeasurably shorter time. On exhibit also is their Victor X-Ray machine which throws an intense heat. It is used in larger hospitals and sanitariums throughout the country.

Bring the Plans for Your Home to the booth of the Electric League of Pittsburgh. An expert will go over them carefully and inform you just where your electrical outlets may be placed to best advantage. No charge for the service.

In One of Our Windows

a Graybar Electric Washer is being demonstrated—washing dollar (genuine) bills—hundreds of them—to show you how easily and safely it can wash the finest and flimsiest of lingerie. You may also see dollar bills washed on the Seventh Floor.

Eat a Waffle and Drink Hot Coffee

A demonstrator will make a waffle—crisp and hot—for you, on a Griswold Electric Waffle Iron. Another will pour you a cup of piping hot, delicious coffee boiled in a Universal Percolator.

ELECTRICITY is a force that, more than any other, has revolutionized world industries and reached helpful tentacles into our everyday existence. A world without Electricity would be impossible to us, now that we know what miracles it accomplishes. Yet Electricity is a comparatively recent discovery and has but broken its shell. Its full development in the years to come can only be vaguely estimated, and our wildest dreams can hardly approximate its future importance.

In the Kaufmann & Baer Electrical Show you see an authoritative, interesting exhibition of Electricity harnessed to practical uses for the home. There is much of educational value to be gained by attending, and there are practical demonstrations to give you an insight into what America's leading inventors and manufacturers are doing with Electricity—for you.

Trial Again

RUSSELL SCOTT

Russell Scott, to face a jury in Chicago in a retrial for the killing of Joseph Maurey, drug clerk, in 1924, is in court for the eighth time in the case. For three years, he has been in and out of the shadow of the gallows.

WOODSIDE CASE PUT AHEAD BY COURT

Justice Robert S. Frazer, of the State Supreme Court, today signed an order advancing to the head of the argument list the appeal of Lida Mosby and Joseph Painter against the County Commissioners and R. G. Woodside, candidate for county controller. The Supreme Court will sit in Pittsburgh September 26, six days after the primaries, when the candidacy of Woodside will be voted upon.

The suit to restrain the appearance of Woodside's name on the primary ballot was heard in the local court's last week, when Judge A. B. Reid held that he had no jurisdiction.

Attorney F. C. McGirr filed an appeal to the Supreme Court, and later asked that the case be advanced, inasmuch as the primary election is to be held next Tuesday.

Justice Frazer today signed an order advancing the case to the head of the argument list, which will be taken up here on September 26.

The petition of Attorney McGirr recites:

The bill in this case prays that an injunction may issue against the commissioners to prevent them from placing on the ballot either at the primary election in September or the general election in November the name of Robert G. Woodside, candidate for controller of Allegheny county, for the reason that under the act of June 27, 1895, P. L. 405, he is ineligible to said office on account of his term as sheriff having expired on the fourth day of January, 1926, which is less than two years from the beginning of the term of controller of Allegheny county on the first Monday of January, 1928, which is the second of January.

He is also ineligible as a candidate to said office, both at the primaries and at the general election under the same act and the decisions thereunder.

OIL CITY "DOODLEBUG" TOO LIGHT, TAKEN OFF

TIONESTA, Pa., Sept. 13—The "doodlebug train," operated by the Pennsylvania Railroad through Tionesta to Oleau and Oil City, has ceased to operate. It was found to be of too light construction.

DEATH ROLL

William H. Fuller

William H. Fuller, 70, a pioneer in the art of color printing, died in his home, 823 South Trenton avenue, Wilkinsburg, Saturday. Mr. Fuller was born in Pittsburgh. He was engaged in newspaper work for many years in the color printing department. He also operated a color printing concern in Pittsburgh for many years. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Nellie Richards Fuller; two sons, William L. and James R. Fuller, and a daughter, Miss Eleanor Fuller.

Joseph G. Lee

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Sept. 13—Joseph G. Lee, 72, for many years head of the Knowles, Taylor and Knowles Pottery Company of this place, died Thursday in Coronado, Cal., according to word received here. Mr. Lee was born in Salem, O., but spent most all his life in the vicinity of East Liverpool. Eight years ago he retired from active business and moved to Coronada, where he had resided since.

Gerald G. Clark.

Gerald G. Clark, 32, formerly of Pittsburgh, died suddenly on Sunday at his home in Galion, O. Mr. Clark was the only son of William E. and Anna P. Clark, of this city. Besides his parents, he leaves his widow, three children and three sisters, Misses Marion, Dorothy and Louise Clark, of Pittsburgh. Burial was made today at Mt. Gilead, O.

FREDONIA YOUTH SHOT DEAD

LITHUANIA REDS BATTLE POLICE AND TROOPS

By International News Service.

BERLIN, Sept. 13.—Fierce fighting between Lithuanian troops and Red rebels is in progress in the forests near Pasvalys, the scene of Saturday's communist outbreak, according to advices from Kovno received here today via Warsaw.

The rebels, headed by Col. Ignatovitch, commander of the government troops at Pasvalys.

Martial law has been proclaimed in the border districts and in the large cities.

Lithuanian trade unions are protesting against the arrest of labor leaders and have called a general strike in protest, beginning today.

Dispatches estimate the number of prisoners arrested by the police and soldiers at 2,000.

Hotel De Point Is Formally Closed; 31 Mourn

Hotel De Point, Pittsburgh outdoor summer lodging place for the down-and-out, also known as Point Park, was formally closed for the season last night by police. The police patrol was backed up twice and 31 who gave "no home" as their addresses were hauled to Central station. This morning most of them accepted five-day outings to the workhouse, the alternative of paying $5 fines on the vagrancy charges. Ordinarily the police ban on sleeping on Point Park benches ends on Labor Day, but because of the recent warm weather the limit was extended.

HEAVY ON TYPEWRITER; SHE GOES TO HOSPITAL

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 13.—Mrs. Fred Cort, 26, a typist here, struck the keys of her typewriter hard and fast and as a result she will not be able to work her machine for some days. She splintered the bone in one of her fingers while at work, physicians at a hospital said.

COMPANION ON VISIT TO GIRL ARRESTED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(AP.)—Paul S. Winters, 25, of Fredonia, Mercer county, Pa., was shot and killed in a Takoma Park, Md., residence, last night, and his companion, George O. Hollibaugh, 21, also of Fredonia, was arrested.

Hollibaugh said the shooting was accidental, a revolver being fired as they were packing the weapon preparatory to returning home after attending graduation of a girl friend from a local nursing institution.

Hollibaugh was being held in jail today while police investigated his story of the shooting.

Leah Winslow and Mr. Hall Score In "The Show-Off" In Pitt, Comedy Being Well Done

By GEORGE SEIBEL.

GEORGE SEIBEL

A [illegible] work of the stock company in the Pitt Theater [illegible] week, the comforting conviction arises that the good plays are not all dead and the drama has not been laid away in the tomb. There are people who hold this melancholy belief. They echo what George Henry Lewes once wrote:

"That our drama is extinct as literature, and our stage is in a deplorable condition of decline, no one ventures to dispute."

Lewes wrote those words with the shadow of Edmund Kean still upon the English stage and the spirit of Henry Irving soon to rise. The fact is that the stage is always "going to the dogs"—so the older playgoers think—and 20 years from now gray-haired Pittsburghers will remember what a fine stock company they saw in the Pitt in 1927.

It is a fine company. The performance of "The Show-Off" last night showed that off again. These people play as if they loved their profession and wished to make it more lovable still. There is consistency in every detail at every point and the consequence is that George Hall's company has won a deserved hold upon the affections of Pitt audiences.

"The Show-Off" is not an easy play to put across. It is a study of half a dozen characters who are portrayed with [illegible] fidelity. If they were not well played, the play would become tiresome. If they were overplayed, the play would seem silly. The fact that all the people in the cast strike the note of realism and truth is proof of their artistic ability as well as of good judgment by the stage manager in casting the various parts.

Most of the work falls on Leah Winslow as the mother of the girl who marries the "show-off." Her part is so long that the merely mechanical labor of memorizing looks appalling as one works it. Miss Winslow plays with so many deft touches, getting under the skin of the character, that the evening was a triumph for her. Thurston Hall, as Aubrey Piper the prodigious bluffer, a figure worthy of Dickens, has almost as trying a role and plays it with much spirit. Amie Forrest adds yet another outstanding portrayal to the gallery of characters she has created here while Gus A. Forbes, as the father does admirable work in the only scene he has. John W. Moore gave his usual finished performance. Mabel Kroman, as the sister, was an excellent foil to Miss Forrest, and fine bits were done by the only other three members of the cast—Geoffrey Bryant, Joseph Lawrence and Reed Hamilton.

The significance of George Kelly's comedy lies in its fidelity to real life. There are such families, there are such people, and he has listened at the keyhole of this Philadelphia home to portray the pathetic bickerings and empty trivialities going on inside. Plays of this sort are not great plays, because they are made of little bits, but they often afford opportunity for great acting—an opportunity which Mr. Sharp's confidence in the Pitt avails itself of to the fullest extent. If you want to see good actors do good acting, here is the chance. More and more people are making that discovery and take a weekly pilgrimage to this playhouse.

Says Laura La Plante Is Orient's Most Popular Star

Laura La Plante, Universal's petite blonde film star, is the most popular screen luminary in the orient, reports Miss K. Sunada, Japanese film star, who is making a short visit to this country. According to Miss Sunada, a nation-wide poll of film favorites held recently in that country resulted in Miss La Plante receiving twice as many votes as her nearest competitor.

The blonde star was presented with an Oriental token of esteem, the gift of a group of Japanese film stars, by Miss Sunada.

JAZZ AND LAUGHS IN DAVIS

Count Berni Vici and his symphonic Girls furnish the principal feature of the vaudeville bill in the Davis this week, and it is an attractive act, with a spirited jazz version of "Aida" and some graceful dances and tableaux by Louise Mele. Next to this the colored comedians, Jones and Jones, deserve credit for an interlude of real darky humor—not the hot-house Caucasian stuff, but the sunny southern variety. Harry Anger and Mary Fair have some rattling comedy attuned to an airplane flight, while Mason and Dixon present a group of clever dancers, in a varied menu. Combe and Nevins sing their syncopated songs with gusto and good voice, there is a funny monologue by George Beatty, and an aerial exhibition by Claude and Lucille Fondaw gave the audience a few breathless moments. Altogether a well-balanced bill, with no dull moments, and it is followed by a film comedy—"Smile, Brother, Smile"—in which Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Mackaill present an amusing romance of aspiring salesmanship lubricated by love. Two large audiences enjoyed the performances afternoon and evening.

GAYETY REVUE IS SPEEDY

"Let's Go," the Columbia musical attraction presented in the Gayety yesterday, was a swiftly moving production of the revue type, jammed so full of ciassdes and scenes that swift movement really was essential in order to present all of the 25 scenes which make up the production. It was one of the dancing kind of shows in which the stepping chorus was kept on the jump to get into the numerous changes of costume required of it. Bebe Almond, a lively little singing and dancing soubrette and comedienne, was a favorite with the audience from the time, at the opening of the show, when she sang "Aint She Sweet," until she made her bow in the finale. Eddie Hall and John O'Donnell were the comedians, with Jack Reddy in the straight parts and Walter Smith as the juvenile lead. May Dix pleased with her songs. The various specialties and skits were appreciated by the audience. The unison dancing of the chorus was worthy of special mention.

HARRIS OFFERS GOOD ACTS

"Cuckoo," a smart vaudeville vehicle, with lots of laughs, melody and dance, and also numerous changes of scenic effects, headlines a pleasing program of stage acts and film entertainment in the Harris this week. "Cuckoo" presents a melange that swings from the highly dramatic to the highly burlesque. Those who like their screen fare a la Western will enjoy "Chain Lightning," with Buck Jones, on the screen. Delton and Finney are a couple of clever boys, who sing and dance well. Jack De Bell and Harry Vine claim many laughs with their act of comedy nonsense, some of which is old and some of which is new. Marshall and La Rue, in a novelty act; Van and Carrie Avery, in a takeoff on a chef and waitress, and "The Manniken Cabaret," in which wax characters do their stuff, complete the vaudeville. Short film features also are on the bill.

Drama of Jungle, With Animal Actors, Is Hit In Grand

The jungle, where life is a fight against wild animals and always encroaching vegetation, is the scene of drama with the elements mentioned as the factors. It has remained for the motion picture to visualize that drama and it is presented this week in the Grand under the title of "Chang." That is the name given the elephant in Siam where the jungle scenes were filmed. In the picture the heroes and heroines are natives. Other actors necessary to a drama, villains, comedians and the like, are animals. This is no mere jumble of animal scenes, but a story of the struggle of a native family to establish a home in the jungle, continuously fighting against its other inhabitants. One sees the killing and trapping of leopards and tigers that destroy domestic animals. One sees a huge herd of elephants level the homes of natives and sees a big portion of that herd made captive as a result of the wild raid, which is "the big scene" of the picture—as thrilling as any ever staged in a photoplay of any kind. The monkey comedians are as funny as anyone could ask. It really is a picture with a punch and one you will like. On the stage Waring's Pennsylvanians put over musical novelties in a way that pleases. A cartoon comedy and news pictures also are on the screen bill and the musical part of the program is agreeably augmented by music by the Grand Orchestra.

CAMERAPHONE FEATURE IS CROOK MELODRAMA

"The Chinese Parrot," based on a story by Earl Derr Biggers, is the photoplay feature this week in the Cameraphone. It is a crook melodrama. As the story opens, P. J. Madden, jilted by Sally Randall, American belle of Hawaii, swears he will one day buy her with money. Twenty years pass and the same characters meet again and are involved in a series of thrilling episodes. The cast includes Hobart Bosworth, Marian Nixon, Florence Turner, Edmund Burns, Anna May Wong and Albert Conti. Pictures of the Eleventh Ward Republican picnic are an added feature. A film comedy and news pictures also are on the bill.

Among Those -:- Who Entertain -:- In Theaters -:- This Week

LUCILLE ANNETTE of the "Ramblers," in the Alvin, is among those who make the attraction easy on the eyes.

BORRAH MINNEVITCH shows what can be done in a musical way with a lot of boys and harmonic in the Penn.

TOM WARING is the vocal soloist of Waring's Pennsylvanians, which is the stage number in the Grand.

SUSAN FLEMING is a member of the cast of "Manhattan Mary," which opened its second week in the Nixon last night, and she is not hard to look at either.

Veterans to See Show. Bookings For Next Week Announced

A large theater party of disabled veterans will be guests of Manager Sharp at today's matinee of "The Show-Off," in the Pitt Theater. Tuesday matinees, in addition to the regular Thursday and Saturday matinees, will be a feature.

"Rose-Marie," the outstanding success of musical comedies, is booked again for the Alvin for next week, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. In the cast will be Beulah Benson, Paul Doman, Hazel Gaudreau, Charles Meakins, Peggy Pates, Houston Richards, Daisy Gibson, Santo Marco, Rose Gibson, Neil Moore and others.

The production next week in the Nixon of "The Cradle Song" by the Civic Repertory Theater Company, of New York, will bring again to Pittsburgh Mary Shaw, who has been seen here in the past in many important productions.

On the stage program booked for the Davis next week will be "Memories of the Opera," featuring Caesar Rivoli and a company of ten. On the screen will be "His Dog," with Joseph Schildkraut.

Bert Bertrand, dancer, heads "Wine, Woman and Song," coming to the Gayety next week.

"In Old Chinatown," produced in "Happy Hours," next week's show at the Academy, is a dramatic sketch introducing character types.

The stage attraction in the Grand next week will be Husk O'Hara and his "Tune Tinkers" in a program of melodies. On the screen will be "What Price Glory" with Dolores Del Rio.

An attraction on the Vitaphone in the Olympic next week will be Roger Wolfe Kahn, the world's youngest orchestra leader.

"CHINESE PARROT" IS SHOWN IN CAMEO

Stolen pearls that carry a trail of vengeance from the South Seas and the low waterfront dives of Shanghai to San Francisco and a murder and a Chinese parrot that knew all about it, are the chief factors in the crook melodrama, "The Chinese Parrot," now being shown in the Cameo. This photoplay was adapted from Earl Derr Bigger's magazine story and was directed by Paul Leni. Marian Nixon and Hobart Bosworth head the cast. Sojin, Chinese star, is cast as Charlie Chan, Bigger's famous Oriental detective creation, and Anna May Wong, the Chinese flapper, plays the role of a dance girl in Shanghai. A new comedy release, the International News, a cartoon film and special music also are on the Cameo bill.

ONA MUNSON PLEASES IN "MANHATTAN MARY"

"Manhattan Mary," George White's new musical comedy, opened the second week of its engagement in the Nixon last night, meeting with the same hearty approval that was given to it by last week's audiences. Ona Munson, who went into the cast the later part of last week to play the title role in place of Elizabeth Hines, added to the favorable impression she earned here previously in other productions. Miss Munson is a capable dancer and she is blessed with a personality that appeals. Ed Wynn continued in top comedy form and Harland Dixon again revealed himself as one of the most agile dancers on the stage. Other principals, including Lou Holtz, comedian, won the favor of the audience.

REVUE IS PRESENTED IN SHERIDAN SQUARE

"Cupid Behave," an entertaining revue offered by O'Donn and Day, played to large audiences in the Sheridan Square yesterday as the headline vaudeville attraction for the first three days of this week. Also on the program, in addition to the five-act variety bill, is a first-run motion picture feature, "Slightly Used," starring May McAvoy and Conrad Nagel. Ed East and Ralph Dumke present songs and comedy. Foley and Leture offer a new skit, "A Vaudeville Entree," and their offering is rich in comedy, song and chatter. It takes Lloyd Nevada and company just nine minutes to stage a fascinating act of magic and mirth. The Gold Medal Four, an organalogue, news pictures and a film comedy complete the bill.

ALVIN FOLKS ENJOY "THE RAMBLERS" AGAIN

"The Ramblers," a musical show that features Bobby Clark and Paul McCullough, was received with enthusiasm in the Alvin on the opening of a second week's engagement last night. Clark and McCullough are responsible for hearty laughter whenever they appear. And during the intervals they are back stage there are plenty of other things happening and preventing dull moments. The show offers excellence and variety in its dance, comedy and melody. Among those who stand out prominently in the cast are Marie Saxon, Ruther Teater and Norman Gallo, dancers, and Georgia O'Ramey, comedienne.

Penn Audiences Like "The Magic Flame" and Music

"The Magic Flame," presented as the motion picture feature of the program in the Penn yesterday, was enjoyed by audiences that filled the large, new beautiful theater several times. Many, making their first visit to the new Loew and United Artists house, were much impressed by its completeness and attractiveness. "The Magic Flame" is a dramatic picture of the romance of a clown and an aerial performer whose attractiveness brings her the unwelcome attentions of a nobleman of whom the clown is an exact image. In a conflict the nobleman is killed just as a delegation comes to tell him he is king through the death of his father. You see the complications, of course. The clown becomes the king, but that is just the beginning. It works out to a "happy ending." Vilma Banky, as the circus aerialist, and Ronald Colman, in the dual role of the clown and the prince, perform effectively. Borrah Minevitch and his harmonica band presented a stage number that made a hit. Comedy was intermixed with the music in pleasing proportion. The orchestra overture, "Slavonic Rhapsody," organ specialty by Ken Widener and the M. G. M. newsreel completed the bill.

VITAPHONE IN OLYMPIC HAS WEBER AND FIELDS

An entertaining Vitaphone program and "Slightly Used," a feature photoplay, with Conrad Nagel and May McAvoy in the leading roles, is on the program this week in the Olympic. Miss McAvoy is seen as a girl who "fakes" a marriage with a certain Maj. Smith. Tiring of being married she "fakes" his death. Then the Major appears on the scene and the fun, so to speak, falls over itself. Weber and Fields, veteran funsters of the stage, are seen and heard on the Vitaphone in an act of novel comedy. Another Vitaphone feature is the appearance of the Moscow Art Ensemble, which offers a singing and dancing program, titled a "Russian Wedding Celebration." Irving and Jack Kaufman, radio entertainers, complete the Vitaphone with the presentation of a group of songs. An Aesop Fable, news pictures and a film comedy also are on the bill.

ACADEMY ATTRACTION IS "HELLO, PAREE"

Burlesque, musical comedy and specialties are the chief ingredients in "Hello, Paree," this week's attraction in the Academy. Margie Pennetti, who played the soubret role, appeared in a specialty and sings several songs, one of her best numbers being "Magnolia." Lee Hackman, in grotesque makeup, aroused laughter with his comedy antics. Billy Schultz, Joe Mack and George A. Hunter aided in the merry-making. A military travesty was a comedy skit. Other sketches were "The King and the King" and "Getting the Gat." May Janson and Ida Shaw sang several songs in an effective manner. The chorus appeared in a variety of costumes. A special dancing feature was introduced and the show was presented with appropriate scenic effects.

LEVINE'S WIFE TRIES TO STOP CALCUTTA HOP

By Universal Service.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Charles A. Levine spent $250 in telephoning to London last night, trying to persuade her husband not to fly to Calcutta.

"You are sure now that you have given up the idea of flying home?" Mrs. Levine said to her husband who was at the Hotel Savoy, London.

"Yes," he replied. "It does not seem as though the weather will clear."

"When are you coming home?" Mrs. Levine asked.

"Not right away," said the amateur pilot, "I am arranging a non-stop flight to Calcutta."

Ignoring the mounting toll, Mrs. Levine pleaded with her husband to abandon the idea of the Calcutta flight. Finally, with great reluctance, Levine said he would promise to consider it.

The Levines' daughter, Eloise, pleaded with her daddy to come home.

"I'll try," Levine told her.

SIZE OF DOLLARS CUT ONE-THIRD

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Despite protests from the plate printers, the Treasury is adhering to its plan to reduce the size of paper currency by one-third, Secretary Mellon has let it be known.

Mellon believes that bankers and the public favor the change. No protests from bankers have reached him. Mellon described the smaller notes as meeting all requirements, besides having an advantage of convenience.

DUMPING PROBE NEAR FINISH

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Customs Bureau findings in an investigation of alleged "dumping" of German steel products in this country shortly will be submitted to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon for a decision.

Investigations also are under way of importance of rayon and electric light carbons, following complaints that they were being sold at less than foreign prices to the injury of American producers.

BREAK DRY LAW IN WASHINGTON

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The Nation's Capital City measures up as wet or wetter in comparison with other municipalities, according to annual police reports.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 5,874 jail sentences for intoxication were handed out, breaking last year's total by 826. They constituted 69.2 per cent of all sentences.

"LE MAIRE'S AFFAIRS" BREAKS UP IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—"Le Maire's Affairs," the second edition of what promised to be an annual string, went busted here and many in the casts got just enough money to get back to New York. The bust-up came when the officials of the company paid $8,000 due to the Woods theatre for rent. A commonwealth performance was given by the stars of the company to get enough money for the girls to get back to Broadway.

AUTUMN MILLINERY OPENING

"The Swallow" from Andree, a soft, grey draped felt turban showing a medallion motif worked in... ...ity on the felt.

The formal presentation of the mode featuring original chapeaux chosen by our Millinery Director in Paris from the great modistes, authentic copies and adaptations by McCreery artistes and the smartest creations of leading New York designers. Every model a masterpiece of fashion-rightness from fold of crown to tilt of brim.

Presenting Parisian Models from

Desrat	Louison
Molyneux	Maria Guy
Sagot	Mme. Georgette
Reboux	Marguerite & Leonie
Andree	Marie Alphonsine
	Vasselin Villiard

Many outstanding models claim New York as their birthplace. Hats that follow faithfully in every detail the dictates of foremost designers. Last but not least, McCreery's own achievements, fashioned in our own workrooms from designs gleaned from a careful study of the best the world of Fashion offers.

Molyneux gives us a velvet dress hat, its tint holding the ruddy glow of old French wine. The brim shows the new folded side.

From Desrat this youthful symphony in shades of brown. Following the contour of the head with novel insets of the velour.

A new model from Mme. Georgette is developed of beige felt with leaf motifs of Autumn brown velvet.

The small hat the sovereign of them all, always emphasizing the contour of the head, glorifying the off-the-face line, achieving new irregularities of brim.

Miss Helen Louise Brumage Selects Maid of Honor For Wedding Saturday

MISS HELEN LOUISE BRUMAGE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee Brumage, 6 Murray avenue, whose marriage to Richard Russell Sitzler, of Pittsburgh and Summit, N. J., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Sitzler, of Summit, will be solemnized Saturday at 12 o'clock in the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, has asked Miss Mary L. Hutchinson to be her maid of honor. William C. Bates, of this city, will be best man. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Dr. Robert N. Meade. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Sitzler will leave for an eastern trip. They will live in Murray avenue.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Helen M. Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Baker of Cherry Tree, Pa., and Ivan B. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Jones, of Harrisburg, Pa., which was solemnized Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Bethel Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Dr. Robert MacGowan. The bride wore a blue suit with a small black velvet hat and her flowers were white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Rosamond Keppler, of New Kensington, as maid of honor, was gowned in black satin and velvet with a rose hat. William Hansen, of Burnesboro, was best man. A dinner in the William Penn Hotel and a theater party followed the ceremony. After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Jones will be at home in Meyran avenue, Oakland.

Miss Martha Elizabeth Close, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence William Close of Marlboro avenue, became the bride of Lowell Briggs Page, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stevens Page of Thomas boulevard, at a ceremony last night at 7:30 o'clock in the Pittsburgh Field Club, with Rev. Dr. Albert E. Day, pastor of Christ Methodist Episcopal Church, officiating. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in ivory satin fashioned with a bouffant skirt and tight bodice, trimmed with duchesse lace which had been worn by her mother at her wedding. The full court train was lined with flesh tinted chiffon and her tulle veil was secured with a cap of duchesse lace and orange blossoms. She carried white gardenias and lilies of the valley. Frocks with velvet bodices and bouffant tulle skirts were worn by her attendants. Her sister, Miss Anna Bauler Close, as maid of honor, wearing turquoise blue. Miss Pauline Stevens Page, Mrs. James Burns McClements, Jr., Miss Mary Elizabeth Close, Miss Edna Van Ingen Lee of Montclair, N. J., and Miss Katherine Dyer Bogart of Brooklyn, peach; and Miss Dorothy Isabel Bailey, Miss Mary Elizabeth McKelvy, Miss Mary Selina McIlhenny and Miss Cornelia Lyons Wailes of Salisbury, Md., orchid. They carried colonial bouquets of fall flowers. The flower girls, Carlotta Ann Page, Barbara Close Yoke and Elizabeth Biers, were peach crepe and carried pendant bouquets of sweetheart roses. Frederic J. Close, brother of the bride, was best man, and the ushers included Clarence William Close, Jr., Dwight Sayler, Edward Kerr, William Breese, Silas Page, James Burns McClements, Jr., Harry B. Righetti, of this city, Philip Stauffer of New York and Leslie S. Howell of Haverford. A reception and dinner followed the ceremony with covers laid for 30 at the bridal table, which was centered with a fountain surrounded with dahlias and fuchsia. Mr. and Mrs. Page have left for a trip to Bermuda and will be at home in Detroit after November 1.

POLING SPEAKS AT REVIVAL

Taking up the evangelistic theme where the Rev. Dr. George W. Shelton left off Sunday night, the Rev. Charles S. Poling, associate pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, last night addressed another large audience in the revival tent in West Park, North Side.

Mr. Poling carried Dr. Shelton's message of Christianity further and pointed out the three great essentials necessary for a person to become a true Christian. He said a person considering conversion should first give up all sin, confess Christ and then proceed in faith. About 20 people requested prayers be said for them at last night's service.

A large choir, under direction of the Rev. A. L. Carter, of Springfield, Mo., sang, and Mr. Carter offered several solos.

CALL OFF BABY SHOW AT BEAVER COUNTY FAIR

The answer was included in a resolution adopted last Friday and forwarded to Frederick Marshall, secretary of the governmental affairs division of the chamber, yesterday.

DAZZLING TEETH

Get Pepsodent—Works Wonders by Clearing Film Coat from Teeth

TEETH seldom are naturally "off color." Most often they're merely coated with a film that forms on teeth and absorbs discolorations from food, smoking, etc. By clearing it off, one's whole appearance may be changed.

Old-type dentifrices failed to remove that film successfully. That's why brushing has failed you. Now leading dentists urge a new-type film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent, for this purpose.

Results are quick and surprising. Film coats go. Teeth whiten; sparkle like jewels. Bacteria that thrive in film are combated; tooth decay, gum troubles and pyorrhea thus scientifically fought.

To prove those results, accept 10-day tube free. Or get full-size tube for few cents at your druggist. Do this in fairness to yourself.

Murdered sleep

SLEEP that brings no rest to ease and strengthen. Empty sleep—that drives tense nerves and aching muscles back to weary bodies! No wonder people crack and break when precious sleep is murdered . . . the pity is they so seldom realize the trouble.

What a tragedy, indeed, that so few realize the dreadful suffering constipation causes! How many sleepless nights and lifeless days could be remedied if they but knew!

Constipation ruins health and wrecks beauty. It saps strength and destroys energy. It sickens the body and causes disease after disease. And it could all be so easily relieved—so surely prevented! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation safely, promptly. To prevent it ever getting its hold!

Why part-bran products fail!

ALL-BRAN has "bulk." This bulk absorbs moisture and carries it throughout the digestive system. And it gently distends the intestines — purifying, removing poisonous wastes. In a part-bran product the quantity of bulk is so small that there is seldom enough to do this work. That is why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN—because it is 100% bran and performs a 100% work!

No need for habit-forming pills!

How different from dangerous pills and drugs—which become useless unless the dose is constantly increased, and sometimes cause actual injury! ALL-BRAN is delicious with milk or cream—and add fruit or honey for an extra treat. Let it soak a few moments in the milk to bring out all its nut-like flavor.

Serve it with other cereals. In soups. Try the recipes on every package. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily — in chronic cases, with every meal.

Don't accept a part-bran substitute. At best it can be but partially effective. Insist on genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants —on diners. Made by the Kellogg Company in Battle Creek, Mich. Write for free "Treatise on Constipation."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

PITTSBURGHER FINDS SPAR OF PERRY WARSHIP

1812 Relic Dug Up Near H. F. Mercer Cottage

PERRY, O., Sept. 13.—(AP)—A relic of a United States battleship believed to have been at one time a prond part of Commodore Perry's fleet which helped clear the great lakes of British frigates over a century ago, has been unearthed here.

It is a 14-foot wooden spar, beating an inscription Perry 1812. It was dug from a sandy bed along the shore of Lake Erie late last Saturday by Pittsburgh and Cleveland business men.

L. A. Wells, Cleveland contractor, engineer, noticed an end of the spar protruding through the sand near the summer home of H. Fred Mercer, Pittsburgh lawyer. With the aid of J. S. Van Epps, Cleveland coal broker, they brought the spar to light from its bed where it evidently had rested for many long years.

Perry is in the northeast corner of Erie, the natural outlet to the Erie Lake and although Commodore Perry's famous "battle of Lake Erie" was fought and won against the British at Put-in-Bay, on the western end of the lake, wasteward drift from lake boats pile up along the beaches here from all parts of Lake Erie.

M'KEES ROCKS PAVING O. K.'D AFTER 30 YEARS

13 Cats, 2 Dogs, Too Many Pets For Apartment

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Thirteen cats and two dogs which Gertrude Wagner, a 23-year-old miss, insisted upon keeping in her three-room apartment, brought a howl from neighbors. When the girl refused to part with her pets she was arrested, charged with violating the sanitary code.

PITTSBURGHER NABBED FOR DELIVERING BOOZE

WASHINGTON, Pa., Sept. 13.—Joseph Ostrofsky, of Pittsburgh, was arrested at Lincoln Hill, near here, while, it is said, he was delivering an automobile load of liquor to the home of Joseph Milk. Both were arrested and Ostrofsky's machine was confiscated. They were held under bond for a hearing next Monday before Alderman John P. Carmichael, of Washington.

RHEUMATISM

may be relieved by rational treatment— it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs . . . . then finally decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best." Earl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tennessee.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

From youth to later years S.S.S. is a proven tonic—give it and take it when a tonic is indicated.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

ALLEGED MOTHER SLAYER PLANS DEFENSE

Visit to Grave Fails To Change Story

OTTAWA, Ill., Sept. 13.—(AP.)—Plans for the defense of Harry Hill, Streator youth accused of matricide, went forward today after Lasalle county officials had failed in their first efforts to obtain a confession from young Hill by a grilling at the scene of the crime.

The prosecution will play no more cards until the grand jury meets October 10, State's Attorney Russell O. Hansen said. Hansen is busy with the trial here of Ray Zarnski, accused of killing his uncle.

Hill's story was unshaken when he was taken to the basement of the Hill home at Streator early yesterday and questioned for more than an hour. Standing over the shallow basement grave in which his mother's body had been found, Hill denied with considerable heat the charge he had slain her, and told the state's attorney that continued questioning was "a waste of time."

The long conference of defense attorneys yesterday is believed to have dealt with the possibility of obtaining a writ of habeas corpus for young Hill.

COMPANY DENIES MINERS QUIT

Denying a statement of Philip Murray, vice president of the United Mine Workers, that 174 of the 259 miners employed at Montour No. 1 quit their jobs yesterday, officials of the Pittsburgh Coal Company declared that power trouble interfered with the operation of the mine. Saturday was pay day, it was pointed out by company officials, and there was the usual Monday lay-off among the miners.

The power trouble, according to officials, developed about the time the men were due to enter the mine and they did not want to wait around until repairs were made. The miners are scheduled to return to work after power has been restored this afternoon.

Officials denied that there was any trouble with coal and iron police or that any extensive number of miners quit their jobs.

ASKS DRY SUIT BE DROPPED

Mrs. Regina R. Butler, 203 Halket street, wife of Patrick B. Butler, proprietor of the Stadium Cafe, 3604 Fifth avenue, who is serving a one-year term in the county jail for contempt of court, filed a petition in the Federal District Court, asking for dismissal of the charges against her in the injunction proceeding charging violations of the prohibition law at the cafe. Medart Trabert, owner of the saloon and restaurant at 3619 Fifth avenue, filed a petition asking for the dismissal of the complaint charging him with violating the prohibition law.

BEECHWOOD BOULEVARD WOMAN ASKS DIVORCE

Mrs. Jessie Roy, of 264 Beechwood boulevard, today filed suit for divorce against her husband, Charles H. Roy, whose last known address was in the Young Men's Christian Association, New Haven, Conn. She charges desertion.

GRAY WARNS AGAINST INDIFFERENT VOTING

"A small vote, especially in so-called independent wards, leads to minority government by well organized factional groups," Judge James M. Gray declared at a meeting in Oakmont today. "A small group of politicians are attempting to force through the primary a block of nine judicial candidates to promote their own political fortunes. The remedy for this dangerous attempt to dominate the Common Pleas Court is a large registration and vote."

EVER know you had headlights, like an automobile? They are kept bright by your human battery—health! When they get dim, you can't think or see as far ahead. Dizzy spells, headaches, stomach disorders and other troubles dim your lights (eyesight) and the secret may be oncoming System Poisoning—professionally called "TOXEMIA". When this insidious disorder invades your blood and body, Diz-aster (disaster) is on follows! You become weak, dull, grouchy and lack ambition. You should take Partola, the internal antiseptic and laxative, because ordinary laxative pills and waters do not clean out the dangerous bacteria that dim your lights and cause System Poisoning (TOXEMIA). Start taking Partola, then see your vision and power of endurance increase, health improve, ambition return. Partola is often called "The Doctor in Candy Form", it's so pleasant to chew and swallow. It ends constipation and every family should keep a box handy. All good druggists sell regular box of Partola 30c, double size 50c.

Shopping for Beauty

I went to the ball game the other day. The boss had two tickets and at the last minute he had to attend a conference—So I fell heir to the tickets and the balance of the day off. Believe me, he's some boss! I called Marjory L., and she managed to get away, so we hied ourselves out to the Ball park.

It was a good game, too. We had splendid seats and I was certainly all settled to enjoy life when!—some player made a good play, and a young fellow sitting back of me got excited and threw something!

Something Is Good!

It must have been a potato grater from the way it felt, as it scraped across my cheek and neck!!!!!!! I screamed and screamed, but no one seemed to hear me. So I got out the old reliable mirror and "DECISIONS OF PARIS"—I was a sight! Tiny scratches such as a kitten might make, ran sort of cross stitch fashion over the injured surface! Finally Marjory stopped hurling threats at the umpire, who was inclined to question the player who had caused all of this excitement and turning to me, shouted, "Wasn't that a cheeky piece of business? CHEEKY—is right! said I, "take a look at mine!"

"Glory be! You look like a cross word puzzle pattern!" gasped dear Marjory, "and OH MY, tomorrow night is the party! What on earth will you do? "Borrow the umpire's mask," I snapped, "and head for the Adoria Beauty Salon, first thing in the morning." I didn't get the mask, but I did get a scientific facial—

And Such an Exquisite Treatment!

A lovely quiet booth, a dainty operator who by her very courteous and efficient manner made me know that I was being treated by one who knew thoroughly just what to do and how to do it. Soothing creams and fragrant lotions. Stimulants that tingled and woke up the lazy pores. And then a skillfully applied make-up—when she was finished I looked at myself in the mirror. Not a trace of my tiny scratches!

I Was the Sensation of the Evening—for dear Marjory had broadcasted the story of my accident and it had lost nothing in the telling. But when I walked in not a trace could be seen of the patch work! Aren't I smart?

Egotistically,

Doris

FASHION'S NEWEST COATS FOR WOMEN AND MISSES

Furs make the coats this season—cuffs are larger — collars are deeper.

Suede fabrics—in soft dull weaves are highly favored. They are shown under several different names.

Colors give way to black as in so many other seasons, but there are many new shades for your choosing.

The three coats illustrated are representative of one of the largest assortments we have ever shown.

(Women's and Misses' Coat Shops—Fourth Floor)

Autumn Millinery Arrives Daily $10

Daily new assortments replenish the soleil felts, the velours and the velvets that have found such great favor this season. In the Adoria, the Debutante and the Inexpensive Salons are hats—many reproductions of Parisian styles—that are distinctive—new—desirable for Fall.

Sally Heads Davidson Off When He Seeks Position In John Nye's Office

What Has Gone Before

SALLY JEROME, pretty and clever, is the prop and mainstay of her family which consists of MRS. JEROME, the twins, BEAU and MILLIE, and Sally herself. Mrs. Jerome enjoys poor health so Sally does the housework mornings and office work for grouchy MR. PEEVEY afternoons. In the flat below the Jeromes lives young TED SLOAN, an automobile salesman who wants Sally to marry him and keep on working. But the only man who interests her is JOHN NYE, whose real estate office is across the hall from Mr. Peevey's. Nye hires Millie as his secretary and becomes blindly infatuated with her, making her expensive presents, lending her his car, etc. But Millie confesses that while she likes Nye, and that she more than likes his money and position, she really prefers DAVY DAVIDSON, a salesman whom she knew in a former place of business. She says she intends to get Davidson a position in Nye's office. Millie goes to the hospital for an appendicitis operation. During her illness Sally does as much of her work as she can in an effort to partly earn her salary. One Saturday noon John Nye gives her an additional check for herself and she tears it up and rushes away from the office in tears, feeling humiliated, somehow, because he knows how much she needs money.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

BUT it was easy to forget that Millie was older, and therefore much wiser than she, supposedly, Sally told herself as she walked down the quiet, white corridors of the hospital. At times Millie acted as if she were still in her mud-pie and pinafore days.

"I'd give a lot to know what she wants to see Davidson for," she thought, riding home between her mother and Ted, all three of them silent and subdued. Millie, on one of her bad days, was enough to subdue anybody.

"Beau and Mabel seem to have a pretty good time together, don't they?" Ted asked thoughtfully when he and Sally were alone that night.

They were sitting on the back steps, side by side, looking at the row of small houses and apartment buildings in the next street. Some of the windows were lighted up and through them they could see women moving to and fro as they got supper. Delicious odors floated up to them—boiling coffee, potatoes frying, and once the rich smell of toasting cheese.

"Pretty nice—having a little home of your own. Just two people," Ted said quietly, reaching out in the darkness for Sally's small work-hardened hand. "What more could two people want than a home of their own, and a little car, and each other?"

"They could want—love," Sally answered him stonily, and she jumped up and marched straight into the house.

"Good night," she called, and he heard the door shut.

He shook his head. . . . He couldn't make her out. Just when he thought she was beginning to warm up to him she became cold and distant. She put the whole world between them with the closing of a door and a single word, "Good night."

He got up and went slowly down the stairs to his own door.

On Monday morning, bright and early, Sally was in John Nye's private office, putting it into order for the day.

She loved working in it—touching the glass and silver ink-stand, laying the pencils and pens straight in the glass tray, slipping a new blotter in the blotting pad, shaking out the leather seat-cushion.

Just as she finished with the room and was starting to leave it a sharp knock came on the door.

She opened it to find Davy Davidson standing in the outer office, his brown felt hat in his hands.

He was all in brown, and for the first time she realized that he really was extraordinary handsome in a loud way.

"Mr. Nye here?" he asked, trying to look beyond her into the private office.

Sally shook her head. "Not yet, but I'm expecting him," she said, her face flushing a little under the deep, searching look he turned on her.

"You working for him now?" he wanted to know.

Sally nodded. "Helping out, while Millie's sick. By the way, Millie wants you to go to see her at the hospital. She's awfully blue and lonesome, lying there, day after day."

He said nothing to that. "Well, I thought Nye might be here, and I took a chance, dropping in without an appointment this way," he remarked in an off-hand way and turned to go.

But Sally stopped him.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

"YOU'RE here looking for a job, aren't you, Mr. Davidson?" Sally asked bluntly, still holding him by the lapel of his new brown coat. "And I don't want you to do it!"

Davy Davidson stared at her, dumb with surprise. He could not make her out.

Here was a girl who was altogether new in his experience of girls who worked in offices—a girl who was not only as smart as a whip, but pretty, too!—as pretty as a flower and as young as April. Only he did not put it to himself in just those words. Dr. Davidson was no poet.

Until he met Sally he had been able to put all the girls he knew into two classes—those who were

COMMISSIONERS 'OUTLAWS,' —M'GOVERN

Branding the county commissioners as "outlaws" in the expending of public money and accusing them of making "a circus of the public" by buying and equipping menageries in county north and south public parks with money that could build new and needed roads, County Controller C. C. McGovern today denied before a committee from the Federated Communities of Southeastern Allegheny County that he was holding up the improvement of the Library road extension from Nobles lane to the Liberty tubes.

McGovern further denied that he ever held up the sale of people's bonds, but rather had urged it. He read sections of a letter which he sent to the commissioners last June, urging them to sell the people's bonds they had authorized at that time.

The committee, headed by William E. Armstrong, president of the Federated Communities, gave McGovern a vote of confidence and promised to bring the matter to the attention of other members tomorrow night. The other members of the committee: John Swem, John J. McGrath and William Ward.

JENSEN SEND-OFF TO "PRIDE OF PITTSBURGH"

Tunney's English Too Good, Rogers Suspects Fight

BURBANK, Cal., Sept. 13.—Tunney and Dempsey training on golf will draw over $3,000,000. If they can ever get Bobby Jones to fight Walter Hagen it ought to draw $6,000,000. There is a lot of suspicion of this fight—that is on account of Tunney speaking perfect English. Any time an American speaks perfect English, he is under suspicion. We know he is covering up something.

JURY FREES AUTOIST: MUST PAY COSTS

Benjamin Irvin, Negro, of Mulberry way, was acquitted of involuntary manslaughter by a jury in Criminal Court before Judge Harry H. Rowand today, but was ordered to pay the costs. He was accused in connection with the death of Robert Lewis, 6, of 2562 Wadsworth street, who suffered a fractured skull when struck by the defendant's automobile at Center avenue and Overhill street January 30. Witnesses testified Irvin was speeding and he testified that the boy ran in front of the car.

YOUTH FINED $5 FOR STEALING PURSE

Stephen Wasielewnski, 20, of 855 Sawmill way, accused of stealing a purse containing $9 from a desk while delivering ice in the Wabash Building, was fined $5 today by Magistrate A. D. Brandon in Morals Court. The theft occurred yesterday in offices of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railroad. The youth, accused by Mrs. Fannie Briggs, of 23 Violet way, West End, admitted taking the purse.

"Pride of Pittsburgh" Here Saturday

By WALTER CHAMBERS,
Secretary Langley-Bearon Association, Who Is Flying in the Ryan Monoplane the Pride of Pittsburgh, from San Diego, Cal., to This City.

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 13.—The Pride of Pittsburgh brought us soaring across the last of the great American desert at dusk last night, and while her whirlwind motor purred exultantly, J. Warren Smith and I landed amidst the applause of 10,000 Dallas aviation enthusiasts.

The new Ryan monoplane which is en route to its home at Mayer Field, Bridgeville, made the 1,400 miles from San Diego to Dallas in slightly more than 12 hours flying time. We spent Sunday night in Pecos, Tex., a veritable oasis in a wind-swept sea of sand and mountain wastes. Darkness found us there with the 450 miles to Dallas too forlorn a project for night flying. Yesterday we took it easy, starting out after a late breakfast and lunching casually in Abilene.

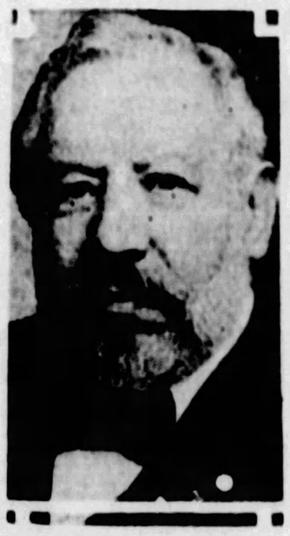
Everywhere we have landed hundreds of automobiles flocked to the field immediately, wanting to know if it was Lindbergh. That intrepid flier made his jaunt to Paris in a plane almost exact in duplicate to the Pride of Pittsburgh, the only difference being a different arrangement of the cabin for the accommodation of his fuel tanks.

Before making the next long hop to Mayer Field, where we expect to land shortly after noon Saturday, Wright motor experts here will thoroughly inspect the motor which drones on infinitely calm and soothing. As we flew along the trackless terrace of the desert we knew something of the feeling Lindbergh must have experienced in crossing the Atlantic. Once, as we looked down into a gorge 1,000 feet deep a screw came loose from the window framing and as it tinkled against the metal of the motor housing we lived 1,000 years in fear that the motor had failed. But it hadn't, and now it appears that it never will.

The Pride of Pittsburgh, the name selected for Pittsburgh's first cabin monoplane by C. P. Mayer of Bridgeville, is no misnomer. Anybody would be proud of this graceful silver bird that rises with the speed and grace of an eagle and flies on as though forever.

We'll be there Saturday.

Birthday at Sea



JOHN DIMLING

Beginning with a band serenade at daybreak, an all-day birthday party was held yesterday on the New York bound steamship Westphalia for John Dimling of Pittsburgh. Mr. Dimling, who is aged 55, is returning from a tour of Northern Europe. The Westphalia touched Boston yesterday and will dock in New York today.

WESTON, W. Va., Sept. 13.—An unusual newspaper is promised this town by J. P. Cole, local resident. It will have two columns and will be called "Lincoln Honor." One column, Mr. Cole says, will set forth the honorable acts of the people of the community, while the other will list the dishonorable acts as he sees them. All office holders from congressman to dogcatcher will receive attention, he says.

Theory Vanished Girl Eloped Is Dropped

The theory that Miss Ella Eicher, 18, McKeesport Technical High School girl, who mysteriously disappeared a week ago, eloped with another student, who vanished at the same time, has been dropped and the fact established that the missing boy departed alone.

Searchers for Miss Eicher say they are completely baffled. Mrs. Matthew Eicher, of 2009 Atkinson avenue, McKeesport, an aunt with whom the Eicher girl lived, declares she believes some older woman with a sinister motive lured her niece away from home and school.

A railroad conductor told seekers of Miss Eicher he was positive that Arthur Ripple, 15, of Long Run road, Versailles township, the missing boy, rode on his train alone to Washington, D. C.

Miss Eicher, who disappeared from a classroom, was last seen the same day in Smithfield street here.

Pittsburghers on Liner Seeking Old Glory

Alternately clinging to her mother's hand or excitedly working her way through the press of passengers that lined the rail, little Myrtle McAteer, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McAteer, of 5301 Hillcrest street, was as eager in the search for the missing transatlantic plane, Old Glory, as anyone aboard the Transylvania, it was revealed here today upon the arrival of the family from a visit to relatives in Ireland.

Mrs. McAteer and Myrtle boarded the Transylvania at Derry, North Ireland. When Mrs. McAteer arose on the morning that the SOS signal of Old Glory was sent out, she found that the rumor of the intended search by the liner had spread like wildfire through the ship. With her daughter, she went on deck to find the rail already lined with passengers, eagerly scanning the horizon for traces of the missing plane.

"The waves were from six to ten feet high," Mrs. McAteer said today. "And it was the consensus of opinion that nothing could live in them for long."

Dorothy Dix Says:

Every Woman Wants to Know What Kind Men Like Best, But There Is No Answer

DOROTHY DIX

A LICE sought to learn the way to what part of a town lies the Looking Glass House. The Cheshire Cat replied that it depended largely upon what sort of people she wished to find.

Every woman who has had to make her own way in the world has had to make that same reply to herself when she has asked herself what kind of man she wanted to marry.

Is she looking for a man who will be a good provider, or for a man who will be a companion? Is she looking for a man who will be a lover, or for a man who will be a father? Is she looking for a man who will be a hero, or for a man who will be a good sport?

And the reason history can tell you which type of woman men like best is because it is a matter of the individual taste of the particular man. There is no set of standards by which a girl can be judged as there is for Pomeranian pups. Each man is his own arbiter of what he likes in a woman and the very quality that makes a girl a rave with one man makes her a flop with another.

SOME men like tall girls, others like them short; some men like brunettes, others like beautiful but dumb; some men like living statuary, others prefer little dumplings; some men like them gay and lively and full of pep, others the demure, shrinking violet type; some men like the girls who chase them down, others want to do the running themselves and drag a bride to the altar by the hair of her head.

So don't delude yourself into thinking there is any one particular kind of girl that is a sure fire hit with men, or that there is any particular line of synthetic charms that you can acquire which will compel the admiration of men and insure your getting a good husband in the end with whom you will live happily ever after, as the fortune tellers say.

There ain't. And you can't. There is no use taking thought of your calories, because the very man you have your eye on may be a ringing wine or a good sport.

And the reason history can tell you which type of woman men like best is because it is a matter of the individual taste of the particular man. There is no set of standards by which a girl can be judged as there is for Pomeranian pups. Each man is his own arbiter of what he likes in a woman and the very quality that makes a girl a rave with one man makes her a flop with another.

There ain't. And you can't. There is no use taking thought of your calories, because the very man you have your eye on may prefer a good armful to a pack of bones. Nor is there any use in trying to psychoanalyze a married man by pretending that you prefer brains to beauty or that you are indifferent to the money of your admirer to a man best seller. For lots of the girls who have married men who have written best sellers have had to support them while they were writing them.

The fact is, Lulu, that as the champion kicker who gets her self killed in the first act and whose only conversational line is "Save me, save me!" is the most important, wonderful mute in the world.

SO DEAR DAUGHTERS you had as well be yourselves, for you are made you. You are quite as likely to strike a chord of admiration in the masculine heart that way as if you tried to make yourself over to please the uncertain and unknown masculine fancy. For Providence in its mercy made many men of many minds and each man has a different mind about what he likes in a woman.

But I have observed one thing and that is this. That men prefer no cheats in women. They like a girl to be sweet, but not too much so, if you get what I mean. The average man likes his eggs medium done for breakfast and his roast beef medium rare for dinner, and he wants medium charms and gifts in his womankind.

He prefers the pretty girl to the beauty. He wants a woman to be easy on the eyes, but not so entrancingly lovely that she will knock them out. He likes to take out a girl who is attractive enough to make other men envy him, but he doesn't want one who is such a stunner that every other man will be trying to take her away from him.

Besides, there is nothing comfortable and homelike about a beauty. You couldn't invite Venus into the kitchen. You wouldn't have the nerve to ask a girl to fry out a perfect complexion over a gas range or to ruin a pair of lily-white hands washing dishes. You couldn't hang a living picture on the walls of a kitchenette-apartment, and so men turn from the beauty to the merely good-looker, who is more in accordance with the station of life in which it has pleased luck to call them.

SAME way about brains. If I had a daughter, I should pray Heaven to make her neither a Dumb Dora nor a high-honor college graduate, but to bestow upon her just a good, moderate, serviceable amount of gray matter that would enable her to understand what men were talking about without ever being tempted to make any wise cracks herself.

In that way I should assure her of not only being able to marry well, but always to keep her husband. For there are no women that men like so well as the women who are neither dull nor brilliant, the women who have sense enough to run their own affairs efficiently, to be entertaining companions, but do not outshine them or usurp the seat of the oracle in the family.

Ditto about sports. Any girl who wants to be popular and have dates in these days must know how to dance, how to drive a car, how to play a good game of golf and tennis and bridge; but woe to her if she passes the stage of mediocrity and becomes so proficient that the men run a bad second to her. No man's liking survives having a woman beat him.

MEN like girls who strike the happy medium in their conduct. They like the girl who can hold her end of a conversation and who doesn't make them toil as if they were stoking a furnace to keep the conversation going. But the girl who babbles bores them to tears. They like the girl who is jolly and who laughs easily, but they loathe the one who giggles incessantly.

They like the girl who is vivacious and full of pep, but there is no girl who makes them so tired as the one who is so anxious to be thought vivacious that she is always hopping around like a monkey on a stick. They like the girl who is friendly and appreciative and who shows that she enjoys their society and attention but they pass up the girl who tries to monopolize them and who insists on doing things that irk them or who is unwilling to know why they don't want to see her.

Even in what girls call "being modern" men draw the line for moderation far before the girls do. Girls think that the way to please men nowadays is to throw into discard all modesty, all reticence, and to do things and say things that would make their grandmothers turn in their graves.

And that's where they make a mistake, for it is not the wild women nor the hard-boiled girls that men want for wives or that they admire most. It's the girls who, without being prudes, have kept their purity, who are sophisticated yet sweet and who make men respect them because they respect their own womanhood.

So, my dear little schoolgirls, I would just play moderation in all things to win. It is always a woman's one best bet.

For the Lovelorn

By ELEANOR GALE

Working Willie

DEAR Miss Gale:

I have had two worries for the past while back, the first was about the outcome of the Dempsey-Sharkey battle, but having heard the blow-for-blow account of the fight, that has settled it. Now the second is for you to settle. Here it is: For four years I have been going out with girls, but strange to say I fall for the young ones 9 out of 10 times. It occurs that I called on a girl of my own age that I could possibly love. By the way, Miss Gale, my age is 20. One Sunday evening while visiting I met what I thought was a very nice girl. I dated her for the following Sunday evening, which was certainly an enjoyable one, so I dated her again and this night while we were sitting on the veranda the "bait maiden" began talking about what we were going to do after we were married. Really, Miss Gale, she had me frightened. She was only 16 years old then, so we have never been together since. Please tell me how and suggest where I can meet a good girl of my own age. Thanking you in advance, I remain, wishing you success, "WORKING WILLIE."

The girl was probably joking. There are so many places where you can find interesting girls your own age that I could not possibly enumerate them. Don't you go to dances and parties and meet girls? Or you could find them among the young people at church.

BABCOCK CALLS M'GOVERN WRECKER

After being the target for several weeks, Commissioner E. V. Babcock turned the tables on Controller C. C. McGovern in one of the hottest speeches of the political campaign last night in the Oregola School, Eighth Ward.

"While from every part of the county there have come urgent demands that we proceed with badly needed improvements, the Controller has employed every means within his power to wreck our office and wreck the people's improvement program," said Babcock. "I tell you he does not care who or what he wrecks, so long as he sees some political benefit to himself in doing it."

Babcock predicted that, before the election, McGovern will try "another political trick" to what he described as a "desperate effort to help his campaign."

"This man," said Babcock, "will traduce the character and reputation of anyone who stands in his road in his mad desire to hold on to office. I would not be in the least surprised if on Thursday or Friday he will try to put us in jail. I need not say that we are not worried."

Referring to the audit and the surcharges featured by McGovern as "political bunk," Babcock pointed to the fact that the Commissioners have invited the Chamber of Commerce to make any investigation of the county's financial condition it sees fit and to certify the result, whatever it should be, to the public. The speaker also said if anyone is surcharged the Controller would have to surcharge himself, as no money can be spent unless he countersigns the warrants.

Attorney Charles Johnson declared that McGovern was placed in office by Gifford Pinchot "to interfere, to disturb and to harass the Commissioners."

The following Republican organization meeting are scheduled for tonight: Y. W. C. A. Hall, Wilkinsburg, Mrs. Margaret Weaver, chairman; Eastern Star Temple, Seventh Ward, Alderman Charles A. Burke, chairman; Barkers Hall, Fifteenth Ward, P. W. Adams, chairman; Maennerchor Hall, Nineteenth Ward, S. J. Reno, chairman; McNaugher School, Twenty-sixth Ward, Magistrate Edward M. Hough, chairman; Westwood School, Twenty-eighth Ward, C. E. Schmunk, chairman; Rankin High School, I. Elmer Ecker, chairman.

Racial and religious prejudices have no place in politics, Thomas J. McGivern, Democratic candidate for Controller, said at a meeting in Sharpsburg High School last night, at which Burgess Walter P. Berner presided. Another Democratic rally was held in Third Ward School, Etna, with John P. Glannon as chairman.

Elimination of trials by jury in misdemeanor cases, when the defendants are willing, was suggested by Frank P. Canuti, independent candidate for the Common Pleas bench, in his talks at several meetings yesterday. He said that such procedure would mean not only swifter justice, but would save the commonwealth considerable money.

"Some county officials are so well to do that they wouldn't take anything for personal gain, but in their greed for public honor and glory would let the other fellows steal the Courthouse steps."

In those words Controller C. C. McGovern continued his attack upon the organization at a meeting last night in Vorwaerts Hall, Tenth Ward, held under the auspices of the Donahoe faction there, which is at loggerheads with the city administration.

"It's a sin if McGovern doesn't win by a large majority," said P. J. Donahoe, who presided. "No political boss will ever send any orders out to this ward after this election. They'll be around asking what they can do for us. What right has Mayor Kline to come out here and tell a free people what to do?"

Other speakers were Alderman William Scott, being supported by Donahoe for another term; Judges Richard W. Martin, James H. Gray and Frank I. Gollmar and Frank P. Patterson, independent judicial candidates.

The actual casualties are believed to have been small.

Sally's Shoulders

ENGROSSING DIFFERENT LIVELY DRAMATIC

By BEATRICE BURTON

Sally Heads Davidson Off When He Seeks Position In John Nye's Office

clever and homely, and those who were beautiful and dumb.

But Sally fell into no class. "She has everything," Mr. Davidson said to himself slangily. "Looks and brains and pep."

He pulled himself together and asked aloud just why Sally did not want him to work for the "John Nye Real Estate Company."

It did not take Sally long to tell him why.

"It wouldn't do," she said with decision. "You and Millie have been friends for so long that you just couldn't work together. You'd be sitting around talking to each other all day instead of working. And Millie and Mr. Nye are doing so well that I hate to think of anything spoiling things here."

Davidson stared at her, his brows knotted in a frown.

"I don't get you," he told her after a minute. "But it's perfectly clear to me that you didn't want me here for some good reason of your own. So that's out."

He laughed, showing very nice white teeth in a good-natured grin.

"I guess I can still struggle along selling bonds," he said cheerfully. "Just Millie asked him to come up to me, and made me promise to come up here and talk it over with Nye."

"That sounds as if Millie has been seeing him lately," thought Sally. "What's she been pretending to be all wrapped up in John Nye." That certainly was not what Ted Olson would have called "square shooting."

Then, once more, her promise to Millie flashed into her mind.

"You won't forget to see Millie in the hospital, will you," she asked, holding out her little hardened hand in farewell. "Mother drops in every day at 4 o'clock. Why don't you go then?"

He seemed to be thinking it over, still holding her hand in his well-cared-for one.

"Well, perhaps I will," he was beginning, and then his face brightened and sharpened. "I'll tell you—we'll make a deal. I'll go to the hospital at 4 o'clock if you'll come at 6 and let me drive you home."

"All right. I think Mr. Dewey will let me leave early, for once," replied the girl. "I'll be there at 5. They like you to go then, because it's time for the patients to have their supper-trays and get settled down for the night."

"Five, then." And he was gone, triumphant and pleased with himself in his new brown fall suit, swinging his hat and his cherry-wood cane.

Sally went back into the office to give it one last look to see that everything was as it should be.

The smooth sunlit surfaces of glass and brown mahogany seemed to smile up at her in a friendly way. She smoothed her hand across the top of John Nye's desk. She loved to touch it, because his lean, narrow tanned hands had lain upon it.

The door opened and he came in. Before the door had closed behind him Sally's heart was leaping, thudding against her ribs as it always did when she first saw him, at the beginning of the day.

"Good morning. How are you today?" he asked, looking straight at her and then at his desk.

Anyone but a blind man could have seen that the work Sally had put upon straightening of that desk and all the drawers of it, was a labor of love. Love that does all things with a little touch of magic.

But John Nye was in love with Millie, and they say that love is blind. So he simply dropped down in his chair and picked up his neatly opened letters. He reached for one of the pencils that she had sharpened so beautifully and began to tap his teeth with it thoughtfully as he went over his mail.

His day began.

In the outer office at her little desk sat Sally staring out of the window at the blue sky and the white smoke-spirals that curled across it and for once she was rebellious. Rebellious Sally, whose watchword in life was, "I serve."

"I might be the dictograph, for all the notice he takes of me," she said to herself grimly, and then all at once she mentally rapped herself to order.

"Here! What am I thinking about? I didn't come here to make him notice me. I came to do Millie's work until she is able to come back here to this man who loves her."

She told it to herself as bluntly as that, and all morning she worked harder than as if she had been doing piece-work in a factory instead of elegantly typing letters in a luxurious office.

At five minutes after 5 she ran up the steps of the hospital.

"Your sister has a visitor," the little nurse in charge of the second floor told her when she came softly down the long, white corridor.

"I know," answered Sally. She could hear the low murmur of Davy Davidson's voice as she pushed open the swinging door of Millie's room.

The sweet smell of John Nye's roses filled the air in it. And, pink as any of them, sat Millie, all wrapped up in her pink bathrobe. She had combed out her long yellow hair and it lay like a veil of gold around her shoulders. Her eyebrows and lashes had been darkened, and her mouth painted, and she was laughing and bright-eyed. She looked more like herself than she had in a week.

"Mother's just left," she greeted Sally. "If you hurry you can catch her. Be sure to come tomorrow."

It was very clear that she wanted to be alone with Davidson.

But Sally did not take the broad hint that she gave her. Instead she came on into the room and sat down on the wide window sill.

There was dead silence for a minute.

Then Millie spoke again.

"Would you take that thermos jug on the dresser out into the hall and get it filled for me, Sally?" she asked sharply. "The nurse is out there, probably gossiping with some of her cronies. That's all they do all day, it seems to me."

Sally picked up the thermos bottle. It was heavy and she could tell that it was quite full. But she dutifully carried it out into the hall, stood there with it in her hands for five minutes, and then carried it back into the room.

Millie and Davidson were talking in low tones, their heads close together. But they sprang apart when she pushed open the door.

Davidson got up from his low chair beside Millie's bed.

"Well, it's time for us to be going, isn't it, Sally?" he asked, and Sally saw the questioning look that came into Millie's face.

"What's this you're doing? Riding around with him when you know he belongs to me!" that look said as plainly as a telegraphic message.

For the first time her light-blue eyes that were full of sparkling anger, seemed to see Sally as she was. As she looked to the world of men. . . . Fresh and pretty and wholly desirable.

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

Merely Margy, An Awfully Sweet Girl

Story by Lloyd Mayer — By John Held, Jr.

"My dear, Arab and NOisy are all not and BOTHered about this flashy HOUSE party I have been inVIted to at the McTAVish's, because I mean it's going to be a SIMply spienDIF'rous BRAWL and they are simply MAD to be IN on it because, I mean, they are TERrified that I will acQUIRE a new BEAU or something if they are not along to preVENT it—can you BEAR it, my dear? Well, ANYways, I am sort of HOLDing the sword of DeMOSthenes over their HEAD or something at this point because, my dear, in this inviTAtion I got from Mrs. McTAVish she asked me to bring aLONG a couple of attractive MEN. The first chance I GOT I sort of CASurally asked ARab and NOisy to help me THINK of two really attractive MEN I could ASK to this HOUSE party and, my dear, you should have SEEN their EAGer exPRESsions! I mean they ACtualy looked like a couple of suffering FISH gazing FONDly at water, do you know what I mean? Well, ANYways, my dear, they thought, of COURSE, that I was going to ASK them because in THEIR opinion, my dear, they are the WORLD's most atTRACtive MEN—can you BEAR it? But I HONestly couldn't reSIST the tempTAtion to let them DOWN with a dull THUD at this point so I sort of preTENded I was not even conSID'ring THEM at ALL; can you BEAR it, my dear?"

HOW TO KEEP WELL

by Royal S. Copeland M.D.
U.S. Senator from New York

Special Ailments of the Pedagogue

IT HAS been quite a long time since I have sent a message to my friend, the teacher. As you know, I believe in the teacher. Every good citizen should recognize what society owes to the teacher.

DR. COPELAND

The future of our country, the Americanization of our new-comers, and the proper direction of our civilization, are largely in the hands of the public school teachers and the college professors. I know of no calling so tremendously important and vitally essential as the teaching profession.

Behold the teachers, patiently drilling us in the fundamentals of learning, kindling in our minds the fires of ambition and inspiration, directing our footsteps towards the upward and onward roadway, and, no matter how humble or poor she may be herself, unselfishly applauding when riches or brilliant honors are showered upon any of her former pupils!

What about the health of the teacher?

When the pupil is ill, when he has a headache or is physically disinclined to go to school, he stays home. Ordinarily he feels much better a quarter of an hour after the "last bell" has rung. He may have a recurrence of his symptoms just before noon, but he is likely to be entirely well in the early afternoon.

But the poor teacher! It is expected that the teacher will be first in the schoolroom and the last to leave it. No matter what the weather may be, or what exciting thing is going on in the next block, the teacher must be at her desk.

But, dear teacher, guard your health! While you are guiding others and thinking of their welfare, don't forget your own. You have teeth and eyes, a gastro-intestinal tract, skin, muscles, feet and important organs just like everyone else. Your efficiency is decreased and your chance of long life is lessened if you neglect your health.

The special physical ailments of the teacher are headaches, eye-strain, catarrh of the nose and throat, backache, and tired feet. Headaches may come from eye-strain or from the bad air of the schoolroom. The remedies are obvious.

The catarrhal trouble may be the result of bad air, dust and exposure to the drafts of cold halls. A little missionary work with the authorities will correct these.

Have a sensible division of your physical acts. Sit during one period and stand during the next. Alternate your walks about the school with taking your ease in a comfortable chair. Place your desk where the light is good and have a decent chair, if you have to buy it for yourself. Between periods open the windows and join your classes in setting-up and breathing exercises. All these things make for good health.

Your temper, your comfort, the ease with which you do your work, your sleep, and your cheerful good looks and patience depend on careful attention to your health.

Answer to Health Queries

"C."—Q: What do you advise for removing a scar from the upper lip?

A: If the scar is not too deep, X-ray may be helpful. See a skin specialist.

JOHN A.—Q: How can I get rid of warts?

A: This requires special treatment. For particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

G. C. M.—Q: How can psoriasis be cured?

A: In its cure first attention must be given to the digestion. Constipation is an important factor and, even though the bowels move daily, there may be sluggishness. For other information send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

OSCEOLA MILLS.—Q: What do you advise for a woman of 49 years who has a slight touch of diabetes?

A: The treatment for diabetes depends upon the extent of each individual case. The patient should be under the care of physician who will recommend the proper diet and medication.

J. B. E. Q.—Is flowers of sulphur a good blood purifier? I love the taste of sulphur and take it every now and then, but have been told that it is hard on the heart. Can one take too much?

A.—Unless it has been prescribed by your doctor it would be unwise to take it for any purpose whatsoever. Under these conditions it will be given in the right proportion and no harm will result. It is possible to take too much and is unwise to take anything of this nature unless it has been prescribed.

Love's Embers

Absorbing Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife" — By Adele Garrison

Katie Throws a Faint Light on the Mysterious Foreign Family

UNOBTRUSIVELY I fell back at Katie's signal and let the rest of our family party proceed toward the house, Dicky with Junior perched joyfully in his arms and his mother by his side, while Jim brought up the rear with Dicky's luggage. To tell the truth, I was glad of the chance to avoid those first moments of my husband's home-coming under the queer part which was governing our lives just now. I quailed at the task which I saw before me—that of preserving the fiction of loving wifehood before my mother-in-law and my small son, when both Dicky and I knew what coldness and bitterness lay beneath the pretense.

"What is it, Katie?" I asked, when the rest were out of hearing.

She put her finger to her lips with a laughable air of mystery—Katie is nothing if not melodramatic—and drew me into the shelter of the corn house.

"No good nobody knowing about you and me," she said, patently enjoying herself to the utmost.

I made her no answer, knowing full well that she needed none, and in another second her excited familiar query came:

"Missis Graham, vot you think?"

"What about, Katie?" I countered, smiling.

"Dot mans," she rejoined a bit impatiently. "You know something? Dot mans, he say first he French. Den he say he vost American mit Lincoln name. Vot for he lie like dot?"

"Perhaps he wasn't lying, Katie," I said. "You know lots of foreigners who come over here change their names, and, of course, the name Lincoln is the one most Americans love best, so it's very natural for them to change to that name."

"Maybe so, maybe not," Katie sniffed. "But dot don't help heem out of lie ven he say he French. He no French. You know vot he vas? I know right off, soon as I heard dot hur-r- to hees tongue. I lif ofer dere mit dose folks. I know dot kind of peoples myself, but me, I kin speak dot lingo und I al-ways know vot—Dot man he Transvanian! Vot you t'ink of dot?"

She drew back, plainly triumphant, and I felt a sudden quickened interest and curiosity. It was only a short time since the newspapers of the country had been full of the triumphal tour of the royal family of Transylvania across the country. I had no share in any of the festivities proffered them, and it never had occurred to me to waste any time in standing on the curb to watch the various processions go by. But I was feminine enough to be mildly intrigued by Katie's revelation of the presence in the neighborhood of a family belonging to the picturesque race, the doings of whose rulers had so filled our press before their departure for home a few weeks before our coming to the farm.

"Why, that's very interesting, Katie," I said. "Are your sure?"

"Sure!" she drew herself up offendedly. "You tink I don't remember sound of dot gibble-gabble ven I hear eet all time und hate eet ven I lottle keed at home. Sure he Transvanian all right, poor fresh. Funny ting, too, I spik to him in Transvanian, und he know vot I say, all right. I tell him dot I vas only a poor girl from de farm, und he say he vish he had a sister like me. Den I ask him vot he do here, und he say he come to see de country. Den I ask him vot he t'ink of it, und he say he like it fine. Den I ask him vot he t'ink of de ladies, und he say he t'ink dey are fine, too, but not so fine as de ladies in Transvanian. Vot you t'ink of dot?"

I made no answer, but looked at her with my mind in a whirl. Could it be possible that Katie had stumbled upon the secret of the mysterious foreigner who had been the guest of Jim's friend, Ralph Hamilton, during the latter's absence in Europe? Ralph had left his bungalow in charge of Jim, and the latter had asked me to go over there occasionally to see that all was well with the place. I had done so, and had found the foreigner in residence, with a retinue of servants, and apparently in the best of health and spirits.

I had thought it rather odd that Ralph should have left his bungalow in charge of a stranger, but Jim had explained that Ralph had been in a hurry to get away, and had left the matter in his hands. Jim had told me that the foreigner was a friend of Ralph's, and I had thought no more about it.

Now, however, I began to wonder if there was not more behind the matter than I had supposed. Could it be that Ralph had left the bungalow in charge of Jim because he knew that the latter would be able to keep the secret of the presence of the foreigner there?

Katie was looking at me with a curious expression in her eyes.

"Vot you t'ink, Missis Graham?" she asked. "Vot for he lie?"

"I don't know, Katie," I said, looking her straight in the eyes. "I cannot have been here very long. I never saw or heard of a family of Transylvanians around here before."

"Sure I know," retorted Katie grandly. "He und hees vife und hees niece, good-looking, sweet, awful stuck-up girl, dey come two tree day ago, take dot beeg furnished house you know, dot vun mit de little lake und efergreens around eet."

"What, the Larches?" I exclaimed, for the place was one of the prettiest and quaintest in the whole countryside.

"Yep," Katie answered my unspoken comment. "Dot means money und plenty of eet. Dot place furnished stands dem someting ready money, und dey gots' have all dot Tiger boonch help dem mit vork, old mans Tiger, old womans Tiger und dot Jerry Tiger."

From the house came the imperative call of "Mother, where are you, mother? Don't you remember Daddy's come home?" and I realized that I could no longer postpone my ordeal.

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

PROVIDERS OR PETS

THERE are two kinds of husbands—Providers and Pets.

The Good Provider is a fur-buying animal, a cash register, and a producer of bacon, bonds, bungalows and automobiles.

He is useful, but not necessarily decorative. He possesses all of the solid qualities, but few of the lighter graces. He doesn't NEED them!

* * *

The Pet, on the other hand, must know a thousand parlor tricks and respond to the touch, like a bridle-wise pony. He must be able to dance divinely, order a perfect dinner, run any make of car, shake the cocktails, wipe the dishes, take the Pekingese for a walk, and boost his wife's game.

HELEN ROWLAND

He must wear his clothes with dignity and dash, keep his chin shaved and his haberdashery smartly immaculate, jolly the servants, play a good game of bridge, receive his wife's guests with a graceful flourish, and act as a dinner-table decoration.

He should cultivate a taste for poetry and chamber music, practice a perfect "line," and know just when to bring home flowers.

Some men, alas, are neither Providers nor Pets. They are born to be eternal bachelors!

They are too lazy, too inefficient or too selfish to provide for any woman, and they would not WORK for the best woman alive. On the other hand, they have neither the talents nor the graces of a Pet. They are too unwieldly, too clumsy, too phlegmatic or too self-indulgent to waltz around after any woman and play gallant to her vanity and whims.

They are not even good-natured or sweet-tempered, which is the primary requisite of a Pet, but live entirely to satisfy their palates, doze, read the newspapers and smoke pipes or black cigars. They soon lose their figures and acquire a double-chin, a set of habits, and a chronic grouch.

Lastly, there are a few rare men, who are both Good Providers and possessed of all the charms and accomplishments of the Perfect Pet.

But, by some sad trick of fate, these desirable and delightful men always seem to be married to little, domestic "gray mice" who do not "appreciate" them.

At least, that's what they SAY—when they are looking in your eyes!

Blanketed Ice Box

The best remedy for an inefficient refrigerator is to buy a new one, which repays the investment in a saving of ice, in food conservation and in guarding the health of the family. Meanwhile, matters may be improved by covering the entire refrigerator with a heavy blanket, leaving a corner open so that the food compartment doors may be opened. The ice cake itself never should be wrapped.

It is important that any refrigerator be well iced. The volume of ice never should be less than half the capacity of the ice chamber.

Creamed Fish

Flake two cupfuls of cold boiled fish and cream it in a rich cream sauce. Serve on toast rounds and place a poached egg on top of each portion. Serve French fried potatoes or potato chips, and little moulds of mint jelly. Use a cold molded cereal and for fruit, sliced oranges. Hot buttered toast or hot wheat muffins are best with this breakfast.

WHAT'S the ANSWER?

1. Why does "blue blood" mean aristocratic lineage to us?
2. Who was Calliope?
3. Are bats blind?
4. How long can a camel go without water?
5. What is a carpet knight?
6. Where are cats bred for their fur?
7. Is the bloodhound ferocious? Why is he called "blood" hound?
8. What has been called the "Achilles' Heel of England"?
9. To what country does Greenland belong?
10. Why can a bird stand on a charged trolley wire without getting a shock?

The answers to these questions may be found in tomorrow's paper.

Here are the answers to yesterday's questions.

1. The San Francisco fire occurred on April 18, 1906.
2. Swans do not sing just before they die. The swan is an unmusical bird.
3. A Manx cat belongs to a species that has no tail.
4. Trees do not grow on the tops of mountains because the mountain top is too cold and because the wind is too strong.
5. Batavia was formerly the name of Holland, and is often used in modern times as a poetical designation of the country. It is derived from the Batavi, a Celtic tribe who dwelt in that region.
6. The Bee of Athens was Sophocles (495-405 B. C.), the tragic poet.
7. Adam's Ale is water as a beverage; from the supposition that Adam had nothing but water to drink.
8. There are 144 units, or 12 dozen, in a gross.
9. After water reaches the boiling point it cannot be made any hotter. Water boils at a temperature of 212 degrees as long as the pressure of the air does not change.
10. George Eliot wrote "Adam Bede."

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE

Wednesday, September 14

ALTHOUGH a benefic aspect dominates early in the morning, this is read by astrologers as rather an unimportant day.

The planetary government seems to promise that most persons will feel cheerful and optimistic on awakening.

The mind should be clear, and foresight should be trustworthy while this sway prevails.

There is a promising sign for the success of everyday matters, but important affairs should be deferred.

It is wise for women not to stress the importance of their personal wishes in business or domestic activities.

The rule is not an auspicious one for suitors, for girls are supposed to be capricious under this direction of the stars.

Weddings of this date probably will be more successful in establishing love than in assuring prosperity.

All the signs today presage more interest in education than at any previous time.

Schools and colleges will flourish in the coming year as never before, but co-education again will be discussed with more or less criticism.

International relations will be cemented by a more extended exchange of students and professors than formerly, it is prophesied, but new problems will develop.

Political conspiracies are to be uncovered in Europe, and one may be of great interest to the United States.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have some sort of business that carries severe hazards, and they should be cautious.

Children born on this day probably will be fortunate in financial affairs. The subjects of this sign often receive legacies and unexpected gifts.

POLICEMAN KILLS EX-CHIEF CAUGHT WITH WIFE

PAIR TRAPPED IN AUTO; SLAYER SURRENDERS

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Sept. 13.—(AP.)—A city policeman, John L. Williams, 37, today faced charges of having killed his former chief, D. Dow Dillow, 40, who was shot to death on a lonely road across the Virginia state line from here last night while in an automobile with Williams' 32-year-old wife, Gertrude.

Williams surrendered. He declared he shot in self-defense when Dillow drew a revolver as he surprised the couple.

Dillow, who became a Federal prohibition officer following his retirement as chief of police of Bluefield two years ago, was in charge of the local enforcement unit. He was shot twice. Williams had served as lieutenant of police during Dillows' administration as police chief.

Williams and his wife, who are the parents of five children, were arrested and taken to Tazewell, county seat of Tazewell county, Virginia, where the shooting occurred.

BRADFORD RABBI CALLED TO POST IN NEW CASTLE

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Sept. 13.—Rabbi Jacob B. Menkes, for 14 years head of Beth Zion congregation at Bradford, Pa., has been called to Temple Israel, this city, which is just completing a new synagogue. He begins his duties this week. Dedication of the new temple will take place within a month.

BRADDOCK COUNCIL ENDS DEADLOCK, PICKS DILLON

Braddock council broke a deadlock of two months last night when Lois Dillon was unanimously elected borough solicitor. The selection of a solicitor split council when it was brought up in July, six members backing Dillon and six supporting Henry Geim.

CHIEF OF MELODY WAY

MRS. MARY BUSH HAUCK

Mrs. Mary Bush Hauck, expert instructress in the method of learning the piano called Melody Way, was sent to Pittsburgh by W. Otto Meissner, founder of the Melody Way system. She taught nearly a score of Pittsburgh's music teachers how to teach the thousands who are enrolling in the Sun-Telegraph Melody Way Club. Fill in your blank today.

PLAYMATES AT FUNERAL OF BOY KILLED IN CAVE

WOODLAWN, Pa., Sept. 13.—Scores of his playmates attended the funeral today of John Rogish, 13, who was crushed to death by collapse of a cave he and other lads were digging in the bank of the Ohio River.

Melody Way Enrolls 2,500: From 6 to 60

Pittsburgh is a piano-loving city.

More than 2,500 men, women and children, their ages ranging from six to 60, have enrolled in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph Melody Way club, and many are already, with certificates in hand, arranging with the affiliated music dealers to take instructions on that instrument.

Although only one week has passed since the club was formed, in cooperation with dealers, many who have never before attempted the piano, never before had the opportunity, never before acted in pursuing a talent that they believed they had, are now on the road to learn the fundamentals.

The first lesson, printed in last Saturday's Sun-Telegraph, should have been saved. The chart and key-board, which was printed in Monday's Sun-Telegraph in full size, should also have been cut out, and mounted. They are the beginnings of the 12 lessons course. The next 11 lessons will be printed on successive Saturdays.

CAN GET BACK NUMBERS

There will be many who, just lately attracted to the idea of learning to play, will get instructions and using the music dealer's pianos—all free. To these, the circulation manager of the Sun-Telegraph will forward back copies containing the first lesson and chart. Send two-cent stamp for each copy.

And if you haven't enrolled, fill out the blank in this issue and mail it today. Watch for the second lesson next Saturday.

THIS SKY PILOT A REAL ONE

FORT WAYNE, Ind.—Inspired by the flights of Lindbergh and others, W. B. Zook of Fort Wayne has become the only flying minister in this country, according to his belief.

A sky pilot who is just that, a flying preacher, is the title ascribed to Zook by his fellow-citizens.

"There is no reason in the world why a minister should not fly," said Zook, but he announced no intention to become the first circuit rider of the air.

Zook a short time ago became interested in aviation. He has held pastorates in Kansas and in Arizona and more recently has been a Methodist Episcopal conference evangelist in Indiana.

INVENTS DEVICE TO TYPE MUSIC

BUDAPEST.—A machine by which composers will be able to type down their musical ideas in one or several copies, as easily as a letter is written by typewriter has just been perfected by Lajos Viragh, a retired postal director.

The model of the machine on which Mr. Viragh has been at work for three years, is constructed of wood and rubber, and should the manufactured machines prove as satisfactory as the model, the work of composers and those obliged to read manuscript music will be enormously facilitated.

OLD LAW BARS SANITY TESTS FOR CROOKS

By Universal Service.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Because an old archaic law does not recognize the science of psychology, the mental tests for gangsters may be halted indefinitely. This was indicated by Judge Harry Olson.

The old law, which was made in 1843, says that no one may undergo a mental test, unless they have been previously incarcerated in an insane asylum.

The judge's statement was made after it was announced that Big Herbert, a well-known gangster, would be given the "great-itpsychologe" test, which was brought to Chicago recently from Europe by Dr. William J. Hickson, head of the Psychopathic Hospital.

Judge Olson said:

"The fact that prisoners are being set free on habeas corpus writs does not effect our program. These writs often are issued loosely and suspects are released on technicalities.

"The habitual criminal is color blind. He is unable to distinguish right from wrong.

"The new tests can determine scientifically whether the subject is thus lacking or not, but at present we can examine only such cases as comply with the law.

"With additional legislation, however, we shall be able to carry out the program."

DETROIT PILOT WINS BALLOON RACE

DETROIT, Sept. 13.—(AP)—E. J. Hill, Detroit pilot, today was unofficially accredited as winner of the annual James Gordon Bennett balloon trophy race.

Piloting his huge balloon, "The Detroit," an estimated distance of 725 miles from the starting point here, Hill brought the bag down at Baxley, Ga., last night, 50 miles farther south than the second place Goodyear VI, also a United States entry. As unofficially tabulated by the International Aeronautical Association officials at Washington, the other leading balloons finished as follows:

Third and fourth—Barmen, German and Lafayette, France, 660 miles (tied).

Fifth—Hispania, Spain, 640 miles.

Sixth—Belgican, Belgium, 600 miles.

The remaining nine entries were strung out along the course between the finish line and Detroit as far north as Sugar Island in Lake Erie, off Sandusky. They landed as follows:

The Dux, Italy, Newberry, S. C.; the Bee, England, Randolph, Va.; Paris-Bruxelles, France, Dunn, S. C.; United States Army, York, S. C.; Halvetia, Swiss, Statesville, S. C.; Rex, Italy, Cleveland county, N. C.; the Munster, Germany, Simpsons Ferry, near Columbia, S. C., and the Brandenberg, Germany, Sugar Island, in Lake Erie.

The Reason Why Your Wife can't Keep a Cook Is the Reason Behind Most of the Trouble in the World

IT IS all very fine to learn how Henry Ford made a billion and why Napoleon met his Waterloo, but what you and I must know is why we were not promoted, why we were fired, why Brother Bill will not speak to us, and why our wife cannot keep a cook. We live discrete lives, our problems are concrete. On our ability to get along with wife, husband, parents, children, friends, associates and society hangs the difference between Heaven and Hell on this earth.

The man who can answer these questions, who can tell us why hundreds of people in this town quarrel, divorce, lose their jobs or quit their jobs every day is a man we all want to know.

George A. Dorsey, anthropologist, author of "Why We Behave Like Human Beings," is that man. His book was published more than two years ago but it's still a best-seller today, and it will be for many and many a day to come.

¶ "A triviality may lead to marriage; the cause of falling out may be as biologically meaningless."

Naturally, in giving to the public the results of his years of travel and research and of his experience as curator of the Field Museum, Dr. Dorsey wanted to reach the largest possible audience of intelligent readers. And, naturally, he chose to publish them in Cosmopolitan. For Cosmopolitan reaches the greatest CLASS audience in the world.

So, also, Dr. Will Durant, philosopher and author of "The Story of Philosophy." He has an answer to the riddle "What is Love?" which gives you an adventure in understanding yourself, as great a mental adventure as Dr. Dorsey's "Why Human Beings Fall Out With Each Other."

Both these up-to-the-minute thinkers are now "regulars" in Cosmopolitan. Their papers in the October issue, now on sale, are examples of the stimulating treats in store for you in each issue.

There are Writers and Writers, But There's Only One Irvin Cobb

YEAR in and year out; each month without fail, Irvin Cobb writes a short story for Cosmopolitan—and only for Cosmopolitan. All of them are good, some are excellent; quite a few stand head and shoulders above all the other short stories of the year. Such a one is "An Episode at Pintail Lake," in the October issue. This is the story of a murder and it ranks with "Words and Music," "The Belled Buzzard," "Snake Doctor," and other stories of Cobb's that live in the reader's memory as if they were published yesterday.

The Woman who Wrote "The Sheik" Is a Quiet English Home-Body

BUT there's no writer of our time with an imagination quite so vivid as hers. E. M. Hull, from the window of her home in an English village, sees stories in swift-moving word-pictures that capture your eye and stir your emotions. In "The Lion Tamer," her just-completed novel, she has swept aside the desert as background for Romance and found it—with a capital R—under the canvas of a circus tent. This new novel, "The Lion Tamer," begins in October Cosmopolitan.

October—Just Out

Bite yourself an Alphabet

Mr. Gadder simply must pretzel

The touching scene pictured above shows Mr. Gadder starting on a trip on the steam cars. He is going to Naumkeag, Mass., to buy a barrel. Being a cautious soul, Mr. Gadder is taking plenty of pretzels along to while away the two hour trip. Probably the first letters he will bite out will be the initials of the railroad:

B & M. R. R.

Which is not so easy. But then think of the fun Mr. Gadder, a P. M. P. (Past Master Pretzeleer) will have biting and eating.

All pretzeleers in good standing eat O-So-Gud Pretzels. Why? Read that name again. O-So-Guds are baked brown, baked crispy, baked good to eat and easy to digest by Uneeda Bakers.

They're good with iced drinks and with tea. With soup and with salad and with cheese. With those funny little fish and what nots that folks call hors d'oeuvres.

Give the children Uneeda Bakers' pretzels—plenty of them. Doctors approve. And don't stint your own self. You'll approve.

O-So-Gud is a full grown pretzel all tied up in knots. Who tied it? Uneeda Bakers. Ask us another.

"Gentlemen.

They call me Ponce de Leon at the golf club now. I saw your ad in Judge and it led me to the 'fountain'—Silver King Fizz.

"I ordered it on the 19th hole last Saturday. The boys went wild. Flasks appeared, and in 30 minutes the steward sold 28 bottles of Silver King Fizz.

"Words of praise? I'll say, plenty! It turns the best—???—into a nectar for the gods, and it transforms the common synthetic variety into a drink that is aged, mellow and smooth—like we old fellows were used to before the war.

Yours truly,"

RCA announces a new complete line of Radiolas

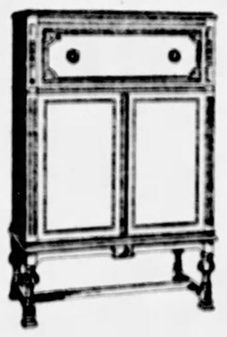
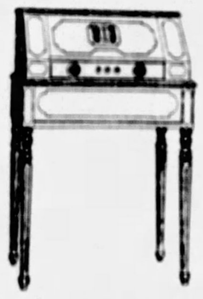
—for all methods of operation
—for all requirements of location

SOCKET POWER OPERATED

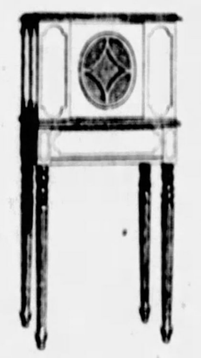


RCA RADIOLA 32—A special custom-built combination of the famous RCA 8-tube Super-Heterodyne with Loudspeaker 104—the two finest radio instruments ever designed. Operated directly from the electric light circuit—either A.C. or D.C.
Complete with Radiotrons.....$495.00

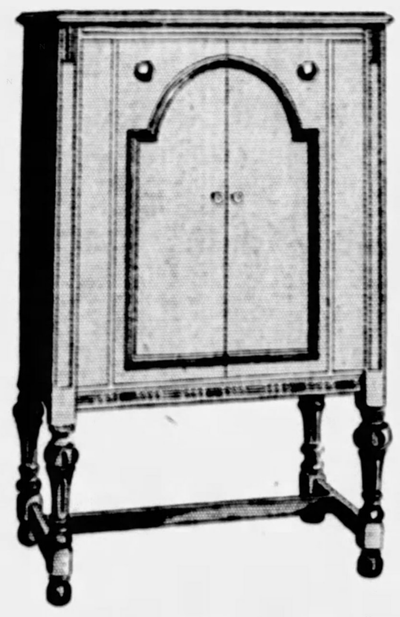
RCA RADIOLA 17—Operates directly from the electric light circuit without batteries or battery eliminators. This year's outstanding achievement in the radio art. Employs the new RCA alternating current tubes. Tuned with one knob.
Less accessories.....$190.00
With Radiotrons.....$157.50



RCA RADIOLA 28—For the many who prefer receiver and loudspeaker in separate cabinets, the 28-104 combination is the standard of comparison in the radio art.
Radiola 28, with Radiotrons.....$260.00
A.C. Package for adapting Radiola 28 for A.C. operation with RCA Loudspeaker 104.....$55.00



RCA LOUDSPEAKER 104—When used with Radiola 28, provides a perfection and volume of tone production that have been a sensation ever since it was introduced.
RCA Loudspeaker 104 (A.C.).....$275.00
RCA Loudspeaker 104 (D.C.).....$315.00



RCA RADIOLA 30-A—Custom-built—A de luxe instrument, employing the same perfected Super-Heterodyne circuit as Radiola 32, but using the new Loudspeaker 100-A. Operated directly from electric light circuit—either A.C. or D.C.
Complete with Radiotrons.....$495.00

FROM the Research Laboratories of Radio Corporation of America, Westinghouse and General Electric have come these RCA Radiolas and Loudspeakers—the greatest achievements of the radio art.

These tried, tested and perfected receiving sets are individually adapted to the different methods of operation, as well as to the exacting requirements of different locations.

RCA Radiolas set the standard for radio because of their unrivalled perfection of tone and simplicity of operation. They are designed by the same engineers who planned the leading high-power broadcasting stations. They are the time-tested sets that have been chosen for exclusive use by Victor and Brunswick in their finest instruments.

Included in the new Radiola line are dry battery sets, storage battery sets, and, of course, the sets that operate directly from the electric light circuit.

You haven't really heard radio until you have listened to a Radiola and RCA Loudspeaker.

CHILLY SAUCE

Wilson made, years ago, when the Cubs were starting to show like possible champs. That's the Beaks attended for that dismissal. Funny, ain't it? the fevers among the followers of the Cubs and the Sox favorites have had a chance to bring a big pitching staff to the heavy hitting Brooklyn outfit. The Brooklyn club is no more defeats than the Sox, winning 11 games.

THE Quakers gave the Pirates a lacing in the opening battle of the series, the Bucs getting but five hits from the Quaker hurlers. The last time Pittsburgh played in Philadelphia was when Babe Ruth broke in with the Yanks. Ruth last night proved himself a true champion.

FRED THOMPSON had quite a lot of fun with the officials. In one of the games Frisco jumped Bob Hart.

"What was the use of us leaving home, anyway," roared Thompson. "We're getting the worst of it again from the umpires. Hang Frisco with along as a mascot until Bob could stand it no longer."

"Look here," yelled Hart, shouted Bob. "I am getting pretty fresh for a young busher, at that. Why you ought to be thinking of the fine building it is after instead of trying to talk back to the umpire."

PAUL WANER is in the worst batting slump of his year. Paul went through the entire series with the Quakers without making a hit. Stuffy McInnis pitchers probably were taking instructions from their boss on how to pitch to the great batter, yet Stuffy was Paul's best supporter and guide when the youngster was experiencing trouble at the outset of his Pirate career. The right-fielder jumped off last season with all sorts of hard luck, but through it all he maintained he would be able to hit close to .400 in the big league. Mr. Innis thinks Paul is a wonder worker at the plate.

BROTHER LLOYD connected for three hits and had another likely-looking blow started. Sprout, by the way, has more than one incentive for breaking out in a rush of hits. In the first place, Lloyd wants to do all he can to help the club to the flag, then again he is aware that some friends back home have declared they will present him with two suits of clothes if he bats within 25 points of his brother

Gene's Purse Is Million

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—(AP.)—The battle of Soldier Field, September 22, has been launched formally as the greatest financial fistic spectacle in history.

Checks were exchanged all around last night, totaling more than a million and a half dollars to conclude the financial arrangements.

Tex Richard and George Getz, the actual and nominal promoters of the fight between Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey, met with the Illinois State Athletic Commission and the South Park Board controlling Soldier Field in the Richard headquarters. After hours of conference with attorneys for all parties the papers and checks were signed.

The check drawn payable to Tunney is for $[illegible]. Dempsey's was drawn for $[illegible]. Both checks have been placed in the hands of the state boxing Commission, to be held until fulfillment of contracts by the two fighters.

ADVANCE SALE COVERS SUMS

The total of those checks, plus the $160,000 paid the South Park Board for stadium rental, already is in the Richard coffers from ticket sales, which have exceeded $1,000,000.

This is Dempsey's fourth million dollar card, and probably the greatest of the four by far in gate receipts. His share of the purse will rank only second in the list of big purses he has won. Dempsey as champion received more than $[illegible],000 for the battle of the Sesqui last year.

As the champion now, Tunney draws the greatest sum ever handed an athlete for one exhibition and more than any other boxer except Dempsey ever earned in his entire ring career.

Seventeen years ago, James J. Jeffries came out of retirement to start the era of big purses. He received $[illegible] for his losing battle with Jack Johnson, barely one-tenth of the sum awaiting Tunney.

DORSTALL ATTACHMENTS

A possible explanation of Richard's boast of the two purses so long before the fight appeared in the rumors that attachments were to be filed in court today by friends of both Tunney and Dempsey, acting in efforts to forestall other suits that might be filed to hamper the closing training efforts of the two fighters.

Dempsey has actions pending or threatened against him by Jack Kearns, his former manager, and R. L. Clements, Chicago promoter, who claims to have Dempsey's contract to box Harry Wills.

Tunney is faced with suits by Tim Mara, New York sportsman, who is suing him for money he believes due, and Max Hoff of Philadelphia, who claims to have purchased a financial interest in Tunney's fight receipts just before the Dempsey-Tunney battle at Philadelphia a year ago.

The point was made that friendly [illegible] suits would effectively tie up the purse until after the fight, preventing similar action from unfriendly sources.

GENE RESTS AGAIN

LAKE VILLA, Ill., Sept. 13.—(AP.)—Another day of complete rest except for a little golf was Gene Tunney's program today. Workouts in the present hot spell would be too likely to develop staleness. Manager Billy Gibson said Tunney spent the night with friends in Lake Forest and planned to drive into Chicago to see Richard today.

There will be only two or three more days of stout workouts before the fight, because the champion feels so is in the best condition of his ring career right now.

JACK REFEREES BOUTS

CHUTE III., Sept. 13.—(AP.)—Jack Dempsey worked out the doodlights again last night, but not at his camp here. He refereed one of a program of amateur boxing matches at the Broadway Armory, and at the conclusion the crowd surged toward the ring so eagerly in order to try to grasp his hand that he had a friendly tilt with on his hands to escape. Dempsey made it an evening off planning to resume his afternoon [illegible] punching and his evening secret boxing today. His floodlight innovation had boxing writers and fans still groggy today. But all discussion of his secret work was switched into the latest rumor emanating from New York, that Tunney had been offered a million dollars to "take a dive" for Dempsey.

Both camps were amused by the rumor. Leo Flynn, Dempsey's manager, the most of anyone.

"Who would put up the money who would hold it and who would watch the man holding it?" inquired Flynn. "Dempsey and Tunney will fight on the level and Tunney will fall."

Flynn promised the fight scribes that at least one of the night boxing sessions would be put on for their benefit, so they could get a final glimpse of the former champion in action, and estimate for themselves his condition.

Secret Training Mostly Bunk

By HARRY KECK, Sports Editor

JACK DEMPSEY and Gene Tunney announce they are going to train in secret during the balance of the time remaining before their bout at Chicago Thursday night of next week. They claim they don't even want to be bothered by having newspapermen hanging around and watching them. Too bad about the two million-dollar prima donnas. There was a time when they were glad to death to run after newspapermen to get a few lines' notice in even the smallest of papers. Now it irks them to have the newspapers help to build up public interest in the biggest match in history.

Sometimes, when boxers get to this stage, one wonders why it can't be possible for both principals in a bout to lose and have the props knocked out from under their vanity.

Most of this training camp stuff is the bunk, anyway. If other fighters can get ready for an important bout with a week or two of training, or, as the saying goes, a haircut and a shave, why should it be necessary for heavyweight champions and near-champions to drill for months? It really isn't, except for ballyhoo purposes. Without the ballyhoo, there would be no big gates, yet the fighters even attempt to kid the newspapermen who make the ballyhoo possible. When they can't kid the scribes, and the latter become critical in what they write, the ego-overstuffed fighters feel their pride is hurt and threaten to bar out the writers. Wonder what would happen to these fighters and the promoters if the newspapers of the country suddenly should decide to cut off the outlet for the ballyhoo and make the promoters pay for their guff at advertising rates?

NOTHING can be taken for granted in sports, as shown by the defeat of the United States in the Davis Cup play after it had won two of the first three matches, yet it would seem reasonably safe to predict a triumph for Uncle Sam in the international polo matches, which will be resumed tomorrow. The American forces won the opening tilt, last Saturday, 13 to 3, and the history of the event shows that only once since the matches were inaugurated, back in 1886, has the team that won the first match failed to win the series. That was in 1902, when America won the first day, 2 to 1, and England, with a changed lineup, won the next two matches decisively. The play is on a two-out-of-three scale, and the Britons appear to be outclassed, on the basis of Saturday's score.

The suggestion comes to this department that perhaps Vincent Richards is enjoying a nice quiet little guffaw up his sleeve as a result of the United States' defeat in the Davis Cup matches. Vinnie, it will be remembered, was the best young tennis player developed in this country in recent years and virtually was forced to turn professional by a string of circumstances which might have been differently handled by the tennis powers that be, or were. He certainly would have come in handy in the play last week. However, to stress the point at this time rather seems like pouring salt on the wounds.

GENE TUNNEY has been criticized for not using a headguard in his training, it being pointed out that he might have avoided the cut he received on one of his eyes last week in a workout with Chuck Wiggins if he had been thus protected. However, Tunney always has refused to make use of this contrivance and for what appears to us to be a sound reason. He says he believes in fighting in the gymnasium under conditions as closely resembling those of a real bout as possible, and that if a boxer becomes accustomed to using a headguard in training he misses it when he goes into the ring for a battle. Tunney also spurns rope-skipping and various other routine religiously followed by other boxers, who go through the maneuvers because they have seen other boxers do them. Tunney must see some value accruing from the stunts and the methods employed or they are out with him.

HOBAN DISPLAYS GREAT FORM

CAMP HAMILTON, Windber, Pa., Sept. 13.—Walter Hoban, a pint-sized halfback, stepped out and did things in the long scrimmage session yesterday afternoon. Walter was just a member of the squad when he sat down to luncheon yesterday noon, but he was a real contender for a berth on Jock's first-string team when he walked off the practice field.

Hoban, playing on the second string, showed inclinations of becoming another Ollie Welch as he darted, skidded and squirted through the varsity line for consistent gains. Although Parkinson and Edwards, two neat ball carriers, as well as Pyock, were with him in the scrub backfield, Hoban flashed all of the sensational stuff.

Dukes to Change All Home Dates

Home games on the Duquesne University football schedule, originally carded for Friday afternoons, will be played on the afternoon of the following Saturdays, according to an announcement by John D. Holahan, graduate manager of Duquesne athletics, today. The changes in dates, Holahan says, are in response to numerous requests by Duke followers who are able to attend games only on Saturday afternoons.

The games affected by the change are the Brandbus, Geneva and Thiel encounters. Brandbus will be met on October 1, instead of September 30; Geneva will appear here October 8, instead of October 7, and the October 21 date of the Thiel game has been changed to October 22. The other home game on the Dukes' card, with Waynesburg, will be played on Armistice Day, as originally scheduled.

Other dates on the Dukes' program remain unchanged.

TARZAN BOASTS FINE RECORD

Charley Tarman, of Rochester, Pa., who will meet Stanley Simmons, local light-heavyweight, in the semi-final bout to the Robertson-Ekhart fight at Duquesne Garden Friday night of next week, has a record that commands attention.

Since turning professional he has had 28 bouts, winning 11 by the K. O. route and 11 by decisions, losing five and drawing one. He is only 22 years old, is six feet in height and is a terrific puncher. His manager, Lloyd Brown, is predicting a quick victory for Tarman when he meets Simmons, but the latter is a tough boy with an excellent record both in the amateur and professional ranks.

Teddy Welsh, of McKeesport, and Young Rudy, of Charleroi, welterweights, who put up a real fight in Duquesne at the ball park recently, are on the card with Joe Orsini and Monte Sarko, featherweights, in the opener.

The event at Duquesne Garden will mark the opening of the indoor boxing season in Pittsburgh.

American, British Poloists to Renew Feud Tomorrow

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—(AP.)—Although the two changes effected in the British international polo lineup apparently have strengthened the invading forces for the second game against the United States tomorrow, yesterday's practice match, in which the challengers beat a picked team of three Americans and one Briton, intensified the belief of experts that they would continue to be American property.

Preparing for tomorrow's international match, the British won with their revamped lineup when a pony kicked through the final point in the eighth chukker. Both Capt. Richard George and Capt. John Deming, the replacements at Nos. 1 and 2, respectively, stood out at times in the British attack. It was the backfield players—Maj. Eric Atkinson and Capt. C. T. I. Roark—who were off form.

Observers thought the British tomorrow would put up a better exhibition than they did last Saturday, when they fell before the Big Four by a 13-3 count.

Jack Britton, Master Dopester, Picks Tunney to Win by Knockout

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The master of the boxing game has looked into his crystal ball and it has told him that Gene Tunney will knock out Jack Dempsey within eight rounds.

Jack Britton is the prophet. He is regarded as the last word in the business of forecasting boxing results. He picked Tommy Gibbons to stay 15 rounds with Dempsey; he picked Harry Greb to defeat Tommy Gibbons and he picked Tunney to beat Dempsey last year. Britton knows his mittens. He should. He held the welterweight championship for many years.

"I will not be surprised if Tunney scores a knockout any time after the second round," he says. "I am sure it will be over by the eighth, as Dempsey will be so badly battered by that time that the referee will stop it.

"Tunney is the best boxer the heavyweight division has seen since Jack Johnson. He is faster than Dempsey and also stronger. Tunney is the most under-rated champion we ever have had."

Britton has a record of having picked the winner of every heavyweight championship match for the past 20 years.

FLAG CONTENDERS IN DOUBLE BILLS

SPORT COMMENT by JAMES J. LONG

FOUR days hence we may have a far better and more definite line on the National League pennant proposition in general, and the chances of the Pittsburgh club in particular, than has been possible at any stage since the race developed into one of the hottest and most open finishes that ever put millions of fans in a frenzy of excitement and uncertainty.

In a four-day period beginning today may be hidden the answer to the pennant problem that has kept the baseball followers of the country guessing for weeks.

There are games to be played in that brief span that may make or break the chances of three of the contending clubs, games that may have a great bearing on the question as to where the National League championship banner is going to float next year and where the older circuit's portion of the world series is going to be played this fall.

STARTING this afternoon, the Pirates are to play a string of six games in four days with their old hoodoos from Boston, and meanwhile the Giants are to engage in seven conflicts with the Cardinals in St. Louis.

The long series in St. Louis is due to the fact that rain knocked out the Cards' entire scheduled set of games in New York on their last Eastern trip. These events consequently had to be transferred to St. Louis.

Originally the Giants were scheduled to play in Cincinnati next Friday, which would have permitted only six games in the Mound City, but the Friday game has been put back to a later date in Cincinnati, so the Giants will remain in St. Louis to play seven games with the Redbirds while the Bucs are playing six with the Braves.

IT is not difficult to see how the developments of these four days may vitally affect the chances of the Pirates, Giants or Cards.

As "Stuffy" McInnis remarked while here with his Phillies, it is possible for the Giant-Cardinal series of seven games to eliminate one of those clubs in the event that it is badly worsted, but it must not be overlooked that the Bucs will also be in danger of receiving a serious setback at the hands of the Braves.

Ordinarily, a pennant leader would appear to have little to fear from a club in sixth place, but it must be borne in mind that Boston has won as many games from Pittsburgh this year as any other club in the race has taken from the lockie. In Boston, the Braves won six, lost three and tied one against the Corsairs, and in this city they took three out of seven. For the season, therefore, they have won nine and lost six against Pittsburgh, convincing evidence that they are not to be trifled with.

IF the Bostonese break even here this week in six games, and meanwhile the Giants or Cards should win something like five out of seven in St. Louis, Pittsburgh's pennant chances would not be nearly so encouraging as it looked during the last few days.

Or if Pittsburgh should be held to an even break by Boston, and the Giant-Cardinal series should end like four-to-three either way, the Cubs could get right back in the hunt by cleaning up in three games against the Robins, whom they have already beaten 15 times in 19 meetings this season.

The four-day period beginning today, therefore, is what has been referred to once or twice by baseball writers as a "crucial stage." It is a time when the Pirates must put in their best licks and exert every effort to rout Kent Greenfield, Bot Smith and the other factors in the Boston jinx. If they can do that, they ought to be sitting pretty by Friday night after the Giants and Cards have finished trying to throttle each other.

"BEAT BOSTON" is the Bucs' present and only duty. Keep both eyes on the Braves instead of devoting one to the Cardinal-Giant series.

It may be possible practically to win the pennant this week if the Bushmen forget about the other games being played and keep their minds on the present instead of the future.

All that the locals have got to remember is that no rival can pass them before that rival has caught up with them, and that the surest way to prevent that catching-up is to play every game as if it were the one on which the pennant hinged.

THE Pittsburgh club, as well as all others in the major leagues, has only three more days for shopping in the minor league market. Any further exercising of options or the purchasing of other players recommended by the Pirate scouts who have been beating the bushes must be completed before midnight Thursday, as that hour will be the deadline under baseball law.

That section of the major-minor agreement covering this point says: "The transfer of the services of a player by a minor league club to a major league club, or by one minor league club to another minor league club, after September 15 and until November 5, inclusive, is prohibited."

This, of course, except the draft which begins the day preceding the first game of the world series and continues for five days.

CUBS, SUBDUED AGAIN, ALMOST OUT OF RACE

By Associated Press

AFTER gaining an even break in their four-game series with the Chicago Cubs, the New York Giants were in St. Louis today for seven games in four days—a series that is likely to mean much in the National League race.

Pittsburgh was still two games in the lead today after having swept a three-game series with Philadelphia. The Giants battered Charley Root, Cub pitching ace, in the fourth game at Chicago yesterday and won, 7-5. The St. Louis Cardinals bowled over Brooklyn again and kept pace

ATHLETIC MOTHER EMULATED BY SONS

Are athletics injurious to the health of growing girls, as intimated by the girls' basketball committee of the local high schools in its decision, announced yesterday, to abolish "varsity" basketball competition after the present term? The answer probably would be in the negative if an opinion were to be asked of Mrs. Dot Dixon, shown in the accompanying picture with her two athletic sons, Billy and Jimmy. Mrs. Dixon is a track star for the Meadowbrook Club of Philadelphia and has handed her athletic ability down to her two sons. Billy has won five medals and Jimmy three, and their mother still actively engages in track athletics and races a motorcycle in her spare time.

BUCS FACE OLD JINX TODAY IN BRAVES

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

With three of the flag contenders fighting in doubleheaders, the National League baseball program for this afternoon is a dish fit for a king and the whole royal family. As the Pirates made ready for a dual fight with the Braves at Forbes Field, the Giants and Cardinals were making similar preparations in St. Louis.

Six games behind the Pirates in the matter of defeats, the Cubs this morning were believed by many close observers to be practically out of the flag fight. The standing of the clubs shows the Bears to be three and one-half games below the Bushwhackers, in the regular manner of computing, but the "lost column" of the Chicagoans discloses the heavy part of the team's deficit, and this fact adds to the shaky position of the club. Perhaps the Cubs will be able to spurt and overtake the other three teams, but they are the outside entry at this writing.

The Pirates are two full games ahead of the Cardinals and Giants, who are in a deadlock for second place as they prepare for six battles in three days at the playground of the Redbirds. Under the conditions, the Oakland crew should be regarded as the favorites, but the Pirates realize they are facing quite a test. The Buccos and Braves are scheduled for another doubleheader tomorrow.

The tribe of Bancroft has been a tartar to the Buccos throughout the season. Perhaps the story will be different in the six-game series that impends; at the same time the Pirates are going about their plans like athletes who expect warm competition.

ADDED ATTRACTION

The Bancroft-Smith trouble of the early months seems yet to be an issue; at least the Pirates are taking it for granted that the Braves will try every means within the law to check the drive of the Buccos.

The Braves will hardly be as fresh as in their previous visit here when they measured the Buccos for three straight defeats. The Tribe had to go through the strain of a double bill in Cincinnati yesterday and with two more double encounters facing them on successive afternoons they are apt to be showing the strain to some extent. Moreover, the Bushwhackers are in better physical condition right now than they have been since the early weeks of the season.

That Kent Greenfield will work the first game today and will start another contest of the long series appears to be a foregone conclusion in Pittsburgh. Greenfield has had marked success against the Buccos since he entered the Wigwam set.

HOMERS DEFEAT PHILS

Manager Bush has Lee Meadows and Vic Aldridge groomed for slab duty against the Braves.

The Pirates made a clean sweep of the series with the Phillies by winning, 3 to 2, yesterday afternoon. As was the case in most of the season's battles with the Quakers the contest was hard-fought. The Pirates had to have the favor of a close decision on Joe Harris at third base in the seventh inning to win. Homers by Earl Smith and Glenn Wright were deep in the victory.

Manager McInnis of the Quakers and two of his players, Pitcher Alex Ferguson and Thirdbaseman Barney Freiberg, were ejected from the game for their protests of the decision referred to. The ruling was made by Umpire Jorda. The Phillies insisted that Harris was out and they made their dissenting votes so strong that the pilot and two players had to leave.

Carmen Hill held the Phillies to four hits as he landed his twenty-first victory of the season.

Yesterday's clash of the Pirates and Phillies was their last meeting of the year. In the season's play the Bushwhackers landed 15 victories in the 22 games played. One of the contests was a draw that ended in the sixth frame.

Bass Wins Title In Thriller

CHAPMAN IS DEFEATED IN GREAT BATTLE

By HARVEY J. BOYLE,
Staff Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.—A sight one sees only once in a lifetime was being reviewed today by the thousands who last night saw Benny Bass defeat Red Chapman, former Pittsburgh boy, in a battle for the world's featherweight boxing championship staged here. In the ninth round, after eight very tame and unexciting rounds, Bass and Chapman exchanged stiff punches and down went both of them, dazed, bewildered.

The referee, standing between the two stricken boxers, began to count over both of them. Neither of the boxers was quite "out," but very close to the border line of the unconscious. Their thoughts scattered by the impact, became more tangled when each began looking for his foeman, hazily expecting to see him standing some place in the rang. Each looked in vain for a short time. At almost the same time each boxer realized he had not only been nearly knocked out, but that he also nearly had knocked out the other fellow.

BOTH OFF FEET

The referee got to the count of four over both boxers when Bass reached for the ropes nearby and pulled himself to his weary and shaky feet. He was as drunk as a lord as he swayed, holding onto the ropes as he watched unsteadily the referee counting over Chapman.

Chapman was rising slowly and was magnificent in his gameness as he struggled upstream against Bass and the fighting fates. At the count of nine he was on his feet, but rocking and bobbing like a bottle in a swelling sea. Toward the staggering Chapman reeled the drunken Bass. He at last reached him. He sent out a left hand which had no more force than the light jab of a playful kitten.

But to Chapman the punch looked dangerous for he rolled away to evade it. Bass zigzagged his way in pursuit. Now he caught up with Chapman and he socked a series of lefts and rights, but Chapman, fighting now only by instinct, slipped and rolled and held, as he shook his head vigorously to clear his troubled brain. What a great spectacle, what a rare exhibition of a game boy battling a universe of trouble. Stay in there Chapman. Just a few more seconds to go until the bell, the welcome bell that will ring to save you. Come on good old Red. Bass catches him again. They clinch. Base pushes Red and down goes Red. He takes the count of nine, glancing around like a desperate fox in a steel trap, and at the count of 10 he's on his feet again. Clang, clang, clang. It's the bell ending what seemed an eternal round to both boxers. Chapman went through that round with a split eyelid which gushed a crimson flood down his cheek.

EYE IS SPLIT

That eye alone might have caused a lesser boy to hunt a quick ending, but Red, partially blinded, almost scored a kayo and then escaped one

WALSH SCORES RECORD 70 AT ST. CLAIR

By VERNON A. SWARTSFAGER.

Par has stood solidly within its own rights for many a day at the St. Clair Country Club, but when the tri-state district crowd of professional sharpshooters started to train their guns upon the difficult layout they certainly gave it a rough massage, even if Peter Walsh, Greenville Country Club, was the only one to set a new course record by going one under par for a 70.

His 70, accomplished by "exceptionally lucky breaks," if you would use Walsh's modest words for it, won for him the grand prize in the event held solely for professionals, and his record brought him other moneys until his pocketbook was swelled almost $200. Charley Manning, of Shannopin, cussed himself out because he took a trio of putts on the home green for a 71 to rank second. Pete Hart, of Marietta, was third with 72 and Walter Johnstone, of Butler, and Fred Baroni, of Chartiers Heights, was deadlocked at 73.

Charley Rowe, veteran Oakmont pro, playing with one of the best golfers at St. Clair, B. Bannister, had a best ball of 65, being out in 28 and back in 34, to cop the pro-amateur event. Al Chapman, of Wheeling, and Doc Ralston, with 66, were second, while George McBride, of the Country Club, and H. F. Brubaker were third with 68. Jimmy Devlin, of Nemacolin, playing with Tom Canon, St. Clair champion, was shooting fine golf, and besides having a 72, one over par, on his own card, turned in a best ball of 69 to tie with Emil (Dutch) Loeffler, of Oakmont, and Ralph Sawyer.

Fred May and F. S. Jones tied for the honors in the strictly amateur competition, having cards of 81-14-77. James Hunter was next with 78, Hi. Appleby fourth with 82 and Joe Euffer fifth with 83.

Following the golf competition, a delightful dinner was served in the ballroom. There was good cheer on every side, with "home-made" entertainment. The St. Clair quartet was particularly pleasing, although Jimmy Devlin, the entertaining Nemacolin pro, and Hub Lawson, of Edgewood, made great big hits with the more than 200 persons who filled the room.

St. Clair is to be heartily congratulated, and especially A. C. Clarke, committeeman in charge, upon the success of its tournament. It was splendid.

"Y" Director Lauds Plan

By ALMA SIOUX SCARBERRY.

"AN EXCELLENT idea," was the enthusiastic response of Miss Ruth Stafford, assistant director of health education of the Young Women's Christian Association, when questioned about the elimination of "varsity" basketball for girls in Pittsburgh high schools next year. Speaking further on the change in sports policy, announced first by several hours by the Sun-Telegraph yesterday, Miss Stafford explained:

"The Y adopted the same idea about three years ago. We have interclass basketball only. We haven't competed with another 'Y' branch in all that time. The idea has worked admirably. It gives every one a chance."

Miss Ruth E. Beach, supervisor of girls' athletics in the local high schools, has announced that at the close of the 1927-28 season "varsity" basketball will be no more. It has caused a great deal of comment. Some feel that competition between schools is an asset; others see the viewpoint of the committee that agreed to do away with it. Miss Stafford believes:

NEW POLICY PRAISED

"The new idea is bound to work out favorably. It seems unfair for six girls, for instance, who comprise the team that competes with other schools, to receive all the training and the others to be neglected. It is my opinion that everyone should have an equal chance. This will mean where there was only one team several will spring up. And too, it will mean that girls will take up basketball for the sake of the sport and not so much with the idea of 'beating' another school."

SEATING CHART RELEASED BY RICKARD

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—(AP.)—Mr. George (Tex) Rickard, the eminent promoter of box fights, gave forth to a waiting world this morning the long-awaited and much-discussed official diagram of the seating arrangements for the coming Tunney-Dempsey fistic affair at Soldier Field here.

The diagram, the absence of which has caused much and bitter wailing among the customers who had to purchase tickets sight unseen, was printed this morning.

The ring is situated in the center of the gridiron, according to the blueprints, and it is surrounded by four rows of chairs, to be dedicated to the working members of the press.

The fifth row from the ring is the official "ringside" row, where such customers as governors of states, mayors and other notables will watch the tollings of Dempsey and Tunney.

From there the seats extend back into the far reaches of the stadium, ad infinitum, the distance from the ring varying inversely with the price.

Absolutely the closest to the fight, right up where the very scuffling of the battlers' shoes will be plainly heard, the telegraphers, whose clicking keys will flash the blow-by-blow accounts of the battle to newspapers in all parts of the world, will have to depend on the stories they receive from their reporters to tell how the fight is going.

Arrangements for them and their instruments have been made beneath the ring.

A survey showed that spectators in the topmost seats on the south will be more than 500 feet from the ringside. Fans occupying the $1 benches along the fence to the north of the stadium will be almost 500 feet from the two fighters. A daylight view of the ring location from those sections made men standing where the ring will be appear like pygmies, but the promoters said that a night view, with the field in darkness and the ring flooded with light, would give a better view.

The finest seats allotted to the public are located in 12 sections. These sections follow:

To the north wing, sections 49, 50, 51 and 52; to the east, 54 and 56; to the south, 57, 58, 59 and 60; to the west, 52 and 55.

Outside the ringside sections the places of vantage most in demand have been two glass-enclosed sections at the top and in the main section of the stadium. They were used last year for the press at the Army-Navy game.

YANKS CAN COP FLAG TODAY

By BILL SLOCUM.
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Today may be a pennant-clinching day at the stadium. The Yankees will hook up with the Cleveland Indians in a double header and two victories would put the Huggmen beyond the reach of the Mackmen, the sole survivors within the realm of mathematics as a pennant contender. Or one Yankee victory and a defeat for the Athletics by the White Sox will do just as well in putting the Mackmen out of it.

NOTES of the BOXERS

SAM HUNTER, Negro heavyweight managed by Bill Heckman, has been signed to meet Stanley Rinaldo in the second bout of the opening card of the indoor season at McKeesport Thursday night, completing the program. Young Ruby meets Harry Taylor and Ray Shafer opposes Lew Jordan in the two principal feature events and Georgie Fork and Jack Hasty will open the show.

Tony Ross, Carnegie junior welterweight, is laid up with a broken right hand at Indianapolis, where he has been making his headquarters for two months. He injured the fist on Shifty Diablo in a bout last week. He expects to be able to resume work in the ring the latter part of next month.

Vic Conlon, brother of Dick Conlon, plans another bout between Dick and Cuddy DeMarco for the opening show of the indoor season at Altoona, September 24.

The Forest Hunting and Fishing Club will stage an amateur boxing show of eight good bouts at the Carnegie Steel playgrounds, Elrs, tonight.

Tom Heeney will meet the winner of the Monte Munn-George Godfrey bout scheduled for Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, tomorrow night.

Tommy White, the Mexican welterweight champion, beats Andy Divoli of New York at the Queensboro Club, New York, tonight.

MRS. LUQUE FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE

CINCINNATI, Sept. 13.—(AP.)—An entry of dismissal in the alimony suit brought by Mrs. Mae Luque against Adolfo Luque, pitcher for the Cincinnati National baseball club, has been made in Domestic Relations Court here. Dismissal of the suit was the result of the filing of another suit by Mrs. Luque recently, in which she asked for a divorce. The divorce suit still is pending.

NICK PERLICK NAMED MANAGER AT CLAIRTON

Nick Perlick, of Clairton, who gained no little recognition as a heavyweight boxer in bouts at McKeesport and at Motor Square Garden, has been chosen to succeed Lavonsky as manager of the Clairton Indians football team. Nick showed real class as a lineman and capabilities as a leader last season and the Indians are confident that he will pilot them through a successful campaign. Practice sessions are to be held this evening and on Thursday and Friday. The Indians will hit the pig with a game at Large Field, Clairton, on September 25. Managers wishing games should call Perlick at Clairton 11. For games with the Clairton Indian seconds call Clairton 201 and ask for Jacobs.

OTTO AT INDIANA

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 13.—(INS.)—Otto Strohmeier, who played on the University of Chicago football team three years as tackle and end, will arrive in Bloomington today to begin his work as head line coach of Indiana University. Strohmeier, after leaving Chicago, went to Butler College with Pat Page, where he acted as assistant coach for two years.

BASS

by a historic stand that will live a long time in the red romance of the game.

Both boys were brave in that gallant stand in the ninth, but Red, almost hopelessly out, by rallying under a heavy fire of hot circumstances, was far more the dramatic figure than his conqueror. A sentimentalist might even have wept at Red's refusal to bow to what seemed a crushing avalanche of setbacks. Both boys were weary in the final round, so weary that each was content to spar, hold, and evade each other. Until the stirring ninth, which will live in ring history, the bout was tame. Bass was ahead, by virtue of aggressiveness and by virtue of a butt which opened Chapman's eye.

Chapman is a defensive boxer mainly, a counter puncher. Also, gamest of the game. He is not the featherweight champion, it is true, but in losing he won himself a large niche in the fistic hall of fame. In the pugilistic forest he stands as majestic timber.

Bass, too, distinguished himself, but my mood may be shown by the fact that while hundreds stormed Bass to greet the conqueror, I was moved by an inner voice to go to the deserted corner of the loser and there shake his hand, pat him on the back.

The state athletic commission announced today that the total attendance at the Bass-Chapman bout was 15,972, of whom 1,858 gained admission on complimentary tickets. The total receipts were $62,980. The receipts, less the government and state tax, were $57,257. The amounts the two boxers received was not officially announced.

BASEBALL

with the Giants in second position. The Cubs were three and one-half games in the rear of the Pirates today. The Cubs have lost six games more than the Pirates, and from fourth position their glimpse at the pennant heights is somewhat obscure.

Hoot, reported to have a sore arm, was ineffective and was hit hard in the early innings by the Giants. He jasted only through the fourth frame and was succeeded by Nehf and Hush. Hornsby and Hack Wilson banged out home runs. Although Fitzsimmons granted 16 safe hits, he was accorded brilliant support by the Giant infield, and especially by Capt. Hornsby, who accepted 11 chances without an error.

The lowly Phils gave the Pirates a hard tussle, but Glenn Wright's homer settled the issue by a 3-2 score.

The world's champion Cardinals gained their victory over Brooklyn by a 2-0 score. A home run by Sunny Jim Bottomley in the fifth with Heim on base was the winning punch. Reinhart, Card southpaw, held the Robins to six hits. Elliott, who opposed him, allowed 11 safeties, but pitched out of numerous tight places.

AMOS DISPLAYS GREAT FORM AT WASH-JEFF

WASHINGTON, Pa., Sept. 13.—Big Bill Amos, Washington and Jefferson's powerful fullback, who played on the all-star eastern eleven at San Francisco last fall and is regarded by many critics as the greatest player at the position he fills on the local team, promises to have his banner season, judging from the form he has displayed in the scrimmaging to date.

Driving forward with terrific power and speed, Amos had been crashing through the line of the second and freshman elevens with amazing regularity. Repeatedly he has got away to remarkable sprints after plunging through holes in the line.

GLENDALE TIGERS PLAY

The Glendale Tigers will oppose the North Side Ramblers Sunday afternoon at the Glendale grounds. Last Sunday the Tigers held the Hazelwood Scholastics to a scoreless tie. For junior lightweight games write Andrew Labuda, 248 Carothers avenue, or phone Carnegie 231-J.

GENARO BEATS FLANK

UNIVERSAL WINS AT DETROIT

DETROIT, Sept. 13.—Because a submarine southpaw hurler, Lefty Crowe, of Johnstown, Pa., has a good change of pace but a better change of mind, the Universal Cements, of Pittsburgh, today are one round farther advanced toward the Class A amateur baseball title. With Crowe's aid yesterday they defeated the Starbaines, of Johnstown, 4 to 3, after battling with them neck and neck for eight innings. To start off the eighth, Chamberlain singled to right, being forced at second on Kummer's infield tap. Reed singled Kummer around to third. Weston dumped a slow roller to the pitcher, who made the throw to home. Giefried, the catcher, let the ball get through him, and Kummer scored to put the Universals one run in the lead, 3 to 2. Reed took second on the play and went to third when Jelinick was thrown out at first. He took a long lead as soon as Crowe stepped forward to pitch, but Crowe turned and was preparing to throw to third. Kummer, who was taking a drink of water out of a pop bottle, was the only man on the Pittsburgh bench that did not raise a shout of "balk," and while Crowe looked beseechingly at the umpire that dignitary swung his arm to beckon Reed home.

The inning ended with Pittsburgh in the lead, 4 to 2. Johnstown got one run back in its half of the eighth when Prokap singled to left field, got around to third when Dunford cracked a one-base hit off Getz's shins and came in on a wild pitch.

The first Universal score came in the first, when Getz was thrown four wide ones, took second while the next two batters were being worked on, and crossed the plate on Reed's single to short left field. Crowe struck out three Pittsburghers in this inning.

Reed tripled to left in the fourth and came home on Westin's short rap over the infield. The score:

SOCCER by TOM BIRNS

IT has been many seasons since visiting teams had tough sledding as was experienced Saturday in the District League opening games. In the four scheduled games, only one visiting club was able to penetrate the home defense. This can be attributed mainly to the fact that in all cases the visiting club was a new outfit, playing its first game.

The Pittsburgh Celtics got away to a good start. The Lawrenceville aggregation is classed as the best club in the loop, but as the season rolls along many things may happen.

Leechburg did not come up to preseason expectations. Swissvale, mainly through the wonderful wing work of Palmer, netted the ball five times. The Union Switch boys flashed a good front line, while the defense did everything expected of it.

Probably the surprise of the Sunday games was the defeat of the Pittsburgh Lafayettes at Mustard Hollow. Composed of many Gallatin players, the up-river aggregation proved too much for the Pittsburghers. Not only that but rumor states that Bobby Smith and Dean, of Dunlevy, will be in the ranks of the Hollow boys in the next few days.

Very few teams can equal the German Sport A at manipulating the ball around. Borowsky is the leader in this little scientific game, and Halat does the shooting. Halat looks just as Mike Bookie did at his best. Marshall will probably remember for many a day that shot from the foot of Halat that scored the first goal. It was a whiz. It hit the ball post and came out half way down the playing field.

DEAN GETS CUCKOO

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—(AP.)—Something unusual ought to mark the Chicago open golf championship at Illinois Golf Club, for in the introductory play a cuckoo was scored, and that rare bird happens to be a hole made in three under par. It was a hole of 475 yards, supposed to be played perfectly if the golfer gets the ball in the cup in five strokes.

Sinclair Dean, of Lima, O., made it in two mighty wallops in the amateur and professional best ball matches, and gave Walter Hagen, who has just won the Western open for the fourth time, and Tommy Armour, of Washington, American and Canadian open titleholder, something to aspire to, for neither of them ever shot a cuckoo.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The raw sugar market was quiet and unchanged early today at 4.72c for Cuban, duty paid. The refiners reported 24,500 bags of Cuban duty paid. The refiners reported 24,500 bags of Cuban does yesterday to a local operator at 2.95c f. o. b. Cuba, equivalent to 4.85c for Cuban, duty paid. But local refiners seemed unwilling to pay above 4.77c.

The failure of demand to broaden in the spot market and the rather disappointing attitude of the London market in view of our firmness of yesterday caused renewed selling pressure in raw sugar futures with prices easier throughout the forenoon session and at midday showing net declines of 2 to 5 points. The principal selling seemed to come principally from houses with European connections.

In refined sugar prices were unchanged at 5.50c to 5.60c for fine granulated, with a better inquiry reported at the inside level.

NEWS AND VIEWS

Pittsburgh Coal Preferred.

Heavy buying of Pittsburgh Coal common accompanied a noteworthy advance in the preferred shares today, when the senior issue pushed ahead to the highest price it has reached in more than two years. Today's movement is regarded as another phase of the developments over the past few months, which are understood to involve sale of part of the company's property. Impression prevails in some quarters that disposition of some of the reserve coal lands will take place and there have been rumors from time to time mentioning United States Steel Corporation, New York Central Railroad and the Koppers Company as possible buyers. In event the company does sell part of its acreage, the possibility of redemption of the preferred stock is a matter receiving considerable attention in market circles. The preferred, of which approximately $39,000,000 is outstanding, is callable at 110, which figure, with accrued dividends of about $10 a share, adds greatly to the speculative attraction of the stock around today's prices.

Oil Production Lower.

The daily average production of crude oil in the United States for the week ended September 10 amounted to 1,780,000 barrels, a decrease of 7,350 barrels from preceding week. Light oil production shows a drop of 15,573 barrels daily, says the Oil and Gas Journal.

Minneapolis Bank Cuts Rate.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis has reduced its rediscount rate from 4 per cent to 3 per cent. This was the last bank to hold the 4 per cent rate.

Hugo Stinnes Corporation Profits.

Hugo Stinnes Corporation reports for six months ended December 31, 1926, net profits of $215,242, against which a reserve for liquidation of assets and possible losses of $341,766 has been set up, according to a letter to Halsey Stuart & Co. and A. G. Becker & Co.

Mellon Bank Increases Surplus.

The Mellon National Bank has added $1,000,000 to surplus account, making that item $9,500,000. The total capital and surplus is now $11,000,000.

Statistics on Coppers.

An analysis of copper stocks with a schedule of three years' earnings is being distributed by Kay, Richards & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, with offices in the Union Trust Building, in order to properly handle the growing inquiries in reference to securities, the firm has recently engaged Felix B. Snowden as head of the new statistical department.

Kennecott Sports Again.

Another spurt in Kennecott Copper today carried the stock to a new high record and centered attention on the possibilities of increased dividends for the shares. Kennecott has been in favor with traders for many weeks and has gone forward individually, while most of the other coppers have given only nominal recognition to the moderately improved conditions in the metal market. Observers credit Utah Copper's position as having a considerable influence on the Kennecott situation. The latter owns very close to 100 per cent of the Utah stock. Improvement and research by Utah's engineers have placed that company in a position to show a fair profit at current metal prices on ore averaging 0.7 per cent copper, whereas in the early days, 1.65 per cent copper would be sold as much per ton as is now realized from .97 per cent copper. Utah ran how mine 75,000 tons a day and can efficiently treat, in its two mills, between 16,000 and 17,000 tons of ore a day. The company produces 200,000,000 to 225,000,000 pounds of copper a year. Utah's ore reserve is estimated to have a life of at least 41 years.

Stocks of Copper Decline.

Stocks of refined copper in North and South America, August 31 totaled 91,614 tons, a decline of 19,134 tons from July 31, according to the American Bureau of Metal Statistics. Surplus in blister, including in process, was 213,419 tons at the end of August, a gain of 2,861 tons.

Soft Coal Output Up.

Bituminous coal production during the week ended September 3 is estimated by Bureau of Mines at 9,741,000 tons, as compared with 8,141,000 tons during the preceding week, an increase of 6.1 per cent. Anthracite production totaled 1,813,000 tons, against 2,092,000 tons, a decrease of 12.9 per cent.

Calumet and Arizona.

Calumet and Arizona Mining Company ore body in Campbell shaft in the Warren district of Bisbee, has been proved to the twenty-second level, the deepest in mines. Copper content is running from 1 per cent to 16 per cent, which means 100 to 600 pounds of refined metal per ton of ore.

General Motors Prospects.

The Street looks General Motors is likely to have the best third quarter in its history. Indications are the final figures will show earnings of far from the record-breaking second quarter when the net income was in excess of $76,000,000 or $8.55 a share on the common shares now outstanding

Can Friendliness With Europe Be Brought About?

By B. C. FORBES

A RURAL minister in a remote part of Scotland in bidding the writer good-bye, said solemnly, "Remember, the great thing is to promote and perpetuate friendly relations between the two peoples," meaning Britons and Americans.

How can the United States accomplish this?

WHEN Europeans know us better they will like us better. But at present we are laboring under a sore handicap.

WHAT they call our "aloof" attitude towards the League of Nations has been to them the bitterest disappointment of all. They readily remind you that the League was first championed by our own President Wilson and that they had 100 per cent reason to count upon America's playing a foremost part in launching it effectively.

THE common folks couple our "aloofness" in this respect with what they sometimes call our immigration policy of "exclusion."

In higher circles the charge is made—quite unwarrantedly, of course—that needy European borrowers had to pay "extortionate" rates of interest here. Because London was temporarily unable to supply capital, America "gouged" them, they complain.

Our tariff policy is condemned with special resentment.

SAID one responsible European who knows America and Americans: "I wonder how you Americans would like it if, through war or other causes, you were plunged into poverty and had to part with some of your most prized possessions, and then everywhere you went you found opulent revelling in the most expensive hotels, occupying the choicest seats at the theaters, monopolizing the purchase of the finest things in the stores, crowding the best trains, leasing the swellest accommodations at holiday resorts and lording it over you all by their ostentatious expenditures and generally parading a patronizing attitude towards you? Knowing you as I do, I think you Americans would not relish it. Neither do we. So don't judge us too harshly if some of us cannot help showing how we feel."

UNFORTUNATELY, there looms ahead a fresh occasion for stirring up bad blood. There are very definite signs that European countries are eager to hit back at our tariff by raising high obstacles against the importation of American goods. France has fired the first Big Bertha by excluding the United States from the most favored nation provisions of her new tariff and imposing upon our manufactured products terrifically high levies, levies which in various instances mean shutting out American wares and thus giving Germany and Britain overwhelming advantages.

Doubtless other causes for friction will arise from time to time. Yet the real nature of America and Americans will gradually be realized by Europeans. Most of the thoughtful Europeans do not bear enmity in their hearts against us nor do they feel that we have acted the role of an Uncle Shylock.

GERMANY and several other continental countries are now manifesting a reasonably friendly attitude towards us. Unless the ultra-radicals gain dominance in Britain, our relations with that important country are almost certain to become closer and friendlier. The situation in France is different. Until an agreement on their debts to us is reached, the atmosphere is unlikely to improve. And the worst of it is that the French people are manifesting a very strong aversion to settling their bill.

Elsewhere, unless there are grave failures to meet the interest and the repayment of loans made by American investors through American bankers, time is sure to bring healing, provided this country gives no cause for fresh resentment. The possibility of unfortunate experiences by American investors in foreign loans cannot, however, be ignored in any attempt to read the future.

WILLIAM H. CROCKER, San Francisco multi-millionaire, once remarked.

"A very rich man has to be scrupulously careful not to act as a lot of people expect a very rich man to act. He must conduct himself with the utmost modesty and consideration for others."

America is very rich.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Wheat and corn prices suffered a severe fresh setback today, wheat collapsing rapidly 13c and corn 5½c. The chief disturbing influence was the Canadian government crop report which, taken with recent official figures from Washington, showed 77,000,000 bushels more wheat in Canada and the United States than at this time last year. Wheat today started 2c to 3½c off and subsequently held near to the initial bottom level.

At noon wheat was 3 cents to 3½ cents net lower and corn 2¾ cents to 3 cents down.

Corn opened 2¾ to 3¼c down, but later achieved somewhat better recoveries than wheat.

Oats were easier and provisions likewise declined.

As analyzed in Chicago today the Canadian government wheat estimate added to 40,000,000 bushels carryover pointed to an exportable surplus in Canada of 365,000,000 bushels. Assuming a carryover in the United States of 100,000,000 bushels, the official domestic estimated yield would make a surplus of 265,000,000 bushels or a total North American surplus of 630,000,000 bushels, whereas world import requirements have been estimated of late as only 148,000,000 bushels, so that outside of Canada and the United States all other exporting countries would have to provide a total of but 118,000,000 bushels.

In some quarters here today a disposition was evinced to question the accuracy of the Canadian wheat crop figures, but this disposition was not reflected to any great extent in the action of the market. Experts, however, called attention to the Canadian official figures on oats, which showed a tremendous increase in the face of almost unanimous reports from field observers and from the Canadian trade that this crop had suffered heavily and in many sections was a complete loss.

NARROW PRICE MOVEMENT ON LOCAL EXCHANGE

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Prospects of tighter money rates until after the September 15 turn-over of funds and the payment of income tax due on that date caused a further falling off in the volume of business in the bond market today, and continued irregularity of prices. General belief that the period of higher interest charges are temporary, however, worked against any large outside of offerings, and recessions were limited to small fractions. Sale of the $27,000,000 United Light and Railway Company 5½s, offered late last week, was reported by the Marketing syndicate.

Recently strong bonds which sagged in today's trading included such varied issues as Cities Service Power 6s, Goodyear 8s, International Telephone 4½s and 5s, Illinois Central-Chicago, St. Louis and New Orleans 4½s advanced fractionally. A moderate accumulation and Baltimore and Ohio convertible 4½s sold a shade under par.

Foreign bonds displayed no definite trend. A few South American obligations were moderately active at slightly better prices.

Federal Government securities were dull.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Transactions in the principal active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows (in units of $1,000; United States bonds in coupons and thirty-seconds):

TUESDAY
MONEY FOR YOU

Here's an Amazing Opportunity. Here Is the Key to a Good Position. An Extra Pay Check Every Week. Whether Employed or Unemployed. Read Carefully and Realize That You Can't Afford to Pass Up the Greatest Opportunity in Pittsburgh Today. So Make Up Your Mind to Answer This Ad.

BUT THIS OPPORTUNITY WILL NOT LAST LONG.

$35 TO $75 WEEKLY

Don't "grope in the dark," dreaming of extra money. You don't have to "pound the pavements" or go off on a "wild goose chase." Every ambitious person in the City of Pittsburgh would be amazed and glad to avail himself of this opportunity if he only knew the facts. You WON'T NEED EXPERIENCE AND YOU WON'T BE ASKED TO SELL ANYTHING. Briefly, the city's new administrative and expansion has made it necessary for us to open an entirely new department and has created several specially responsible people to give EXTRA WEEKLY INCOME. Work WILL NOT CONFLICT WITH PRESENT EMPLOYMENT. No SELLING. No schooling. No Red Tape.

Those positions can be filled during the spare hours during day or evening; of mechanics, tradesmen, clerks, professional men and business men. Full time positions can be arranged for those desiring permanent work. ABSOLUTELY NO EXPERIENCE REQUIRED. FINANCIAL CO-OPERATION GIVEN from the start. You should earn NOT LESS than $44 TO PER WEEK from the moment your name is placed upon the company's rolls. Of the scores of happy workers recently secured, wife few earn less than $50 per week and are working but one hour per day. Positions part time or permanent are EXTREMELY SIMPLE in pleasant surroundings and most congenial atmosphere.

Do not confuse this ad with another of similar wording for YOU WILL NOT BE ASKED TO SELL ANYTHING AND YOU CAN EARN FROM THE MOMENT YOU START.

This is REAL. This is GENUINE. Here is an opportunity to earn a REAL BANK ACCOUNT during the summer months. The work is extremely simple and there is no limit to the earning of which every one of our workers is entitled. We will make you understand and know you can do the work before we ask you to start.

You must understand this is an unusual opportunity and we are the first who require white applicants over 25 years of age AND EVERYONE will be given utmost consideration.

This ad will appear until TUESDAY EVENING and none will be considered. Prior 8:30 O'CLOCK Tuesday evening. Make up your mind NOW to answer in time. NO APPLICANTS RECEIVED AT ANY OTHER HOUR. (Daylight Saving Time.)

Last Call. Apply Paymaster.

APPLY TUESDAY EVENING, SEPT. 13TH, AT 8:30 O'CLOCK, SUITE 601, CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BUILDING, SEVENTH AVE. AND SMITHFIELD ST.

Notice! Remember this is an entirely new department and here is your opportunity to get a position in it. Scores of new openings have been given employment during the evenings or after business hours and even the office boy earns $35 per week. Many of our employees who are employed otherwise during the daytime have bought new cars and have built a new home as a result of this wonderful extra income opportunity. You can answer other ads every day of the week, but—remember you can only answer this ad Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

YOU SIMPLY CAN'T AFFORD TO MISS IT. Showing how and why means EXTRA MONEY. Now if you really desire to open a REAL BANK ACCOUNT, DON'T MISS THIS. No one answer this ad unless you are really extremely anxious to earn an extra income. We will receive no applicants after 8:30 o'clock (daylight saving time) Tuesday evening, so make up your mind to answer either in PERSON OR BY LETTER. EMPLOYMENT EVERY ONE WILL BE GIVEN FULLEST CONSIDERATION AT ABOVE TIME AND REMEMBER THE PLACE.

APPLY TUESDAY EVENING, SEPT. 13TH, AT 8:30 O'CLOCK, SUITE 601, CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BUILDING, SEVENTH AVE. AND SMITHFIELD ST.

WANTED—LADIES
WORK DURING EVENING OR SPARE HOURS. YOU CAN EARN A BONUS FOR YOUR SUMMER WORK. YOU CAN EARN AT LEAST $40 IN YOUR SPARE TIME EVERY WEEK.

Whether employed or unemployed, read carefully and investigate. You cannot afford to pass up the greatest opportunity in Pittsburgh today. Read these facts carefully. Remember, you can earn at least $40 for your spare time work during the evenings, and we will show you how to do this EXTREMELY SIMPLE work and make you understand thoroughly before you start. WORK WILL NOT CONFLICT WITH PRESENT EMPLOYMENT. NO SELLING. NO HOUSING. NO INSTRUCTION COURSES. These positions can be filled during spare hours during the evenings of housewives, teachers, nurses, business ladies and office workers. ABSOLUTELY NO EXPERIENCE REQUIRED. Full time positions can be arranged for those desiring permanent work. FINANCIAL CO-OPERATION GIVEN. This is not "just another ad," but a responsible, well known Pittsburgh firm offering real, dignified employment. Positions (part time or permanent) are extremely simple, in pleasant surroundings, and most congenial atmosphere. Do not confuse this ad with others of similar wording, for YOU WILL NOT BE ASKED TO SELL ANYTHING. This is genuine. EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Embarrassing Moments Building
Attention, Embarrassing Moments Editor:

I had proposed to my sweetie and had been accepted, so I set off one afternoon in quest of a wedding ring. I walked into one of the bigger and better jewelry stores and looked at several. I bit into quite a few to see if they were fakes or not and finally decided I could do better at a less expensive store. How it happened I never knew, but it seems as though one of the rings I had tested became stuck to my bridgework; however, just as I got to the front door I had to sneeze violently and in this way the ring was dislodged and it hit the doorman straight between the eyes. Embarrassed? I never saw so many people around a patrol wagon in all my life.

MAURINE SICK ABED

Heroine Weak as a Kitten—Physicians Baffled; Spurns Osteopath.

Yesterday we digressed long enough to point out something or other. Let us hasten back to the narrative. We left Maurine dizzy at the altar—all hope gone. Helen Trever (or Trever) was now Mrs. Vivian Dangerfield and those who didn't like it could lump it.

Congratulations, kisses, tears and smiles, goodbyes, were given, while Vivian, handsome and noble in his Prince Albert coat and blond, damp curls, perspired impatiently and joked Dangerfield, and those who someone pinned a "Please Kick Me" sign on his coat, the wedding guests filed past and a jolly-time was had, we can assure you.

But Maurine, wilted by the catastrophe of losing her handsome lover and true friend, spent sleepless nights, which—

"Brought on a ling'ring illness,
Day by day,
In a strange, apathetic state she lay,
Of mental and of physical despair,
She had no pain, no fever and no chill,
But lay without ambition, strength or will;
Physicians came and shook their heads and sighed;
And to their score of questions she replied,
With but one languid answer, o'er and o'er:
'I am so weary—weary—nothing more.'"

Hap O'Connor will now sing the sentimental ballad, "She was Only a Plasterer's Daughter—But, Oh! How She Was Plastered!"

* * *

Maurine might have tried an osteopath—but she didn't have the ambition. She was tuckered out, as they say in the provinces. Oh, well—

BUGS BAER Says

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER.

THE nearer a crime is to the time when sunspot activity reaches its maximum the less is the responsibility of the guilty person. Judges in pronouncing sentence should bear this in mind and act accordingly.

The above applied lesson in the field class of natural bokum is the result of some deep thinking in a shallow skull.

ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER.

Sunspots also influence human citizens, causing mercenary ferociousness in transactions and quotations.

Meteorological disturbances affect neighbors to such an extent that no man is responsible for ordinary transgressions, provided he can prove he was sunburned at the time.

It is a fairly authentic theory, for there must be something sinister about a summer sun that causes a farmer to wear a cabbage leaf inside his straw hat.

But we can't see how a man making bootleg in a cool, dark cellar can blame it on the hot sun.

The result is the same. But the weather conditions cannot be cited as accomplices before the fact.

If the theory is correct then the sun is always out on bail.

It must be wrong, for any judge can tell you that rainy days have their share of bad boys.

But the judge is thoroughly in key with the scientists. If a pickpocket in the subway is a victim of the sun the judge is perfectly willing to cure him by putting him in the shade for six months.

Astronomical surveys have their uses, but will never convince juries that a coat of tan is irrefutable evidence of innocence.

There are some men who have a scientic yen for testing the chemical affinity of nitro-glycerine for chilled steel bank vaults. Others like to use a chunk of lead pipe for a tuning fork, in order to discover the musical timbre of softbaked skulls.

They could be cured of these morose frivolities by wearing smoked glasses and carrying purple parasols.

If reformations happened per schedule then the scientists are right. But it seems that our tough boys are cognizant of their inability to stand the hot sun, for they always work at night.

"You Said It, Marceline!"

By MARCELINE d'ALROY

ON "RED AND BLACK DRESSING."

Some girls were SCARLET,
And yet fail to Look GAY,
Others put on a little BLACK frock and look as ENTICING as the very—
Well, they look just DELIGHTFULLY WICKED.
Actually, a woman in BLACK looks either dowdy
Or dangerous,
And a girl in SCARLET
Looks either GOOD or Terrible. (If she suggests
DANGER she looks good,
If not, she is DUMB.)

What women put on Their BODIES should be
A reflection of
Their minds,
Those who wear RED must Be VITAL and vivacious,
Otherwise RED advertises
What they LACK,
Women who wear BLACK
Should look on it as the SETTING to a JEWEL—
Designed to emphasize their SPARKLE. When the light in The EYE has faded
Black looks DEPRESSING, but
Allied to a wicked look—AH!

Hail to Mustapha Kemal

Man and Woman in Turkey.

SHE KISSES THE HAND OF POWER

Kemal Pasha, a powerful Turk, whose idea is "if you want anything fight for it," now rules all of Turkey. When he first visited Constantinople it was the Turkish dictator's first visit to the old world center in eight years.

He had been there a struggling youth, in danger of his life when the old Sultans ruled, and when their black eunuchs stalked through the harem, occasionally tying a bowstring around some wife, unfaithful or displeasing, and tossing the poor creature into the waters of the Bosphorus.

Kemal has got rid of those ancient Sultans. And he has thrown out after them, depriving them of their power, the alleged representatives of the Prophet Mohammed. He rules now from top to bottom, from the sky to the earth, from Constantinople to Mecca.

And you can see in this picture that the people KNOW he rules.

He has taken the veil from the women's faces. The Turkish woman kissing his hand in the photograph would not have dared to appear in public without a veil until Kemal gave the order.

But it is one thing to take the veil from the faces of the women and the red fez with the black tassel from the men's heads, replacing it with the commonplace derby.

It is another thing to change men's minds.

Changing their clothing is easy—it can be done by an order overnight with soldiers backing the order.

Changing their minds and their way of feeling is a different proposition. That may take centuries.

In Turkey, as in other Oriental countries, women have been taught to feel and admit their inferiority. The cringing attitude of this woman, saluting the ruler of Turkey as he walks up the steps to the house of her father, a high government official, shows that, while we change rapidly on the OUTSIDE, we change slowly on the inside.

Tribute to Constitution

This week will see a number of exercises fostered by patriotic bodies commemorating the framing and adoption of the American Constitution.

That document, which Gladstone called the greatest ever produced at one time by the hand and brain of man, after fluctuating fortunes in public esteem, is on the way to new appreciation.

Bitterly fought when submitted for ratification, it came after a time to be regarded with almost excessive veneration. The disturbances over slavery threw it into temporary eclipse, but as recently as a generation ago few great public occasions passed without eloquent eulogies of it.

Then followed a period when custom among many took another turn. The necessity for amendments to meet changed conditions and the difficulty with which these were made, together with a rising habit of questioning all mental inheritances, produced a literature of criticism, even of derision, of our great charter.

During the decade prior to the World War there were many times when it seemed not unlikely that the entire document might be thrown into the crucible of a new constitutional convention.

How far this surface chafing measured the depth of opinion will never be known, for the war intervened and its lessons have taught an increased respect among thinking Americans for the pillars upon which our political institutions rest.

What is now coming to be a settled conviction is that, in a world filled with after-war turbulence, it is good to have an immense oasis of orderly government resting on popular consent but guarded against damage from mere spasms of passion.

That feeling is enhanced by our country's favorable economic position, which suggests the prudence of not rocking the boat.

The number who will express this feeling during Constitution Week may be few but very many will share it.

Why Not Prepare?

We should like to believe that the chief of our army staff, Gen. Summerall, was pessimistic when he said to the men of the War College:

"We have never fought a war with trained or equipped troops, and we never shall do so. It is inconsistent with our form of government and the psychology of our people to maintain adequate military preparedness. They would rather pay the price that has followed every war than spend a part of the amount in preserving peace."

Gen. Summerall is not, however, a pessimist but a realist. He judges the future by the past.

Yet all the more necessary is it that those who can learn from experience should try to spread its lesson.

Salaries For Lawyers?

It was a layman who offered as a way to reduce court congestion the novel suggestion that officers of justice be provided, on salary, to serve the poor continuously when they have good causes for civil litigation.

That would do in the legal profession what is often done in the field of healing. Most doctors still take fees, but many prefer a salaried status, believing it would make them freer.

We have public defenders in some States for poor suspects of crime. Would public attorneys, lacking motive to incite litigation, keep civil strife out of court? Or increase the chances of

HOPES AND DOUBTS

Garrett P Serviss Says:

Autumn and Her Sisters

THE Autumnal Equinox is again at hand—it occurs on the 23d of this month—and once more many who hear the statement are puzzled to say exactly what it means, for the astronomical basis of the seasons is not among the things made plain to everybody in our excellent schools.

The almanac conveniently divides the year into four seasons, each beginning on the first day of a month and containing exactly three months of the calendar—March, April, May for Spring; June, July, August for Summer; September, October, November for Autumn; December, January, February for Winter. The astronomical divisions of the seasons, based on the position of the sun in the heavens at different times of the year, does not quite accord with the almanac division. The astronomical Spring begins at the Vernal Equinox, which occurs at the moment that the sun appears to cross the equator, coming north about the 21st of March. The astronomical Summer begins at the Summer Solstice, which occurs when the sun reaches its highest northern declination, about June 22. The astronomical Autumn begins at the Autumnal Equinox, which occurs when the sun appears to descend below the equator, about the 23d of September. The astronomical Winter begins at the Winter Solstice, which occurs when the sun reaches its lowest southern declination, about December 22. Thus the astronomical division of the seasons depends upon definite points in the annual north-south and south-north oscillation of the sun, which is an apparent movement due to the alternate presentation of first one and then the other of the earth's poles towards the sun as it swings around in its orbit.

A single diagram shows the four successive stages in the sun's yearly passage to and from across the equator. Whatever the position of the sun may be, its light always illuminates one-half of the earth-ball. The other half is buried in night, but the daily rotation of the earth on its axis continually interchanges the day and night alike.

Now, twice in a year, i. e., March 21 and September 23, the sun arrives vertically over the equator, and then the daylight extends from pole to pole, half of each polar circle being in day and half in night.

On June 22 the sun is at its highest northern declination, and then daylight extends far beyond the North Pole on the side away from the sun, and the light floods continually the whole area within the north polar circle. At the same time night covers the entire area within the south polar circle.

But six months later, on December 22, after the sun has crossed the equator, as it is about to do on September 23, and has passed on to its greatest southern declination, it is the north polar circle that does not see the sun at all, while the south polar circle enjoys perpetual daylight. Right on the polar circles the greatest length of day or night cannot exceed 24 hours, but at the poles themselves day and night each continue for six months. This takes no account of the effects of atmospheric refraction and twilight, which considerably extend the illumination period.

Once Overs

—By J. J. MUNDY—

Be Yourself

DO YOU sometimes wish you were a composite of several persons whom you know?

Have you tried to make yourself over to the extent of adopting certain virtues of many persons?

You are surprised that with all your effort you have not struck the chord of popularity nor the position of honor which you seek.

The reason for this is not hard to discern.

You desire to be that which you are not.

You assume a personality and you do not ring true.

To a fair degree your adapted role has carried you along pretty well.

You have gained some ends you sought.

But you are not really happy.

There has been always a struggle between what you would like to be and what you are prompted to seem.

Well, has the result been worth its cost?

Would you not be happier now if those whom you call friends had been gained by you as your real self?

His Smile

SOME say no man can lift the veil and peer down hidden future ways, that none can read the secret tale of coming days. Some call it wholly wise and right, this law that clouds in mystery the prospect, whether dark or bright, of time to be. Yet there's a little lad I know whose horoscope I dare to read; I claim his budding hopes shall glow, his plans succeed. No powers have I as seer, nor any strange, supernal force by right of which I dare to peer down life's long course. How, then, predict that joy shall bless this laddie in the afterwhile? What tells so much? Why, I confess, it is his smile! It is the spark that lights his eye, the look that holds no hint of guile; love, life, shall crown him by and by. What tells? His smile!

Tales That Are Told

As Requested

THERE was a sound of hurried footsteps and an agitated foreigner burst into the hotel manager's private office.

"I 'ave been insulted!" he gasped. "When I went into my room this evening, instead of the meal I expected to find there was a bowl of water and a plate of dog biscuits!"

The manager was very surprised and sent for the chambermaid.

"Did you put water and dog biscuits in this gentleman's rooms?" he asked when she appeared.

"Yes, sir," came the answer. "My orders was to prepare No. 32 for an Alsatian."

Ethics Explained

"WHAT are ethics?" asked a youth of his father, who was a partner in a grocer's shop.

"Ethics," replied the parent, "are the things what tells you the difference between right and wrong."

The youth looked puzzled.

"Well," went on his father, "suppose I'm serving in the shop and a man gives me a pound-note to pay a 10-shilling bill. I go to get his change and discover there's two one-pound notes stuck together. Well, ethics is what makes me decide whether to keep the extra pound for meself or go halves with my partner."

Perfect Man

"HISTORY," exclaimed the woman lecturer, "is full of examples of the perfect woman. But, search as you may, I defy you to find one instance of the perfect man."

"I think I could tell you of a perfect man, madam," said a crushed-looking specimen of humanity, rising at the back of the hall.

"You mean yourself, I suppose?" suggested the speaker, acidly.

"Oh, no—not me!" replied the little man, sadly. "My wife's first husband."

HERE I am.
ONCE ON a time,

A CANADIAN youth
WAS ADMONISHED
THROUGH HIS youthful days
HE SHOULD never stare
* * *
AT THE countenance
OF ANYBODY,
IF THAT anybody

SHOULD BE aware
THAT HE or she
* * *
WAS BEING stared at,

AND IN my turn,

I HAVE tried to instil

IN OUR boy and girl

THIS SAME idea.

AND THE worst of it is
I'M NOT quite sure
* * *
THAT YOU'RE not right,
IF YOU'LL use the word gaze
INSTEAD of stare.
FOR GAZING implies
THAT ONE is pleased
WITH WHATEVER it is
ONE LOOKS upon,
WHILE STARING suggests
A NOTE of fear,
OR OF conflict,
OR OF contempt,
AND THEREFORE,
I HAVEN'T been staring
THROUGH ALL these years.
AS I thought I was.
I'VE JUST been gazing
AT THE beautiful things
I HAVE met up with
ON MY path through life,
PAYING my tribute
WITH SEEING eyes,
AND NOT offending.
AND I think now
I'LL GET the children,
AND SAY to them
I'VE BEEN all wet.
AND IF they think
THEY KNOW how to gaze
ON VILMA BANKY,
OR BILLIE DOVE,
OR MARCELINE DAY,
OR ANYONE else
* * *
WHO MAY appeal,

TO GO right ahead
AND HAVE a good gaze.

I THANK you.

THOUGHTS OF THE GREAT—

The wisdom of the wise and the experience of the ages may be preserved by the quotation.—Isaac Disraeli.

The other kinds of pleasures, namely those peculiar to the soul, are all produced through memory. —Plato.

SOMEWHERE IN COLORADO, Sept. 13.—This train with giant grunts and sissbahs puffs sturdily up a mountain side. There are cabins of unplaned boards and a thin line of miners with mystic headlights on their way down into the black mines.

A group of yellowshod Mexican greasers on handcars along a siding wave and grin shyly. Lumbering into an old trading post is a touch of the covered wagon days—a prairie schooner. Underneath a canvas flap two women and several children peer out. Nearby is the coil of smoke from a breakfast camp fire.

We are on this glorious morning of wraith-like clouds, now faintly tinting rose pink, in the "high country." It is difficult to realize in the upholstered comfort of a train coach that not so many miles away are wild horses, bear and deer.

A stone cast away in a little clearing is a log cabin home and the porter shoves a Denver paper under the door with a thick flaming headline: "Film Actress Shoots Executive and Self." A gentleman enjoying his morning ablutions in the washroom whistles a tune from a Broadway hit.

And a little farther along on a brick red depot platform three noisy cowboys in broad-brimmed hats and high tarred boots are skylarking. Bandanas encircle their tawny necks. Spurs jangle at the bottom of sheepskin chaparajos. Three drooping calico ponies are haltered to a rack.

Then the wide red clay main street of a Western town. Already automobiles are parked at the curb and the sun is not out. An erect buck Indian wrapped in a gay colored shawl stands statue-like in front of an unopened pool hall lettered: "Joe's Place" puffing at a brown paper cigaret.

On the porch of a general store are a few stragglers in overalls with the leathery faces and squinting eyes of those who constantly face the wind and sun in the open. The train mounts a ridge and the open door of an old frontier shack on the side of a gulch reveals a man frying his morning trout in a skillet.

A brief stop. Passengers debouch to stretch legs along the train side. A tanned fellow with a brown and green checkered flannel shirt and a yellow Montana diamond in its bosom addresses you. Much gold has been used in the decoration of his teeth. One cheek bulges with a generous wad of scrap tobacco.

"What kind of a houn' is that, poddner?" he inquires kindly. You want to tell him it is not a hound but a pedigreed pup—at least you were told it was. But you reply: "A Boston bull."

He turns to a gnarled station lounger, lets go an amber spray and says: "Ike, fetch a gun. Rockin' bull and see how this houn' tackles him." Everybody laughs. And you are glad the conductor has yelled: "Board."

* * *

Colorado has a certain something you cannot describe, but for lack of a neater word you call it majesty. There is a glowering indifference to its mountains, an overwhelming grandeur to its forests, and somehow you sense a determination among its hardy people, even though they poke fun at your dog. And Denver, for instance, is just as up to date as Washington, D. C.

* * *

There is no thrill like sitting in a dining car eating the same choice fare of the best hotels in New York while thundering through rugged country. You look up from honey dew melon to see a sprightly city, turn to your melon and look up again to see granite boulders of a mighty canon.

"Where you from?" a bulky gentleman without a necktie across the table asks abruptly.

"New York," you reply. And somehow you have a pride in being from there.

"Know the Sid Timminses?"

You confess they are not among your acquaintances, and he turns silently to his food with faint disgust. You do not amount to much in his eyes if you do not know Sid and the other Timminses.

* * *

You pass through the day coach filled with crying babies, banana skins and soiled lunch boxes and tired mothers going to a new home in a new land. Somehow it is touching. And you don't know why.

The Fickleness of Fame

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Riches may be fickle, people say they are, but most of us would like to have them a while and watch them fick.

But whatever may be true of riches, fame is surely fickle.

We all struggle for the spotlight and front page publicity, but when we get it it doesn't last very long.

Those who are along in years can recall the many instances. We remember that "Doc" Cook was honored by the Danes and welcomed by the Americans and afterwards that Peary took his place for a few brief minutes.

Then there was Dewey. Nothing was too good for him for awhile, but when he gave his wife his Washington home that the people had presented to him, sentiment turned right away and Dewey was cast into the discard.

Then there was Jack Binns, the famous wireless operator on the steamer Republic which was rammed off Nantucket Island, who stuck to his post until the Baltic responded and the passengers were all rescued.

How many people today know who Jack Binns was?

A man by the name of Kissinger probably did more for his country than most any man. In 1900 he was a private in the Army but allowed himself to be inoculated with yellow fever to prove that that disease came from mosquito bites. He is now living in poverty and gets a pension of a meager $100 a year from the government.

Once we sat up and took notice of Louis Blériot who flew across the English channel, the first man to perform that exploit. Where is Blériot now? Where are the snows of yesteryear?

Then there was Capt. Richmond P. Hobson, the hero of the Merrimac in Santiago Harbor. Once we were all applauding him and the girls anxious to kiss him. He now lives in Pasadena and few know that he is alive.

Gen. William Mitchell probably did as much toward winning the war in France as any American. He consecrated his efforts towards making the United States foremost in aviation. For his reward he has been ousted from the Army because he disagreed with his superiors.

One time there was an ace by the name of Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker who shot down more German flyers than any American pilot. For awhile he was a hero, then he too flickered out.

And so we say of Amundsen, the first man to reach the South pole and to fly a dirigible over the North pole, and of Commander John Rodgers who was wrecked on his flying trip to Honolulu, George Young, who swam the Catalina channel and Gertrude Ederle, who swam the English channel, that they might give a few pointers to Commander Byrd and Col. Lindbergh as to the fickleness of fame.

THE LIFE OF THOMAS A. EDISON

AS WE learned before, in 1878 the phonograph was temporarily "laid on the shelf" while Edison tackled a problem with which man had wrestled for ages—the improvement of artificial illumination. The earliest known form of man-
